1925 COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL NEWSPAPER

The following articles were taken from the "Community High School News" dated October 19, 1925. Vol I No 2. This is the first school year of the Community High School built on the existing school property. The school had only one graduate this 1925-26 school year, C. J. Lamb, who was the Editor-In-Chief of this newspaper.

SCHOOL ITEMS

On October 2, a flag pole was erected in front of the school building, and after a short ceremony, conducted by Mr. Kroll, the stars and stripes were raised.

With the addition of another stall, the school now has fifteen.

Rainy weather was not exactly welcomed at Community High the other day, as Mr. Kroll and C. J. Lamb almost stuck while coming from the stalls in their cars.

Preparations are being made for basketball. A fine spot has been selected for the court and the work erecting the goals is proceeding rapidly.

The cold weather of last week caused ten tons of coal to be rushed to the school building, and also, two new stoves were installed.

The elementary students were very liberal in contributing money to buy shades for their rooms, thus adding very much to the appearance of the building.

Work on the electric light line is progressing rapidly and it is hope the lights will be in the building ready for use in a very short time.

LOCAL NEWS

Our visitors last month were: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Grisom, Mrs. E. A. Crowell and little son from Cross Roads.

We have the moving picture machine ordered, which will be in soon. And when the machine is installed we expect to have some good entertainments.

"Uncle Lem" Clardy comes to school as regularly as any member of the faculty and he always has a kind word and welcome smile for everyone.

COMMUNITY HIGH DEFEATS EAGLEVILLE HIGH

On October 2, Community High defeated Eagleville High School by the score of 11-4.

The teams were handicapped somewhat by the condition of the field and, although the in-field was in good condition, the out-field was heavy, making it hard to cover. Clardy, for Community High pitched great ball, considering the wet field, which made the ball slick; and he also smacked a home run over the left field fence. It was one of the longest hits that have been made on the home field. His opponent pitched well, but was unable to hold the hart-hitting Community team. Both teams played good ball. The Community team gave Clardy splendid support.

BASE BALL ITEMS

Community High ran its string of victories to 5, without a defeat. The team consists of a fast, sure-hitting bunch of boys. C. Brown, catcher, has caught all games and has been catching fine style. Clardy has some good balls that the opposing team cannot get onto much for base hits. Thompson, first baseman, has played his position well. Sudberry, second baseman, has played and hit well. Farris, third baseman, fielded fine and also hit well. The outfielders, Wheeler, K. Brown, Pressgrove, Batts and Blackburn have played well and given the pitchers good support. The basketball season soon will be here, and as we are not playing football, we expect to have a winning team.

PIE SUPPER AT COMMUNITY HIGH

On Friday night, October 9th, a pie supper was given for the benefit of the boys' and girls' athletic association. Mr. J. P. Leathers was the auctioneer and kept everyone laughing while the pies were being sold. After the sale a box of candy was offered to the prettiest girl present, and out of the seven candidates, Miss Mary B. Crowell was awarded the prize. About forty pies were sold and this, with the amount received for the box of candy, totaled about $60.00, which was added to the athletic funds.

COMMUNITY SCHOOL PAPER - EDITORS NOTE

We wish to urge the students to show their appreciation of the co-operation of the businessmen who advertise with us by patronizing them.

JOKES

Mr. Kroll—Mr. Parker, why are women's minds like auto tires? Mr. Parker—W a l, because they have to be changed so often Miss Lane—Clyde, why do fools ask questions? Clyde Rogers—I don't know, Why did you ask me one?

Newt Wheeler—I saw about fifty dead rabbits on the road this morning. Mr. Kroll—Well, what was the matter with them? Newt—I think the boil weevils ran them to death, trying to get the cotton out of their tails.

Brainard Grissom—I saw a horse with a wooden leg. Miss Lane—Where? Brainard—On the merry-go-round.

Miss Eaton—Why must we always be careful to keep our home clean and neat? Beatrice Dickens—Because company may walk in any minute.

Mary B.—Do you hate Clayton Joyce? Louise B.—No, I don't hate him. But I've always figured that if I were going to hate anybody, I'd start with him.

Hubert—are you making fun of me? I wouldn't laugh if I were you. Cloy—No, if you were me there wouldn't be anything to laugh about.
