Dinner Theater Comes to Eagleville

By Courtney Simon

The Eagleville High School Drama department provided two nights of food and entertainment on March 17 and 18th. "Murder at the Prom" by Peter Depietro, is a murder a la carte mystery and was a delightful production by the drama department. This play is a fast paced, funny performance. Unlike many productions, the play utilizes interactions between cast members and the audience. This interaction combined with sharp character dialog moves the story along, much to the delight of those in attendance. A large cast, supportive stage crew, and those behind the scenes made this event a successful and fun performance.

History of the Easter Egg

The egg is nature's perfect package. It has, during the span of history, represented mystery, magic, medicine, food and omen. It is the universal symbol of Easter celebrations throughout the world and has been dyed, painted, adorned and embellished in the celebration of its special symbolism.

Before the egg became closely entwined with the Christian Easter, it was honored during many rite-of-Spring festivals. The Romans, Gauls, Chinese, Egyptians and Persians all cherished the egg as a symbol of the universe. From ancient times eggs were dyed, exchanged and shown reverence.

In Pagan times the egg represented the rebirth of the earth. The long, hard winter was over; the earth burst forth and was reborn just as the egg miraculously burst forth with life. The egg, therefore, was believed to have special powers. It was buried under the foundations of buildings to ward off evil; pregnant young Roman women carried an egg on their persons to foretell the sex of their unborn children; French brides stepped upon an egg before crossing the threshold of their new homes.

With the advent of Christianity the symbolism of the egg changed to represent, not nature's rebirth, but the rebirth of man. Christians embraced the egg symbol and likened it to the tomb from which Christ rose.

Old Polish legends blended folklore and Christian beliefs and firmly attached the egg to the Easter celebration. One legend concerns the Virgin Mary. It tells of the time Mary gave eggs to the soldiers at the cross. She entreated them to be less cruel and she wept. The tears of Mary fell upon the eggs, spotting them with dots of brilliant color.

Another Polish legend tells of when Mary Magdalen went to the sepulchre to anoint the body of Jesus. She had with her a basket of eggs to serve as a repast. When she arrived at the sepulchre and uncovered the eggs, lo, the pure white shells had miraculously taken on a rainbow of colors.

Decorating and coloring eggs for Easter was the custom in England during the middle ages. The household accounts of Edward I, for the year 1290, recorded an expenditure of eighteen pence for four hundred and fifty eggs to be gold-leafed and colored for Easter gifts.

The most famous decorated Easter eggs were those made by the well-known goldsmith, Peter Carl Faberge. In 1883 the Russian Czar, Alexander, commissioned Faberge to make a special Easter gift for his wife, the Empress Marie.

The first Faberge egg was an egg within an egg. It had an outside shell of platinum and enameled white which opened to reveal a smaller gold egg. The smaller egg, in turn, opened to display a golden chicken and a jeweled replica of the Imperial crown.

This special Faberge egg so delighted the Czarina that the Czar promptly ordered the Faberge firm to design further eggs to be delivered every Easter. In later years Nicholas II, Alexander's son, continued the custom. Fifty-seven eggs were made in all.

Ornamental egg designers believe in the symbolism of the egg and celebrate the egg by decorating it with superb artistry. Some use flowers and leaves from greeting cards, tiny cherubs, jewels and elegant fabrics, braids and trims, to adorn the eggs. They are separated, delicately hinged and glued with epoxy and transparent cement, then when completed, they are covered with a glossy resin finish. Although the omens and the mystery of the egg have disappeared today, the symbolism remains, and artists continue in the old world tradition of adorning eggs.

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

BY BOBBIE SUE SHELTON

Edwina 1960

Edwina Anderson Cundiff

Edwina, a 1960 Eagleville High School graduate, presently lives in Pawleys Island, SC. She is the daughter of Edith Anderson and the late Vern Anderson of the Patterson Community. Her siblings are Vern Jr., Larry and Sharon, who reside near their mother; Edwina attended the Patterson School thru the 5th grade. In 1953 when the Patterson School closed most of the students transferred to Eagleville. Edwina entered the 6th grade, taught by Mr. Lemuel Manier, at the beginning of the 1953-54 school term.

Edwina was a very popular student and was a basketball cheerleader. She could always brighten the "ever-boring" school day with some of her antics.

After graduation from high school, Edwina attended and graduated from Nashville General Hospital School of Nursing, in 1963 with an RN degree. That same year, she married Donald Patterson Cundiff and moved to Charlotte, North Carolina. Over the next several years she worked in several different aspects of her profession; as an office nurse/general duty, in ICU, recovery, and as a hospital/insurance reviewer. In 1987 Don and Edwina moved to Merrill's Inlet, South Carolina to be closer to his parents.

After his retirement from State Farm in 2000, he convinced Edwina to give up her employment also. In 2000 they also moved to their present home on Pawleys Island.

Don and Edwina have a son, Donald Jr. who lives in Mt. Pleasant, SC. Edwina stays very busy with social and church activities and attending to her husband who has had some health problems the last few years. She returns home as often as possible and keeps in touch with her family and friends frequently.

Spring Fling Welcome Sign

On Tuesday, March 21st the Eagleville Community Center was filled with lots of beautiful red hats and the color purple. The Eagleville Sweet Tarts hosted a "Spring Fling" with three other chapters of the Red Hat Society. Fifty-five ladies from the Eagleville "Scarlet Rubies", Murfreesboro "Red Hat Chicks", College Grove "Groovy Grovettes" and the Eagleville "Sweet Tarts" enjoying fellowship and a wonderful lunch.

Sue Ellen Cooper of Fullerton, California inadvertently began the Red Hat Society in about 1998. While visiting a friend in Tucson several years ago, Sue Ellen impulsively bought a bright red hat at a thrift shop for no other reason than that it was cheap and, she thought, quite dashing. A year or two later she read the poem "Warning" by Jenny Joseph, which depicts an older woman in purple clothing with a red hat. Sue Ellen felt an immediate kinship with the author. She decided that her birthday gift to a dear friend would be a vintage red hat and a copy of the poem. She has always enjoyed whimsical decorating ideas, so she thought the hat would look nice hanging on a hook next to the framed poem. Her friend got so much enjoyment out of the hat and the poem that Sue Ellen gave the same gift to another friend, then another, then another. One day it occurred to these friends that they were becoming a sort of "Red Hat Society" and that perhaps they should go out to tea...in full regalia. They decided they would find purple dresses which didn't go with their red hats to complete the poem's image. When Sue Ellen and her friends were featured in the Romantic Homes magazine in July 2000, they began having inquiries from women who wanted to start their own chapters.

This society is for ladies of all ages and the main rules are: you must be a woman of 50 years old or older to wear the red hat and purple outfit. For ladies under 50, they may be Pink Hatters, wearing a pink hat and lavender outfit. Also the members must attend their functions in full regalia.

The founder or leader of each chapter is referred to as the Queen Mother. The four Queen Mother's who attended the Spring Fling were: Annette Chick of the Murfreesboro Red Hat Chicks; Elaine Cunningham of the Eagleville Scarlet Rubies; Elizabeth Padilla of the College Grove, Groovy Grovettes and Nina Merritt of the Eagleville Sweet Tarts.

Clara Hill - Door Prize Winner

April 25th of each year has been designated as "Red Hat Society" day. As of April 2005, there were approximately 40,000 chapters and over one million members of the Red Hat Society chapters in 25 countries.

Attending the Spring Fling festivities, was one "Pink Hatter", Cindy Fann, and the eldest of the group were two special ladies, Raye Rush and Eileen Schespenberg of the College Grove Groovy Grovettes, both 91 years old. Clara Hill also of the Groovy Grovettes was the lucky recipient of the door prize.

The Eagleville Sweet Tarts expresses their appreciation to the Eagleville Community for having such a good facility to host special functions and to everyone who made the Red Hat Society Spring Fling a huge success.

Eileen Schespenberg & Raye Rush

The EHS Sass Red Hot Red Hat 69ers met in Murfreesboro at Starbucks to share a time of good snacks, laughter and fun. Attending were Celia Toombs, Nell Palmer, Nina Smith, Rhonda Tenpenny and Judy Smythia. Sandra Woodside was unable to attend. Celia's daughter Andrea visited with the group and assisted with taking photos. Rhonda's daughter, Rachel, dropped by to say hello.

50th Wedding Anniversary Celebrated John & Nina Merritt

John and Nina Merritt celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary together with family and friends at the Eagleville Community Center on the afternoon of Sunday, February 19, 2006. Johnny and Nina were married February 17, 1956. Their first home was in Lavergne Tennessee on the Merritt family farm. Their son Timothy was born there in 1960. They then bought a dairy farm (about two years later) in Eagleville, Tennessee where they reside today.

Mrs. Merritt is active in the Eagleville School Community Club, and is Queen Mother of her local Red Hat Society. Mr. Merritt is active in the Eagleville Lions Club and has worked together with Nina in the founding and the actual building of the Eagleville Library and Community Center. Johnny and Nina are long time active members of the Eagleville

Church of Christ. Both continue to be involved in all aspects of community life in the Eagleville area.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt celebrated their happy union with a three tiered wedding-style cake topped with golden yellow roses and spring flowers. Sparkling golden punch and a yellow rosebud covered sheet carrot cake together with golden anniversary mints carried out the golden theme. The tables were decorated with formal sprays of yellow roses with fresh yellow and white spring flowers. Guests enjoyed examining a golden ribbon styled photo board and several photo tables, documenting the many events in the life of this special couple.

Mrs. Merritt looked lovely in a cream, two-piece suit embroidered with a touch of shimmering satin stitching. She accented the ensemble with an elegant strand of cultured pearls and matching earrings. She wore a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. Merritt stood handsomely beside her in his crisp blue suit and yellow rose boutonniere.

The event was hosted by Joyce and Timothy Merritt (daughter-in-law and son of the honored couple) and their children, Jonathan, Kimberly, Joshua, James and Jacob. Theresa Hill, Joyce Merritt and Kimberly Merritt served the guests refreshments. Joshua and James Merritt kept the guest register. Everyone enjoyed the fun and fellowship of this happy occasion!

Happy 40th Wedding Anniversary

WHAT WILL YOU DO WITH JESUS?

I stood alone at the bar of God
In the hush of the twilight dim,
And faced the question that pierced my heart,

What will you do with Him?

Crowned or crucified? Which shall it be?

No other choice was offered to Him,

I looked on His face, so weary with tears,
That was shed in His agony.

The look in His kind eyes broke my heart,
Twas full of love for me.

He seemed to say – for or against me,
Choose thou the way.

He held out His loving hand to me,
While pleading, saying “obey”.

Make me thy choice, for I love you so,
I could not say nay to Him.

This must not be, no other way,
Was open to me.

I knelt in tears at Jesus’ feet,
In the hush of this twilight dim.

And all that I was, or hoped to be,
Or sought to be, I surrendered unto Him.

My heart shall know, no knight, but Christ,
Who loveth me so.

Our times are in Thy hands Father,
Why should we doubt or fear.

Our life, our soul, our all,

We leave entirely to Thy care.

He is now our guard and guide,
Open your eyes and we can see.

The Glory inside.

Praise God from whom all blessings flow,
Praise His Holy Name,

May we share His Glory too, and,
Let Him lead us all the way.

Praise, praise His Holy Name.

“Amen”

Chesley Williams was a major shareholder and manager of the toll roads in the Eagleville area. His involvement began in 1855 and ended at his death in 1892. This activity was likely his second longest running obligation aside from the management of his store.

By the authority of Governor Andrew Johnson, stock was issued for the Eagleville, Unionville & Shelbyville Turnpike Company (EU&S) on January 5, 1855. It was part of the road system running from Nashville into Alabama and was an extension of the Nolensville Turnpike south of Triune.

The company was organized in two divisions. The northern division with three tollgates ran roughly from south of Kirkland to Unionville, and the southern division was in Bedford County south of Unionville to Shelbyville. The two southern tollgates were located one mile from Shelbyville, the "town gate", and the Fall Creek gate was six miles from Shelbyville.

The first board of directors of the northern division was Chesley Williams, president; William Collins, secretary; Williamson Jordan; Noah Scales; and Alford Ransom. The principle stockholders were Williamson Jordan, Noah Scales and Chesley Williams, with $1,500 stock each. The other 66 stockholders raised the total equity to $18,925. The company also had an initial debt of about $2,600.

The first board of directors of the southern division was John T. Neil, William G. Cowan, John F. Thompson, David Williams and Garret Phillips. In October 1855 all the directors of both divisions met to relinquish all claims on profits and dividends generated in the division that they did not manage. The north gave up the profits earned in the southern division, and the south gave up the profits earned in the northern division.

Because initial travel was light, it took time to collect enough money to acquire the required tollgate houses. The first in the northern division was purchased from Williamson Jordan about three miles north of Eagleville. And for several years tolls were collected at the homes of Ivey Phillips and W.S. Marshall. (Tollgate house one was subsequently owned and operated by Leonard K. Lowe and then his son George K. Lowe.)

The second tollgate house was built at W.G. Osborns, and a third house was not built until 1869 or 1870. These gates were located between the Rutherford County line and Rover and between Rover and Unionville. (In 1900 the three toll gates were run by Mrs. Ann Glimp at gate one, Mrs. Tennis Allison at gate two, and A.N. Vincent and E. Blanton at gate three.)

A Step Back in Time

In 1860 a company was organized to build the Eagleville and Chapel Hill Pike. Chesley Williams invested in that company. The EU&S Turnpike subscribed $500 to that project, but because of the Civil War the sum was not paid until 1866. This investment increased travel on the EU&S Turnpike.

Tollgate records survive for the years 1900 through 1905. Tolls were levied on the number of travelers and means of transportation. Loaded wagons paid more than empty ones. Tolls were geared to type of wagon or buggy, loaded or empty, as well as number and kinds of animals being herded along the pike. One-horse buggies were the most frequent means of conveyance on the turnpikes and paid a toll of 10 cents. One interesting feature was a hearse without a corpse paid a 25-cent toll, implying a hearse with a corpse paid nothing.

Access to toll roads was free during the night as the tollgates were open, but the gates were closed about 6AM each morning. Tolls were collected during the day, and the gates were again raised about 9PM.

According to the 1986 edition of History of Rover and the 10th District of Bedford County, Humphrey H. Boyce became suspicious of the large number of wagons traveling after midnight. One night he closed the gate and when the wagons arrived, he checked them out. They turned out to be grave robbers hauling disinterred corpses.

The Civil War added heavily to the cost of operating the turnpike. The bridge over the Harpeth River was made impassible by the large number of Confederate soldiers that crossed it.

The original bridge was located immediately east of the present bridge on US41A, and the turnpike ran along the west bank of the river and on the east side of the old Pinson's house and barn. Construction of US41A required a fill at the Harpeth River and a cut on the west side of the old Cook home that burned. The property is now home of the Tuckaway Country Gardens

After the Union forces arrived the bridge was burned down. The EU&S Turnpike had to be rebuilt three different times. The Yankees also burned down the Hailey tollgate house. It is highly likely that the fires were started by the Third Indiana Cavalry.

In an Official Report by Brigadier General Jefferson Davis, U.S. Army, from the headquarters, First Division, Twentieth Army Corps, on March 16, 1863, he wrote that a large storehouse in Eagleville (most likely the Williams Store as it was burned down during the war) was burned by the Third Indiana Cavalry on March 11. And two days later two other houses in the town were burned. (Chesley's house was spared, but the Missionary Baptist Church, which was used as a Confederate hospital, was also torched at some point in the war.) (The Official Records of the War of Rebellion, Chapter XXV, pp. 144-45.)

The Hailey tollgate house was rebuilt, but remained unoccupied. Not until traffic increased sufficiently was a replacement house built at Mrs. Reedder's in 1877.

Eagleville was in a difficult location in the southeastern corner of Williamson County.

Chesley Williams: Toll Road Owner/Manager

This is a continuation of "The Chesley Williams" article.

Written by Ed McClellan, a great, great grandson of Chesley Williams.

A long hard trip was required to get to the county seat of Franklin. Hills between the two towns deterred construction of a direct road between the two. The steep grades of the existing roads that ran through the hills were known as the "pull tights" since teamsters had to maintain a tight rein on their teams when crossing them.

The longer and more expedient route to Franklin was via Triune and the Murfreesboro-Franklin Road. That trip more closely followed the Harpeth River Valley crossed over smaller hills.

The difficulty of getting to Franklin led to moving the Williamson-Rutherford County line to the west in March, 1874, so Eagleville became part of Rutherford County. Traffic then shifted to the closer county seat of Murfreesboro, and demand for additional roads increased.

About 1877 the Eagleville and Salem Turnpike Company was formed to improve travel to Murfreesboro. Chesley Williams purchased the largest number of shares, 22% of the total, among the 25 initial stockholders. He was also president and treasurer of the company. Richard Ransom was secretary.

The road was built through Concord, despite the best efforts of the citizens of Versailles to run it through the Rockvale community. The route chosen is now State Road 99.

The EU&S Turnpike had been profitable during the early years of the 1880s. Annual surpluses were loaned to "good and solvent men." Chesley Williams wrote that notes were collected and were sufficient to pay court costs, lawyers' fees, and a 5% dividend to shareholders. There were also "some funds to commence putting our pike in first rate repairs and condition."

But then a costly problem proliferated. Many people with little or no money traveled many miles around the turnpikes to avoid paying tolls. To minimize this extra travel shunpikes -- run rounds -- were built in close proximity around the tollgates.

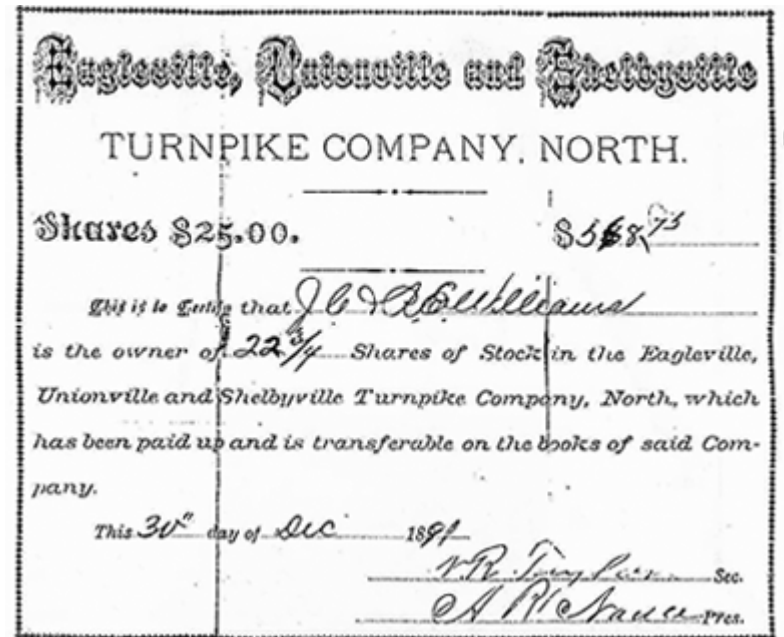

In 1878 a shunpike was attempted to bypass the Hailey tollgate. This led to a costly lawsuit, which forced the company to cut back on all expenses and "use all economies to save funds."

The case, in which Chesley was deeply involved, was tried and won in 1888.

A judgment of $2,500 and court fees were recovered. But the case was then appealed to the Tennessee Supreme Court.

Chesley Williams retired as an active manager of the toll roads just a short time before his death. A proclamation by Richard Ransom at Chesley's retirement noted that although he was a beloved president and treasurer, age, infirmity and deep affliction made him unable to attend to the duties incumbent upon him.

(The Chesley Williams Papers, 1856-1927, are the primary source for this article. They are available on microfilm from the Tennessee State Library.)

The Harpeth River Watershed Association would like to thank everyone that came out to the annual community wide meeting on Thursday, March 16th, 2006. Everyone in attendance enjoyed a great meal provided by our sponsor, Regions Bank here in Eagleville and got to hear an informative presentation on Livestock Production and Water Quality, given by Jenny Adkins, from the USDA and NRCS. Jenny presented many interesting facts linking the importance of water quality with livestock production which could potentially lower the vet bills of many farmers.

Larry Robeson with the USDA and NRCS also presented the Equip program which provides cost sharing and technical assistance to farmers that would like to implement any of the following best management practices: fencing, cross-fencing, buffers, pipelines for water troughs, and gravel/concrete for heavy use areas. For more information on the Equip cost sharing and technical assistance program, please contact the NRCS Murfreesboro Field Office at Ph.# (615) 893-9136. You may also contact the HRWA at Ph.# 790-9767 for help along your streams or banks!

Gaining Merit On The Harpeth

Earlier this month, members of Boy Scout Troop 123 got their hands and feet wet, literally as they helped with conservation projects at the Head of the Harpeth. The troop spent time during a recent scout meeting learning about environmental science, plants, and erosion control. Through experiments the boys learned the impact water can have on soil that is not stable with plant material. Putting their knowledge to good use, the boys spent time reinforcing the bank areas along the Head of the Harpeth as part of a larger conservation project. Using burlap and plant materials, the bank areas were stabilized so that water run off and occasional flooding would not erode the banks of the river. The work was hard, wet and muddy which for the scout troop members is their favorite kind of job. Along the way, the boys completed many of the requirements toward merit badges.

A big thanks to all who helped with this project from Scout Troop 123. For more information about BSA Troop 123, contact Mike Hayes at 504-1851 or Don Davis.

WHERE YOU AND YOUR BIBLE ARE WELCOME

Celebrate our Senior Adults with Gospel Fest 2006. The church choirs from the Triune, Nolensville, College Grove, Arrington and Eagleville areas will join together on Saturday, May 6, 2006 at 6:00 pm in a musical concert to benefit the senior citizens in our community. All individual choirs involved will perform at least two (2) gospel musical selections with the night ending when all the choirs come together and perform as one very large choir. The evening will be filled with food and fellowship, with the food being donated by many of our local grocery and vendor suppliers. The reason for this even is to raise money and awareness about the Meals on Wheels Association of America (MOWAA). During this event charitable donations will be accepted, and you will have the opportunity to sign up to be a volunteer. MOWAA is the oldest and largest organization in the United States, representing those who provide meal services to people in need. It works towards the social, physical, nutritional, and economic betterment of vulnerable Americans. The guiding principle to which MOWAA subscribes is to help those men and women who are elderly, homebound, disabled, frail, or at risk. As a part of the evening, there will be a testimonial video, where those who are being helped by MOWAA will have an opportunity to express what MOWAA has meant to them. Not only do those men and women receive a warm, nutritional meal, but they also received a visit from one of the volunteers. Sometimes, this is the only visitor they have all week. If you have been involved with MOWAA, then you know what a tremendous organization it is. If you haven't, then come and be a part of this wonderful evening which will be full of music, food, and fun. Again, Gospel Fest 2006 will be held on Saturday, May 6, 2006 at 6:00 pm and is hosted by Triune United Methodist Church, 7906 Nolensville Road, Arrington, Tennessee.

EAGLEVILLE BAPTIST REVIVAL APRIL 9th—14th

"REVIVE THE CHURCH" will be the theme of the week. We will begin with a high attendance is Sunday school and with the COMMUNITY DINNER at 12:00 noon. We must all admit that there is a need for a Revival in the church. There are many professing Christians that have quit church for one reason or another. There is a need for the church to find once again the "Glory of the Lord". Many members of the church have forgotten what Jesus did for them in giving them Salvation and they have forgotten their promise to live for Jesus and serve Him through His church. The church is God's Divine Institution for the purpose of honoring Christ with a life committed to Him. God is grieved when His people turn their backs on Him and allow other things to take the place of their devotion. The problem with this is God allows us to reject Him for so long and then He must discipline His children. God always wins. The Scripture says, "Be sure your sins will find you out". My prayer is that all God's people in Eagleville will remember their commitment to God and their church and quickly find their way back to actively loving and serving Him through their local church. The public is invited to attend our Revival. Dr. Louis Rideout will be preaching and Brother Derrell Billingsley will lead the music. There will be special music each service.

COME AND BRING A FRIEND.

EAGLEVILLE CLINIC RECEIVES SAFETY NET GRANT FOR UNINSURED

When TennCare cut many adults last year, they were left with much uncertainty and confusion as to how they would receive health care services. Thanks to an endowment grant program through the state of Tennessee Department of Health, Eagleville Medical Clinic was awarded a grant which enables the Clinic to continue see former TennCare and other uninsured patients on a sliding fee schedule. This means some patients will qualify for free services that the clinic can provide and others will receive the services at a cost which will be reduced from normal customary fee.

In addition to their present patient enrollment the Clinic has already seen an increase of patients from other providers who may no longer be providing their care. "We are able to accommodate most patients with an appointment within a reasonable time for routine visits and try to see sick and acute conditions on the day patients call in." "Walk-ins are welcome, but we recommend calling ahead due to certain heavy volume times of the day which can result in significant wait times, as we see scheduled and emergency patients first."

The Eagleville Clinic operates from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5—Monday thru Friday as a primary care clinic dealing with everything from diabetes and hypertension to respiratory ailments and suturing lacerations. The Clinic also does wellness visits for children and adults as well as employee drug screens and DOT examinations.

FROM THE WORLD WIDE WEB - WWW

For those of you that don't have internet email, you tend to miss out on some pretty good statistics or jokes that get passed around the internet. For you, I decided each month to share some of this interesting fun. * Intended for fun only. No guarantees to authenticity.

Those who grew up in small towns will laugh when they read this. Those who didn't will be in disbelief.

- 1) You can name everyone you graduated with.
- 2) You know what 4-H means.
- 3) You went to parties at a pasture, barn, gravel pit, or in the middle of a dirt road. On Monday you could always tell who was at the party because of the scratches on their legs from running through the woods when the party was busted.
- 4) You used to "drag" Main.
- 5) Your parents always knew where you were within the hour.
- 6) You scheduled parties around the schedules of different police officers, because you knew which ones would bust you and which ones wouldn't.
- 7) You could never buy cigarettes because all the store clerks knew how old you were (and if you were old enough, they'd tell your parents anyhow.)
- 8) When you did find somebody old enough and brave enough to buy cigarettes, you still had to go out into the country and drive on back roads to smoke them.
- 11) It was cool to date somebody from the neighboring town.
- 12) The whole school went to the same party after graduation.
- 13) You didn't give directions by street names but rather by references. Turn by Carlton's house, go 2 blocks to Jones's, and it's four houses left of the football field.
- 14) The town next to you was considered "trashy" or "snooty," but was actually just like your town.
- 15) The people in the "big city" dressed funny, and then you picked up the trend 2 years later.
- 16) Anyone you wanted could be found at the grocery store or the Dairy Bar.
- 17) When you decided to? walk somewhere for exercise, 5 people would pull over and ask if you wanted a ride.
- 18) Your teachers called you by your older siblings' names.
- 19) Your teachers remembered when they taught your parents.
- 20) You could charge at any local store or write checks without any ID.
- 21) It was normal to see an old man riding through town on a riding lawn mower.
- 22) Most people went by a nickname.
- 23) You laughed reading this because you know it is true. I would not have wanted to be raised any other way! Tough times don't last. Tough people? do..

Lucas Thompson and Sam Travis (Rockvale Ruritan Treasure)

We would like to thank everyone in the Rockvale and Eagleville communities for their support in our FAMILY owned business for nearly four years now. Last Spring we made a commitment on a flyer that was sent to every home in the local area stating that we would contribute $5 to either the Rockvale Ruritan or the Eagleville Lions Club for every card that was responded to for a Spring Maintenance. Each donation was then given to these long standing civic clubs by the customers choosing. After they had been tallied we went even further to make sure that the gifts to each club would be equal by further adding to the pot. Shown are the pictures from the events in which we were able to give back to the communities because of our customers response to the call. Because of that response we were able to give a total of $400 combined to the two clubs. Thanks to those who participated in this program on behalf of Thompson Services Unlimited Inc., Rockvale Ruritan and Eagleville Lions Club. Below is a cutout to continue this kind of local giving to the club of your choosing or you may take $5 off of your own Spring Maintenance. Don't let the cold weather fool you. The heat will be here before you know it. Be prepared and be efficient. Give up a call.

Rockvale Goes to the Circus

By Brenda Williams

Rockvale Elementary's Kindergarten through Fourth Grade music students "went to the Circus" on Tuesday and Thursday, March 14th and 16th under the direction of Music Specialist, Brenda Williams and her student teacher from MTSU, Susan Locke. Our ringmaster was our own Coach Chestnutt. We had clowns, elephants, tigers, bears, a unicyclist, and even a clown dog. We were entertained by all of the students performing musical selections with singing, drums, xylophones, percussion instruments, and recorders, along with a parachute and colorful streamers and scarves. Each program ended with a Hula Hoop-off, with parents, teachers (even a principal!) all hula-hooping to some great Circus music. 6th grade teacher, Ann Patient, was the Hula Hoop-off champion - no one saw her drop her hula hoop even once! The kindergarten-first grade program ended with a nice surprise for the students donated by a parent--Cotton Candy for all the kids!

Rocket Rundown

The Rockvale Rockets played Cannon County in a double header during the March 16th away game. During the first game Joey Pilaczynski pitched all 5 innings, Rockvale carried on offensively with Cameron Boyett who had a triple and a single, and Chris Watson's came in with double. Jonathon Fisher, Pilaczynski, Alex Hooper, and Cody Martin all added singles. Although the boys put a lot of effort into the game they felt short, with a 10-7 loss.

The second game saw the Rockets in top form with a 7-4 win.

Matt Warner picked up the win pitching 4 of the 5 innings turning it over to Jordon Wood for the final outs of the game. The game had some very standout defensive plays, one of them from Zach Nightingale who made a bare handed save to get an out for the team. Pilaczynski led the way offensively with 2 singles, while Fisher, Wood, Nightingale and Watson each had a singles.

Remember to come out and support the Rockets, check out <http://www.res.rcs.k12.tn.us/default.htm> and click on the calendar for game times and locations.

A BUNNY WITH CLASS

By Theresa Hill

What can leap over a stack of books in a single bound, stand and beg for his favorite treat or melt the hearts of all he meets? IT'S DEION, the world's smartest rabbit! At least that is what the students at Eagleville School will tell you.

Most classrooms have a fish, hamster, gerbil, mouse, or a guinea pig for a class pet. If you have been by Theresa Hill's third grade classroom in the last eight years or so you have probably seen a big fluffy white rabbit sprawled out on the floor, sound asleep in a student's arms, or chowing down on his favorite snack, Keebler Barnums Animal Crackers. Not your usual classroom scene, but usual is not what this rabbit is all about.

The story began when Midnight, a previous class rabbit, died eight or nine years ago one September morning. Chris, Brittany, and Austin Ellis gave their black rabbit to Ms. Hill the year before. Midnight was a lovely rabbit, but she couldn't stay in the classroom much because she just loved to chew on electrical cord, a health hazard to say the least. However, everyone loved her greatly so you can only imagine the disappointment of the children when she died early in the school year. After the funeral, the students were very sad. As fate would have it, Abby Graham was in that third grade class. Her family raised rabbits on their farm. One of their doe rabbits had recently birthed a litter. However, one little rabbit was different from the rest. His mom had regular rabbit ears and his dad had lopped ears. So this little rabbit had ears that looked like helicopter propellers. He was the runt of the litter and wasn't able to get the milk from his mother that he needed to survive. Abby and her brother, Brett, began feeding him with a bottle and giving him all the attention and care that every little bunny deserves. Brett named him Deion, after his favorite football player Deion Sanders. Deion had just been weaned from the bottle about the time Midnight died. The next day, Abby told the class she would love for Deion to be the class pet. As you can only imagine, her idea was a hand's down - thumbs up proposal. Now for the rest of the story.

The next day was Deion's first day of school. He was an instant hit with all children and adults. Being the clever bunny that he was, he had potty trained himself by noon of that first day. (If only it were that easy with children!) He discovered early on how to snuggle up, butter up, and stand up for attention and animal crackers. If he was ignored, he learned to untie shoes, bump his nose against or prop his front paws upon a person's leg. As a last resort, he would follow his targeted buddy until he/she gave him what he desired. Deion thrived that first year with all the attention and love he received. He grew fat and sassy. It is no wonder he decided to further his education at Eagleville School for the rest of his days.

If you are in the elementary building, you may see Deion visiting other classrooms or sticking his head into the boy's bathroom. He will do whatever it takes to get attention. However, his favorite place to visit is the library. He knows he can find a nice quiet hide away in which to take a snooze or perhaps a few extra animal crackers that Ms. Wanda or Ms. Patti might have stashed away just for him.

One time, there was a bag of cookies in a box under a table in Ms. Hill's room. While she was giving a spelling test, everyone heard a rattling noise. As they looked at the box they were amazed to see two back legs and a powder puff tail hanging out over the side of the box. Before anyone could do more than laugh, he backed out of the box with a bag of cookies in his mouth and dragged them across the floor where he began helping himself. Of course, that spelling test came to a screeching halt. Another time the second graders in Ms. Pam's class had displayed their prehistoric science projects on the floor in the hallway. Deion discovered them and found all of the trees and twigs to be quite tasty. So much for the habitats of those dinosaurs.

When Deion isn't stuffing his tummy, he is just another member of Ms. Hill's third grade. He goes out for recess when the weather is nice, he gets his picture made with the class, he joins the small groups when they are working on the floor, and he loves accelerated reading time. Deion gets Valentine cards and Christmas presents. He even dressed up one Halloween as the Easter Bunny. The truth is he really doesn't know he is a rabbit. He just thinks he is a very short third grader.

No one thinks about him being an animal. He is a member of the school. About two years ago, he had a knot on his stomach and had to have surgery. Teachers, parents, and older students were constantly coming by the room asking about his welfare. He got flowers, get well cards, and many animal crackers. When he returned to school an announcement was made on the intercom that Deion was back. You could hear cheering all up and down the halls. So how does Deion deal with all this popularity? Like a real pro of course. He has even had a book written about him entitled The Rabbit That Went to School. Fred Graham, Brett and Abby's dad, wrote this book several years ago. Deion enjoys autographing his books. As a matter of fact, he loves to promote his book because all proceeds from the book sales go to help children in need at Eagleville School. He is all about children.

Deion has been in the third grade for almost nine years now. He is definitely intelligent enough to be promoted, but he chooses to stay and help Ms. Theresa Hill teach the boys and girls in her classroom. Mr. Bruce Haley's agriculture students built him a hutch that most rabbits would die for. However, he much prefers to be in the school building with his classmates. When the students leave in the afternoon, he goes to his hutch. However, in the mornings when the bell rings for class to begin, you can see Deion hopping down the hall heading for his room along with everyone else. When summer vacation rolls around Deion can be seen packing his animal cracker box for a trip back to the Graham farm to visit with his farm buddies as well as Abby and Brett. Yet when the school bells begin ringing in August and the children head back to school you can see Deion right in the midst of them headed back to class for another new and exciting year ahead. After all, Ms. Hill can't start class until all of her students have returned.

Margaret's Helpful Hints

Put flour in a large salt shaker and keep it in the freezer. When you need to flour a pan or make homemade gravy give it a shake. It helps prevent lumpy gravy and messy counters.

Add 4 tablespoons of lemon juice to one cup water in a microwave safe 4 cup bowl. Boil for 5 minutes in the microwave allowing the steam to condense on the inside walls of the oven. Then wipe clean.

To bring back the fluffiness in bed pillows, put them in the clothes dryer with a dryer sheet. The warm air does wonders in just a few minutes.

Congratulations Darrell Huffman! On the Grand opening of Three Rivers Real Estate

New Arrival

Emma Elaine Freeman
February 10, 2006

Chris, Nancy and big brother Blake are happy to announce the birth of their baby girl, Emma Elaine Freeman. Emma was born on February 10, 2006 at 7:48 am at the Middle Tennessee Medical Center. She weighed 7 pounds 1 ounce and was 20 inches long. Proud grandparents are Junior Freeman of Wheel and Rebecca McBride of Manchester, and Oakley & Audrey Beech of Las Vegas Nevada. Great grandparents are Elaine Freeman of Eagleville, Lena Daniels of Manchester, Nancy Mathis of Crestview Florida, and Mattie Crumley of Chapel Hill.

After 12 years in the Real Estate Industry, Darrell has taken a leap of faith and started his own Real Estate Company. For many years, developers and builders alike have always said Darrell had what it takes to start his own Real Estate Company. He was a Realtor and an Auctioneer for Comas Montgomery for 5 years and was employed with Prudential Rowland for over 7 years, managing the South Church Street office as the Principal Broker.

Darrell was a key player in the development of Rockvale Meadows. He saw a vision for an upscale neighborhood with large lots and a community swimming pool that did not exist in the Rockvale/Eagleville area. He solicited several major developers throughout the country and partnered up with Clair Vanderschaaf from Memphis. In 2003, they broke ground and have built over 70 quality brick homes in the $190 to $370 range. When completed, the neighborhood will consist of over 250 single residence homes. Darrell was so impressed with the development, he decided to sell his home in the “city” and move to Rockvale Meadows.

Darrell is in partnership with Clair Vanderschaaf and they are just breaking ground on the Three Rivers development @ Cason Lane and Hwy 99. There are 881 homes planned throughout, consisting of brick townhomes with rear entry garages, alleys and courtyards and single family residences prices in the $200 to $400 range. He is also a key player in implementing River Oaks West, which will consist of 250 homes.

Darrell partnered with William V. Underwood and Sons Custom Home Builders in 2004 to develop the Green Hills subdivision off of Hwy 99 in Eagleville. This development featured quality brick homes in the $120’s to $140’s range. The development was a huge success and a complete sellout! Darrell represents Underwood & Sons in Rockvale Meadows, Southern Meadows, Forest Ridge, Deer Valley and Eagle Crest.

Darrell also represents some of the largest home builders in Murfreesboro, such as J.O. Clark Construction and Mark Truett Custom Homes. Darrell has several professional designations such as GRI, CRB, Broker’s license, Auctioneer and a Mega-Million dollar producer.

Darrell has always been known in Eagleville/Rockvale/Murfreesboro area as a champion of Real Estate. Darrell strives to promote honesty, integrity and ethics on a personal and professional level.

Darrell is married to wife Michelle, since 1996, and they have two wonderful children, Tate, 7 and Mahaley, 3. Darrell and his wife Michelle are very active and involved in World Outreach Church and the community. Darrell graduated Eagleville High School in 1986, where he was actively involved in various sports and activities.

Congratulations and good luck to Darrell. Stop by Three Rivers Real Estate @ 855 West College Street and congratulate Darrell on his success!

- Maximize/enhance police coverage and enforcement. Evaluate police staffing needs and equipment, some equipment is 12 years old and operates intermittently.
- Seek out and secure cost effective/environmentally friendly solution(s) to our almost 50% septic system failure rate. Repair/replace leaking City Hall septic holding tank that has to be pumped frequently. As a result, City Hall's restroom is frequently "out of order".
- Evaluate fire equipment and training for personnel. The city owned fire pumper/tanker is nonfunctional, which sits beside City Hall.
- Evaluate exterior appearance of City Hall. This is a direct reflection of our city, its leadership and affects community pride. Soap, water, and a little paint are very cost effective ways of greatly improving its appearance.
- I sincerely appreciate our police, fire, EMS and so many other nice people that make Eagleville a great place to live and work.
