Eagleville School Class Reunion Classes From The 70's and 80's

Submitted by Elaine Cunningham

The Eagleville Class Reunion classes from the 70's and 80's was held on March 16, 2013 at the Double Tree in Murfreesboro, TN. What a great evening! Attending were special guests Mr. and Mrs. James Ray Gannon. Hosted by Nancy McGrath and Peanut Russell, music with a DJ and wonderful food was enjoyed by all. Many friends reunited and most met some new ones. Dancing was enjoyed as well. Stories told about the wonderful education received by fellow students and how times has changed. Mr and Mrs Gannon also shared memories of their teaching years. It was suggested that we continue this every five years, so if you missed out this time, maybe you'll make the next one! A special thanks to Nancy and Peanut.

MAINTENANCE, SAVES TIME & MONEY

The planting season is ready to be in full swing, which means it's also a good time to think about tractor maintenance. Not all tractors are stored in over the winter months and some have downtime between growing seasons. Tractor care is an important step to avoid costly repairs and maintain optimal performance. The following checklist can help save time and money by preparing your tractor.

- Clean in and out. Clean all dirt and crop debris away from the interior and exterior of your tractor.
- Clean and check the cooling system. Check your coolant – both for adequate levels as well as any debris that requires a system flush.
- Change the oil and oil filters.
- Check your tires and tire pressure.

Your Eagleville Co-op has an experienced tire shop crew ready to handle your implement, car or truck tire needs. We carry a select line of oil, coolants, batteries and tires at very competitive prices. Stop in and see how our tire shop can help you with your new tire or repair needs.

A Message From Your Mayor Greetings From City Hall

I know we are glad to see the buttercups blooming. It appears we have made it through another mild winter. The GREAT PRIDE of the citizens of Eagleville shows best every spring as yard work begins and flowers bloom. Whether we rent or own, personal pride along with community and civic support is just something we AMERICANS do best. Volunteering at church, school or just helping your neighbor and sometimes a total stranger, gives great inner satisfaction.

Over the next year our city will be under construction of our first public sewer system. I will do my best each month to give an update so everyone will know our progress, but I must stress how important it is that everyone have proper information. At anytime if you have a question, please call city hall. We will assure you of the latest and most accurate details we have. Please do not rely on rumors, e-mails or blogs. Please contact city hall, this is the only way to receive correct information. We will be more than honored to assist you.

The sewer project will be monitored, and inspected EVERYDAY by state inspectors. Every dollar spent has to be accounted for. Please rest assure, no one at city hall has the knowledge to inspect or will insect the project. Every invoice and every dollar spent has to be approved by USDA.

As of today the final engineering plans are being approved by the state, then the project will go out to bid for anyone who is qualified to bid on the construction. If all goes as planned, the bids will open in April and construction will begin no later than May.

It is ironic that city administration has guided the process, but in no way has any control of approvals, deadlines, or inspections of the project. In many ways this is good, because it gives an unbiased third party opinion to assure proper procedures are followed.

As always, please shop local and support your school. If I can assist call my personal cell number 849-6509.

Sincerely, Sam Tune, Mayor

Local Fire Departments Partner With State Fire Marshal To Provide Home Smoke Alarm Installations

The State Fire Marshal's Office recently presented the Eagleville Fire Department with a supply of smoke alarms to be installed in homes within the community at high risk of fire. The department personnel attended an information session and training course on the new alarms, which were purchased with FEMA grant funds and utilize a lithium battery with a 10-year lifespan.

This statewide, months-long distribution of smoke alarms is all part of the State Fire Marshal's effort to both educate and equip Tennesseans to incorporate fire safety into their daily lives.

"We want residents to make sure they have functional smoke alarms in their homes, as well as a rehearsed fire-escape plan. These are tools proven to save lives – because even one fire death is one too many," says State Fire Marshal Julie Mix McPeak.

The alarms are free, but must be installed by the fire department or a partnering organization that has received the training course. Because supplies are limited, the fire department may need to give first preference to those who are not able to otherwise afford smoke alarms.

"We are excited to be able to partner with the State Fire Marshal's Office in providing these smoke alarms for the citizens here in Eagleville" said Chief Rick Parks of the Eagleville Fire Department. "Fire can spread through a home in a matter of minutes and smoke alarms can give residents the warning needed to get out safely."

To request an installation, call 615-274-2922 and provide your name, address, and phone number. A fire department representative will then contact you to schedule a time for the installation.

In addition to having working smoke alarms, follow these other important tips to make sure your home is fire-safe:

- Always stay in the kitchen when frying, grilling, or broiling food.
- Check to see that matches and lighters are kept up high in a cabinet with a childproof lock.
- Develop a home fire escape plan with two ways out of every room and an outside meeting place. Share and practice the plan with every member of the household.
- Keep portable space heaters and candles 3 feet away from anything that can burn, including people, furniture, and pets.
- Always turn off portable space heaters when you leave the room or go to bed.
- Have the chimney cleaned and checked regularly.
- Do not smoke in bed.
- Make sure that all matches and ashes are cool before being thrown away.
- Make sure that extension cords are in good condition and are used to power small items only – never major appliances.

For further information on fire safety, feel free to visit the State Fire Marshal's Office website at www.tn.gov/commerce/sfm.

You also may download a home fire safety checklist at <http://tn.gov/commerce/sfm/fsk/documents/checklist.pdf>.

Adventures in Agriculture

The Adventures in Agriculture event is set for April 20th from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Lane Agri-Park in Murfreesboro. The Lane Agri-Park is located at 315 John Rice Boulevard, just past Sam's Club and Tractor Supply. The theme for this year's event will be Farmers Care which will highlight the ways in which producers maintain and preserve their crops, animals, recreation and the environment. Farmers will be there to share their knowledge of animals, crops, homegrown foods, handmade products, and more with parents and children. Admission is FREE and open to the public.

The event, hosted by members and partners of the Rutherford County Agriculture Community, provides many hands-on activities to teach families about the impact agriculture has on our everyday lives. Adventures in Agriculture will have animal exhibits, food displays, gardening information and more. Children can be a "Farmer for a Day"; an interactive exhibit for children to play at growing crops, harvesting and taking them to market. Bring your stuffed animals that need repairs; there will be professionals to help. Adults and children alike will have the opportunity to learn heritage skills, such as butter making, spinning yarn and more. Parents can talk with Master Gardeners and learn how to grow your own vegetables in your back yard or in a container garden, no matter how much (or how little) room you have. There will be plenty of games, food and information for all ages. Don't miss this family fun day for all ages.

Judiciary Committee Approves Legislation Sponsored By Senator Ketron To Strengthen Penalties Against Cockfighting

March 26, 2013 -- The Senate Judiciary Committee approved legislation today which strengthens penalties against spectators and participants of cockfights. The bill, sponsored by Senator Bill Ketron (R-Murfreesboro), also closes a loophole in existing law that allows for spectators of cockfights to be treated with greater leniency than those who attend dog fights.

"Cockfighters routinely go jurisdiction shopping for states with the weakest penalties and go to those states to commit these crimes," said Senator Ketron. "Tennessee has some of the weakest cockfighting laws in the Southeast and is becoming a destination of choice for animal fighters. These events are also magnets for other criminal activities, including illegal gambling and drug trafficking."

Currently, those who are charged with owning, possessing, keeping or training a rooster in Tennessee for cockfighting purposes face a Class A misdemeanor offenses which carries up to $2,500 in fines and a maximum of 11 months, 29 days in jail. This bill sets the fine at a minimum of $500. The legislation increases the penalties for the owners, trainers and promoters of cockfights upon a second or subsequent offense to a Class E felony, punishable by up to six years in prison and a fine of up to $3,000.

On the spectator side, currently it is a Class B misdemeanor to attend a dog fight and a Class C misdemeanor to attend a cockfight. This bill closes a loophole in existing law used by offenders to avoid prosecution by increasing penalties for being a spectator at any type of animal fight to a Class A misdemeanor, with a minimum $500 fine.

Animal fighting is now illegal in all 50 states and is a felony offense in 40 states.

"Cockfighting attracts such criminal elements as the Mexican drug cartel that ran multi-ton quantities of meth and heroine through cockfighting pits in our state. Federal investigations have revealed intricate gambling operations with millions of dollars changing hands illegally."

"Children are routinely in attendance at these events where they are exposed to a host of criminal activities and animal cruelty," added Senator Ketron. "I am pleased this bill has received committee approval and am hopeful we can pass it this year."

Rutherford County 4-H Horse Show

The annual Rutherford County 4-H Horse Show will be held at the Lane Agri-Park, 315 John Rice Blvd., in Murfreesboro on May 18th at 10:00am. This year, F & M Mortgage has sponsored the show. "The 4-H organization is an amazing example of how to be successful at shaping future leaders and innovators. They have mastered the skills of helping students of all ages through hands-on learning experiences, and are doing tremendous things with the youth of Rutherford County" Belinda Arender, Vice President and Mortgage Loan Officer said. "It's an honor for F&M Mortgage to sponsor the Rutherford County 4-H Horse Show."

The Rutherford County Sheriff's Department Mounted Patrol will be on hand to present the American flag and kick off the show with style. The Rutherford County Emergency Medical Service will be providing EMT's in case of emergency. "It's so nice to know that the Sheriff's Department Mounted Patrol and the Rutherford County EMS care enough about this community to provide these services." Faith Duke, current 4-H

Horse Project President said. "Many of the 4-H Horse Project's members are new this year. They will remember this Rutherford County horse show forever."

Class divisions will include Western, Ranch, Hunter, Walking/Racking/Spotted Saddle, Reining and Trail. 4-H members in good standing from any Tennessee County can compete in any of the eight Open Classes, a new addition at this year's show. Vendor space will be available this year for a $10.00 set-up fee. This great day of competition will close out with an open for-fun costume class.

"I can't think of anything more important than teaching area young people to appreciate others and encouraging them to make positive contributions to society" Arender said. "Rutherford County's 4-H organization is making such an important impact in our community, that it's a privilege for F&M Mortgage to join with them as a sponsor of this event." Anyone needing more information can contact Walter Dirl, County Extension Agent at 615-898-7710.

Battle Ground Academy A Taste of The Past

Battle Ground Academy (BGA) was established in 1889, and was given its name due to its original location on the battle ground of the Civil War Battle of Franklin. The first campus was erected at the corner of Columbia Avenue and Cleburne Street. S. V. Wall and W. D. Mooney were chosen as the first to head the new academy. In 1902, the original school building burned and the school was relocated on a site on Columbia Avenue in Franklin.

Several years ago, to commemorate their 100th year, a cookbook was published. An Eagleville family was honored by Mrs. Barry "Tamara" Scales for her entry. Lytle Elmore, an Eagleville native, was born January 1, 1894 and was the son of Hugh and Flora Lytle Elmore. He attended this prestigious school as did his brother Eris. Hugh and Flora lived near Eagleville, on Elmore Road, with their children, Ethel, Lytle, Eris, Claris, Mary, and Hugh. Lytle served in the 30th Div. Signal Bat, US Army in World War I and received a Purple Heart for wounds received in Belgium. He was married to Sarah Lettie Philpot and had two children; Mary Jane and Lila Jean.

Mrs. Flora Elmore

A Taste Of The Past – By Tamara Scales

Every fall of the year, *Old Daddy Peoples would drive to Eagleville in a beautiful single-seated buggy. The buggy had a top and rubber tires. Mary, the little sister, who remembers these visits, says the buggy had rubber tires which she remembers well because most people had steel buggy tires which made lots of noise. She thought Old Daddy looked quite elegant because of this. His buggy was pulled by a beautiful black horse.

He would come to visit and have long conversations about the boys, Lytle and Eris, and was very helpful to Mrs. Elmore with advice about the boys as her husband had passed away.

Mary, who was small, would ask, "Mother, why does Old Daddy always come at dinnertime?", not realizing it took all morning to come from Franklin to Eagleville by horse and buggy.

Old Daddy would blush and say, "Because she has such good food." Before he left he would ask, "Mrs. Elmore, do you have another boy for me this year?"

Certain to be served at these noontime dinners, would be the Old-Fashioned Tea Cakes, a recipe of Lytle, Eris, and Mary's grandmother, Mrs. James Knox Polk Lytle, wife of a famed confederate soldier.

Old Fashioned Tea Cakes

2 cups flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1 cup sugar, ¾ cup lard, 4 eggs beaten separately, vanilla flavoring or orange juice

Drop on cookie sheet with a teaspoon and bake at 350 degrees until brown.

Lytle Elmore lived his first year (1913) with "Old Daddy" and Mrs. Peoples. He had a room in their house. Mrs. Peoples was very particular. She had Lytle scrubbing and waxing floors. She would say things to him as, "You've got your chair off the rug."

The next year, Lytle's younger brother, William Eris came to BGA as did a friend from Allisona, Earl Smithson. That year Eris and Earl slept in the coalhouse to keep the coal from being stolen at night. This was to earn part of their tuition. The Battle Ground Academy coalhouse was near Old Daddy's house. One very cold night they heard someone in the coalhouse sacking up coal. Eris said to Earl, "Anyone who needs it this cold night can have it – go back to sleep!"

Mary Elmore and her mother would go once a month to BGA from Eagleville in a buggy to take the boys clean clothes. One time it got too late for them to go back in the buggy. So they spent the night in Everbright Mansion. Mary remembers they took in other BGA students at Everbright. The house had twenty-two rooms and was located near the campus. Mary says she could not sleep for thinking about the many rooms of the house. Later on, Lytle got a motorcycle, so they did not have to make the trip in the buggy.

Miss Ethel Elmore's Pecan Crescents

½ cup butter, ¼ cup powdered sugar, 1 ¼ cups flour, ¼ tsp. almond flavoring, ¼ tsp. vanilla, ¾ tsp. chopped pecans.

Combine butter and sugar. Add flour, mixing well. Add vanilla, almond flavoring and pecans. Roll pieces of mixture (about the size of a hickory nut) between fingers. Place on greased cookie sheet in crescent shape. Bake at 350 degrees. Makes 4 dozen.

Lytle Elmore pitched for the Battle Ground Academy baseball team (1913-1916). Old Daddy Peoples wanted him to become a professional baseball player because Lytle could throw such a curve ball, as Old Daddy had never seen. Mrs. Elmore did not want her son to become a professional ball player because at that time there was no money in it. She thought the crowd was rough, too.

The Elmore Family L-R: Hugh, Ethel, Eris (in the wagon), Flora and Lytle

James Lytle Elmore

On September 5, 1916, Lytle wrote his name in a BGA algebra book but in just a few days, he was off to France in World War I. He joined the army motorcycle corps. His job was to carry sealed messages. It was during this time that Earl Smithson (he had also left BGA to go to war), covered with mud and freezing water, recognized Lytle in a trench on a battlefield in France. They embraced each other and cried because they had been through so much. Lytle did not know, until after the war was over, that he had carried the message that had broken the Hindenberg Line. He was decorated with medals from France, Belgium, England, and the United States for carrying this message.

Miss Mary Elmore remembers that Lytle loved poetry. She asked him why he always wanted to read poetry books and he would reply, "Old Daddy taught me to love it."

* * * * *

Thank you, Tamara Scales, for your work on this cookbook and especially recording this local history of the Elmore and Smithson families. I also want to thank Ennis Wallace, for his assistance on this and other Step Back In Time Articles.

Eris Elmore, brother to Lytle, who also attended BGA, was born August 13, 1896 and was married first to Jessie Leathers who died in 1932. They had a son William E. Elmore. After the death of her first wife, Eris married Frances Dement, and they were parents to a daughter, Bonnie. Eris died in 1983 and Francis died in 1999.

Url "Earl" Smithson was born at Flat Creek January 6, 1890 on the Smithson home place, approximately 1 mile south of Flat Creek Road on Edwards Grove Road. He was the son of Tom and Mattie Giles Smithson. He and his siblings were given names, spelled with no more than 3 letters; Url, Ary, Lee and Sg.

Url was educated in his early school days at Flat Creek School, later going to BGA. As a boarding student, he rode his horse to Franklin on Sunday evening and back home to Flat Creek on Friday night.

Url married Mary Watson and built their home at the corner of Owen Hill and Horton Highway. He became the rural carrier out of the Allisona Post Office and died January 12, 1945 while on his mail route.

* Greer (Old Daddy) Peoples mentioned in the above writing was the third Head Master of BGA.

A Friendly Church With A Vital Message

PASTOR'S PONDERINGS

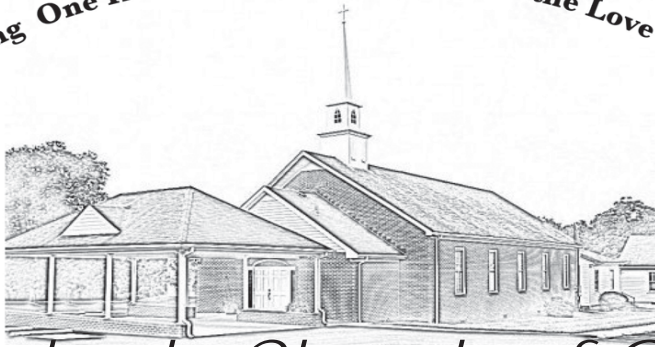

By Pastor Ken Sharp, Jackson Ridge Community Church

We are approaching that time of year when the weather starts to warm up. the flowers, trees and bushes start to become more and more colorful, and we become as a whole more active outside, both in our yards and involved in outdoor sports and other family activities. And by being outside more and seeing the beauty of the springtime colors, we are reminded of the beauty of the presence of the Lord as He brings into our lives color and renewed life. I am reminded of a verse of Scripture that has a valuable application for all of us: "And the angel of God, which went before the camp of Israel, removed and went behind them: and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face, and stood behind them" Exodus 14:19.

This was a time of great difficulty and danger for Israel; the Egyptian army was coming hard upon them to drag them back into their captivity and bondage. Up to this moment, since they had left Egypt, the angel of God and the pillar of cloud had gone before them as their divine Guide. But now danger was imminent. Notice what happened! He Who was their Guidance suddenly turned and went behind them. The angel of God and the pillar of cloud came between them and their enemy. Here, then, is a very comforting principle for us to remember: the Lord Who guides us also defends us! He Who goes before us will not be slow to come behind us when our enemies threaten to overtake and overcome us. This Spring, may we know the Lord as our Guide, and may we also know Him as our sure Defense. Have a beautiful Spring!

Ella Taylor Moore 107 years old

By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

Mrs. Ella Taylor Moore, a native of Rover, Bedford County, celebrated a very special birthday on March 27th, 2013. Mrs. Ella, the sixth child of James Thomas and Susie Lou Davis Taylor, was born March 27, 1906, and recently celebrated her 107th birthday. She and her sister, Ruth, who will be 101 July 28th, are presently residents of Nashville, living in their own homes, with help from their family.

These two sisters definitely have seen many historical events occur during their life time. At the time of Mrs. Ella's birth, Theodore Roosevelt was president of the United States and during the first year of her life, the Wright Brothers patented the aero plane. Mrs. Ella has recounted many times of being let out of class at school, to see an airplane in the sky.

Mrs. Ella married the last time, at the age of 89, to Mr. Ivan Moore, a former school mate. The two met again in later years, married and made their home in Nashville. Mr. Moore, as well as her former husband's, is now deceased. Mrs. Ella has no children of her own, but she has several nieces and nephews, children of her siblings; Ira Hix, Allie Pearl (died as an infant), John Hollin (died abt. Age 17), Lizzie Alma, James Wilkie, Fred Nance, Mary Glen (died at age 7), Ruth, Willie White and Gene Clyde.

I lived several years as a neighbor to Mrs. Ella before she married and moved to Nashville, and was always amazed of her energy and enthusiasm, especially when she started decorating for Christmas. It took her quite a while, usually starting in October, but her entire house, even her bedrooms, bathroom and kitchen, would be adorned with red Christmas decorations, including glass beads, hanging in doorways. It was like walking into a beautiful Christmas wonderland.

Mrs. Ella, I hope you had a wonderful birthday and I still missed you, my wonderful neighbor, and think of you often.

Monday, April 8, 9:45 a.m. – Free Fitness Demo Day

Jump start your spring workout routine with a free fitness demo day! Come join us as we meet our new exercise instructor and view 30 minute sample sessions of Zumba, aerobics, yoga, and yagalates. This is a great way to find out what you are interested in before you commit to a class.

Wednesday, April 17, 11:30 a.m. - Birthday Potluck

Mark Stewart, center member, will entertain us with storytelling. The Center provides the main dish, so please bring a covered side dish.

Tuesday, April 30, 1 - 3 p.m. - Bob Ross Painting Workshop

Certified Bob Ross instructor, Liz Farrar, will teach a 2 hour class on 11x14 canvas in oil paint. Easy to follow, step by step instructions and demos for each step. This class is for beginners, yet experienced painters find they learn from it as well. Students should wear old clothes, since it tends to get messy! The cost is $20 and includes all supplies. You will take home a completed oil paint picture at the end of class. Sign up at center or call 368.7093. Non member's $3 fee.

If you would be interested in teaching a class or leading a seminar/ workshop or if you have a suggestion for a new class or day trip please contact us at 368.7093 or email Sarah at sstephens@fiftyforward.org.

BALD IN THE BORO

Rockvale Middle School raised $1,000 for the Bald in the Boro drive after teachers and the school resource officer had their heads shaved. From left are 6th grade math teacher Brian Cathcart, 6th grade history teacher Eric Plueger, 8th grade history teacher James Carson, School Resource Officer Daniel Thomas, who coordinated the drive, and 8th grade language arts teacher Richard Rorabaugh. Proceeds go to the St. Baldrick's Foundation, which provides funds for childhood cancer research.

Earth Day - April 22nd

Founded in 1970 as a day of education about environmental issues, Earth Day is now a globally celebrated holiday that is sometimes extended into Earth Week, a full seven days of events focused on green awareness. The brainchild of Senator Gaylord Nelson and inspired by the antiwar protests of the late 1960s, Earth Day was originally aimed at creating a mass environmental movement. It began as a "national teach-in on the environment" and was held on April 22 to maximize the number of students that could be reached on university campuses. By raising public awareness of air and water pollution, Nelson hoped to bring environmental causes into the national spotlight.

Little Stories About You & Me By Nancy Allen

Healing Humor

Norman Cousins was the first to promote humor as an antidote to cancer and other diseases. He said, "Hearty laughter is a good way to jog internally without having to go outdoors."

While lying on his back, moving only with the greatest effort he began laughing his way back to health. His doctors had predicted he had one chance out of five-hundred to survive. He checked himself out of the hospital where he felt the negativity and routines disrupted his basic sleep patterns and began watching old Marx Brother's movies. He laughed so hard that he was able to sleep pain free for several hours. He realized he had discovered something and sure enough there was scientific evidence to support his claim. The laughter stimulated chemicals in his body that countered the pain. He had a disease called 'ankylosing spondylitis' that destroys the connective tissue holding the spine together. While Cousins is quick to point out, "one man's humor is another man's ho-hum," he found his 'tickle' spot and it would do us all good to find ours.

After publishing his book, Anatomy of an Illness, the idea of humor as a healing art was championed by many and mind-body researchers everywhere began to take note. Hospitals have added the aspect of humor to their healing process. Some have closed circuit television where the patient can find humor. Dr. Harry Olson said there are three levels of humor, "Sarcasm is one, but that's destructive. The second, a good pun that gives you a twist of expectancy has positive qualities. And so does the third level, cosmic humor, which is an appreciation of the paradoxes and absurdities of life. The person who has this level of humor is more likely to be flexible and able to take in stride what life dishes out." Allen Funt, of Candid Camera, also makes shows available to hospitals.

So I found these jokes to be funny—maybe you will too! Children really do say the 'darndest' things.

"A lady was driving down the crowded street with her three young children one warm summer evening when a woman in the convertible ahead of them stood up and waved. She was stark naked! While his mother was horrified in shock, the five-year-old shouted from the back seat, 'Mom, she's not wearing her seat belt!'"

"A policeman was making a routine vandalism report at an elementary school. He was interrupted by a little girl who was probably in kindergarten. Looking up and down at his uniform, she asked, 'Are you a cop?' 'Yes,' he answered and continued writing his report. 'My mother said if I ever needed help I should ask the police. Is that right?' 'Yes, that's right,' the policeman said with some pride. 'Well, then,' she said, as she extended her foot toward the cop, 'would you please tie my shoe?'"

"Another little girl, perhaps in kindergarten as well, had just finished her first week of school. 'I'm not going back. I'm just wasting my time,' she told her mother. 'I can't read, I can't write and they won't let me talk!'"

Bill, Jim and Scott had just finished a monstrous and long day at the convention center and were on their way to their room on the 75th floor when came the announcement: the elevators are broken. To make the task of climbing 75 flights of stairs more pleasant they decided that they would take turns entertaining. Bill would tell jokes for 25 flights, Jim would lead singing for 25 flights and Scott would tell stories for the last 25 flights. They were making progress—it was Scott's turn to tell a story. He began, My first story is a sad one, "I just realized I left our room key in the car."

Well, did you laugh? Cousins said, "Illness is not a laughing matter. Perhaps it ought to be. Laughter moves your internal organs around. It enhances respiration. It is an igniter of great expectation." Find something to laugh about, it's good for you!

Loneliness Among Seniors Is A Problem With Solutions

By Mary Ann Steelman-RN

As technology continues to advance, people can communicate in many different ways besides via face-to-face communication. If someone's loved one lives across the country, they can still communicate with that person often using the computer or phone. Despite this, as a society, we are lonelier than ever.

Seniors are especially prone to this loneliness. A study from the University of California, San Francisco (UCSF) found that 43 percent of seniors are lonely. Whether the senior lives alone or with someone else, they may still be lonely. The UCSF study found that two-thirds of seniors who were married or living with a partner were lonely.

Those seniors who are lonesome are at greater risk for health problems and death. The risk of death for lonely seniors who are at least 60 years old is increased by 45 percent. Isolated elders also have a 59 percent greater risk of having mental and physical problems than social seniors.

The reasons for this loneliness include losing a loved one, being far away from family and having a small social circle. With the lack of people to talk to and share emotions with, seniors may bottle up feelings, which increases the risk of death. However, as a senior, there are things to do to combat this loneliness.

Making friends and developing an active social circle can help you keep busy and give you people to talk to. Some of these friends could become people you can turn to for emotional support. If you live at a senior living home or assisted living facility, you could get involved in the activities there and meet people there. If not, your local senior center, church and health clubs are also great places to meet people. Don't forget about old friends and neighbors who could also be people to reconnect and build strong friendships with.

Volunteering is another great way to get involved. Spending your time helping others could put your life and problems into perspective. It can help you realize all that you have to be thankful for in your life. One great organization to check into for volunteer opportunities is the Retired Senior Volunteer Program.

As a senior, you may have drifted away from your hobbies. Hobbies are great ways to keep motivated. Even if you have limited mobility, there are many hobbies to take part in. Some hobbies include gardening, writing, puzzles and knitting.

A final way to help prevent loneliness is by adopting a pet. Pets give unconditional love and are comforting creatures. Having a pet can even lower your blood pressure. Being around a pet can be calming, and caring for that pet can give you a routine.

Alleviating your loneliness can help you live a longer and happier life. It can even make the process of dying easier. So, as a senior, do something to combat your loneliness.

Middle-Of-The-Month Dinner/Dance

David Travis and The Hands of Time Band brought out two-steppers and line dancers all evening on Saturday, March 23, 2013 at the Eagleville Community Center. A wide variety of music, including bluegrass, country, and requests, kept the dance floor busy while others preferred to listen and watch. A wonderful mix was enjoyed by everyone!

Our youngest generation enjoyed an Easter Egg Hunt early in the evening, then joined mom, dad, and grandparents for dancing through out the night.

Home-cooking from spaghetti, white beans, soup, breads, and a wide variety of desserts, provided a great dinner before dancing and through out the night. Pizza and hot dogs were also available, along with tea, coffee, and a variety of colas.

Thanks to great community support, all our great volunteers, and a wonderful band for providing another successful and fun-filled evening for folks of all ages!! Also, thanks to WasteQuip, our sponsor for March, for their generous support.

Our next dinner/dance will be on Friday, April 19, 2013!! Dinner will be served from 5-6 pm, and music from 6:30-9:30 pm. Yates Brothers Band will provide music for everyone's dancing and listening pleasure!! Make plans to be there!!

And remember - there is Line Dance Class on Wednesdays beginning at 5:30 pm, so come learn to dance and enjoy dancing with everyone at these dances!

For more information, please contact Denise Richardson at (615)948-8445!

Lesson Learned

posted by a Facebook friend

I'm sure my Facebook friends are not as gullible as I, but I'll tell you a stupid thing I did just to share this "lesson learned".

A month ago I noticed on the internet this ad for a free sample of an amazing anti-wrinkle cream. Being 62 with wrinkles growing daily I thought I must try that. All I had to pay was $4 for shipping. I ordered the free sample; got it in a couple weeks; tried it a few days; still had wrinkles so just forgot about it. Last week I looked at my bank account on-line and in 30 days time Lift-Pro Company had charged me $352.72. Apparently, if I did not like the product I was supposed to return the unused portion within 14 days from ordering (same time I received) or be charged. I did raise enough hoo-hah to get back $180 (a customer courtesy they called it). But that was it. Expensive lesson learned!

Eagleville School's 4th Annual Fine Arts Night

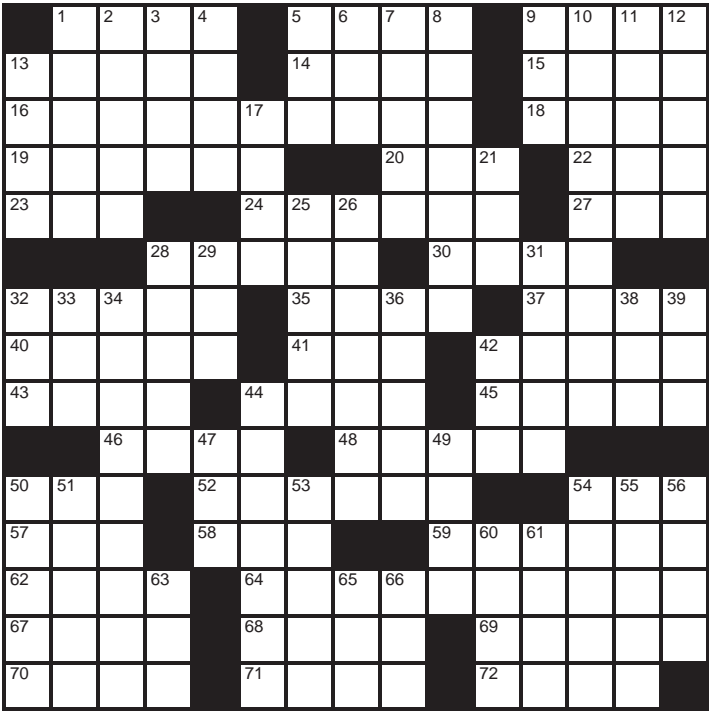

You are invited to Eagleville School's 4th annual Fine Arts Night! There will be artwork on display, crafts for sale, musical performances, shadow puppet theater, and concessions will be available. Come and celebrate the artistic work of our wonderful students here at Eagleville. Fine Arts Night is Thursday, April 18, 5-8 p.m. Please enter through the main entrance of the school.

Rockvale Middle School Literacy Fine Arts Night

Rockvale Middle School will host its annual Literacy Fine Arts Night on Thursday, April 18th from 5-8pm. All community members are welcome to come to this free event which displays many of the diverse talents of our students. Kids of all ages will love Mr. Rich the scientist's experiments. Storytellers, musical ensembles, and authors will delight. If you are wondering what to do with that new technology? Come to the session on how to use ebooks, tablets, and other devices for reading and audio books. For a small price, the choir will soothe you while you enjoy coffee and desserts. For more information or to volunteer, please call Marcie Leeman at 904-6745

Eagleville Fire & Rescue Department

The State of Tennessee has delivered some smoke detectors to the Eagleville Fire Dept. If you need any new smoke detectors please call Fire Chief Rick Parks at 615-804-7859. We will schedule a time for them to be installed in your home.

The First Baptist Church in Joelton, TN has a storm damage ministry. If you have trees, debris, or storm damage from the tornado that needs repair you may call them at 615-876-0527 to make arrangements for their assistance.

The Eagleville Fire Dept. can still use your help. We are taking applications for people to be trained as our firefighters and for people who want to help firefighters. There is still time for your application to be processed before an orientation class. You do not need to live inside the Eagleville City limits. You can live in the Eagleville area. If you are interested please call Fire Chief Rick Parks at 615-804-7859 or pick up an application at the Eagleville City Hall. We look forward to you joining our team.

We live in a great city!
Fire Chief Rick Parks

May 16-18 64th Annual Franklin Rodeo Barrels Out Of The Chutes The 64th annual Franklin Rodeo will barrel out of the chutes at 7 p.m. on May 16 -18 at the Williamson County Agricultural Expo Center providing fun for middle Tennesseans and a great fundraiser for the Franklin Noon Rotary Club. The rodeo is the largest pro rodeo in the state. Over 300 bull riders, barrel racers, bronco riders, ropers and wrestlers will compete for prize money and the coveted gold buckle. Three days of rodeo is more than horses and bulls. Enjoy great "fair" food, western fashions and clothing, and funny rodeo clowns. Other events precede the rodeo: the Roundup Party on May 3 at the Factory in Jamison Hall and the annual Franklin Rodeo Parade on May 11. The rodeo is an annual fundraiser for the Franklin Noon Rotary Club. Fans' presence at the rodeo raises funds for over 20 charities across the area. In the past 63 years, the rodeo has raised over $2 million for charities. For more information, visit www.franklinrodeo.com.

Jun 8 "DUKES OF HAZZARD" CAST COMES TO NASHVILLE Several generations of "Dukes of Hazzard" fans will gather on Saturday, June 8 at Cooter's Place to celebrate "Dukes of Hazzard Fan Fair" with the entire cast of the show. Electronic Recycling Program

Employees of the Eagleville Police and Fire Departments will pick up old/broken televisions and computer equipment to transport to a recycling center in Murfreesboro. There will be no cost to City of Eagleville residents for this service.

Mayor Tune and the City Council recognized the need for this type of assistance, especially for senior citizens; as disposing of heavy televisions, computers and electronic equipment is not allowed at the local Rutherford County trash collection site in Eagleville.

Citizens can call Eagleville City Hall at 615-274-2922 to schedule a pickup.
Monday – Thursday: 8:00 am – 5:00 pm Friday: 8:00 am - noon

Free Oil Change!

The Eagleville Baptist Church Men's Ministry is offering free oil changes to single mothers & senior citizens who live in the Eagleville Community. If you have a genuine need for such a service, and believe that you may be eligible, please call the Church at 274.2925 to set up an appointment.

80TH BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

Wendell Warf, who celebrated his 80th Birthday, March 14th, was recently honored with a “very surprised” birthday party, by his family and friends. Approximately eighty guests gathered at the Eagleville Community Center on Saturday, March 16th with hopes of Wendell arriving, without any knowledge, he was to be honored. With the help of his daughter in law, Robin Warf, Wendell arrived at the Community Center on the pretense of looking for his granddaughter. Upon arrival, he was greeted with everyone singing “happy birthday”. His wife, Mary Ann, had planned for several months for this special birthday celebration and with success; Wendell was completely surprised, and is still recovering from the shock that this could happen without his knowledge.

Among his many gifts and cards, from his family and friends, Wendell received special birthday wishes from the White House in Washington, Michelle Obama; a card and a United States Flag that had flown over the Capital from U. S. Senator Bob Corker. He was also honored with two birthday cakes, instead of the traditional, one.

A special recognition and introduction of Wendell’s family members, to the guest was given by Mary Ann Warf. All present, enjoyed a barbecue meal, cake and ice cream and an afternoon of listening and dancing to music provided by Bo Bohannon, Wayne Griggs, John Carrington, Brenda and Steve Fry.
