Songwriters Night - A Great Success

On January 17, 2004 the audience at the "Songwriters" concert received a true treat. The Eagleville Football Booster Club with the help of Tim Fisher, Ken Harrell and Dewayne Mize sponsored an evening of songs to benefit the football programs at Eagleville. Preparations began some months before and on Saturday the 17th accelerated as coaches and players readied the gym, raised and decorated the stage complete with greenery donated by the Coop, and set up the sound system and lights. Promptly at 7:00 p.m., with bleachers full of fans, Dewayne Mize began the program, introducing Trey and Brandi Lambert who led the group and prayer and then performed two songs. Trey is the pastor of Eagleville United Methodist Church. Other performers and songwriters included Bill Vaughn, Phillip Carter II, from Mississippi, Courtney Cowart, and Kayla Harrell who sang a song her father wrote. Dewayne Mize, Mindy Karper and Morgan Brooks took the stage and sang a number of songs each had written. Everyone enjoyed their performances and contributions to the evening. A brief intermission allowed everyone to stretch their legs and grab a cup of coffee.

The second portion of the show featured outstanding talent as well. Ken Harrell, Mark Alan Springer, A.J. Masters, Tammy Pierce and Ben Daniel, all nationally known and respected songwriters and musicians treated the audience to an extraordinary show. Taking turns in round robin fashion, the hits began and continued for close to two hours. Along with the songs came the stories behind the hits as these talented musicians shared their stories of inspiration. In relaxed style they made friends with the audience as they related stories and experiences of the music business and their path in the pro— Continue on Page 3

What Does That Hornet's Nest Predict?

Last September while checking on some fencing, William King found a big hornet's nest in the woods near his home. Since there are always hunters in the area, he kept his eye on it throughout the fall, afraid it might get shot down and torn up. But as the leaves turned to orange and gold and eventually fell, the nest remained.

William's children and grandchildren saw the nest for the first time on Halloween night as he took them on a hayride which ended up with a spooky walk through the woods. With flashlights in hand, they viewed the nest and the hornets in action.

William waited to retrieve the nest until after cold weather came and the hornets had left. The nest was about 17 feet up in a sweet gum tree and was built around a small limb which made it easy to cut down with a long pruning tool. Luckily, he found only a few dead hornets remaining in the nest. Had there been any alive, they surely would have been "mad as hornets!"

One question William has, "what does it tell us about the kind of winter we will have when a hornet's nest is found 17 feet off the ground?" The Foxfire Book, Volume I, which contains an article about forecasting winter by insects says, "it will be a bad winter if hornets and yellow jackets build their nest heavier and closer to the ground than usual." William's nest is heavy and thickly constructed, but at 17 feet off the ground would still indicate a mild winter according to The Foxfire Book.

Still others reason that a high nest predicts a severe winter with deep snows. Since we are headed right into the middle of the winter season, we'll soon find out which opinion is correct!

Say Goodbye

You only have a couple more weeks to view the entrance signs coming into Eagleville from North and South on Hwy 41A. Each of the old signs will be replaced by smaller but much more appealing signs. The City of Eagleville Beautification Committee has been working in an effort to complete this tasks and is very pleased with the design of the new signs. The Very Idea in Murfreesboro provided us with the best deal. Soon, the Volunteer Fire Department will be removing the old signs, so time to say “Goodbye”.

James E. Fagan

By Connie Fagan Witte

James E. & Jean Fagan

James E. Fagan is the youngest of three children of Owen Elliott and Mamie Lou Dean Fagan. He was born 80 years ago on Leap Year, February 29, 1924, in Caney Springs in Marshall Co. His brother Edwin and sister Dorothy Dean are now passed away. His family moved to Eagleville when he was three years old and he started in first grade at Eagleville School when he was five.

He has fond memories of his childhood in Eagleville during the Depression of the 1930s. He said he and his friends Bill "Hot" Dyer, Urban Little, Robert "Pint" Gillespie, Junior Bellenfant, and Russell Little were reminiscent of the kids in the "Our Gang" movies. A favorite activity during the hot summer was to go to the swimming hole down Cheatham Springs Road where they'd lay their clothes on the bank and go skinny-dipping. One day a couple of girls came along, trapping the boys in the cold spring water for quite a while. By the time the girls finally left, the boys were so cold their lips were turning blue.

Looking back on his boyhood experiences, he thinks Eagleville was one of the best small towns in Tennessee. Kids had fun, entertained themselves, played pranks, but there was nothing going on for which they had to be ashamed. He and Hot Dyer decided they were going to make a lot of money by catching mink and muskrat along the Harpeth River. They would have to get up very early to check their traps before school. Hot needed help to wake up, so he would tie a rope around his leg and run it out of his upstairs bedroom window. James would come and pull on the rope to wake Hot without disturbing anyone else. This venture lasted a few weeks before the boys gave it up without ever catching anything.

Eagleville in the 1930s was a bustling place. There was a big, beautiful two-story hotel with a balcony located on what is now the vacant lot behind the Dairy Bar. Some of the schoolteachers stayed there. The McCord brothers had a furniture store. The first elevator James ever rode was in that store, a manually powered pulley freight elevator. At Tomlin's Restaurant, referred to as the pie wagon because it was a long, narrow building, one could get a good egg or baloney sandwich for a nickel. There were six grocery stores, four garages, two banks, two dentists, a physician, a barbershop, and a hardware store. One of the grocery stores had a soda fountain. There was also an ice house/pool hall/bowling alley (with just one bowling lane). The ice would arrive from Murfreesboro in 100 lb. blocks and be stored in a big walk-in cooler. In those days most people had iceboxes, not electric refrigerators, and would buy ice for a penny a pound. There was a creamery and feed mill run by A. P. Elmore. Mr. Elmore was also the magistrate for the area. The road to Murfreesboro and the one to Allisoma were blacktop roads, but the ones to Shelbyville and to Nashville were only paved for about two blocks before turning into gravel roads.

Just about every evening all the kids around would gather in Dr. J. E. Stephenson's yard to play. There would be ten or twelve kids including Pauline and Jane Stephenson and the Redmond twins, Margaret and Marjorie, playing kick-the-can or hide-n-seek. He doesn't know how Dr. and Mrs. Stephenson put up with all the kids always playing in the yard and running through the house, but they didn't seem to mind. When he was about twelve, he and some of the other boys would go into Murfreesboro almost every Saturday. They would sometimes ride on the milk truck but usually Dr. Stephenson would take them. For 25 cents they could spend all day in Murfreesboro. They would go to the Roxie Theater and pay a dime for the movie, a nickel for popcorn, a nickel for a soft drink, and usually get a candy bar with the last nickel.

Entertainment came mostly from school or church activities and whatever kids could find to do. There was no TV and not many radios. He and several other boys made their own crystal set radios. By stringing a long wire between two trees for an antenna and wearing headphones because the sound was so weak, he was able to get one radio station and that was WSM in Nashville. He could listen to the Grand Ole Opry. He was active in school sports playing basketball and baseball, was in a number of school plays, was president of one of the two high school literary societies, and president of his senior class. Bill Wheeler was the principal when James graduated from Eagleville School in 1942.

WWII was in progress when he graduated. He went to school in Dickson to learn to be a machinist. He was sent to Maryland to work at Engineering and Research Corp. on airplane propellers for the war effort. That is where he met his wife, Jean. He wanted to serve his country further and enlisted in the Army. He did his basic training in Florida to prepare to fight the Japanese in the tropics, but instead was sent to the cold climates of Germany and France where he fought on the front line in the 28th Infantry Division. He was in Germany in 1945 when he received the telegram saying his daughter, Connie, was born. As a WWII veteran he was awarded several medals including the Bronze Star.

When he got out of the service, he returned to Eagleville for a while. Then he and his family moved to Maryland where Jean worked at The National Geographic Society and he worked for Litton Industries as a manufacturing engineer. After about 15 years, they decided to make a lifestyle change and moved back to Tennessee, just down the road in Chapel Hill, where they built a home and started a beef cattle farm. They retired from farming about 12 years ago, and now reside once again in Eagleville. James and Jean are active in the Eagleville Church of Christ, and Jean is also active in the homemakers club. Until a few years ago, both helped with the Chittlin Supper and he was involved with the Lions Club and their activities.

This is a very special year for James and Jean, as they will be celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary on March 19. Always a close family, their only child, Connie, married and stayed nearby in Murfreesboro with her husband Larry Witte and two daughters, Laura and Lisa. Laura and Lisa have many wonderful recollections of the fun and adventures experienced with their grandparents on their farm. Now Laura and Lisa are grown; both are college graduates; both are married; and Laura has a son, Justin, making Jim and Jean great-grandparents.

A very young James with brother, Edwin and

FCE Club of Eagleville

Jean Fagan, Juanita Carlton and Delores McCord, along with Phyllis Hedge assemble cookie plates for known here for their cookout for the two Veterans Homes in the community each year, the annual Home Economics Award for the outstanding Senior in Home Economics at Eagleville School, monthly contributions to the Eagleville Community Chest, making cancer caps and walker totes, and special workshops for the community. Also, each year members make special homemade goodies and assemble nearly 50 Christmas plates for the sick and shut-ins in the community.

Rockvale FCE Club invited Eagleville to participate in their Flag Stepping Stone Workshop. Here Nina Merritt works to get it just right.

The Eagleville FCE (Family and Community Education) Club was established in 1935 as the Eagleville Home Demonstration Club. It has also been named Extension Homemakers Club. Even with the name changes, the goals have remained the same.

The mission of FCE Clubs is strengthening individuals and communities through:

- EDUCATION: providing curriculum for members to help adults, youth and children to fulfill their potential as viable, contributing members of society;
- LEADERSHIP: providing a structure for leadership learning and for practice to develop confidence for leadership positions;
- ACTION: providing opportunities for individual, families and communities to join them in making a difference in our home, our community and our world.

FCE Clubs work jointly with the University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service to accomplish its goals.

The Eagleville FCE Club meets on the Second Tuesday of each month at 10:00 a.m. unless announced otherwise. It meets at the Eagleville Community Center. Following the meeting, members share potluck lunch.

The Club participates in county, district, state and national projects. It is best

FCE Club of Rockvale

Once known as Home Demonstration Club, we now go by a more sophisticated name "Family and Community Education or FCE".

No longer just involved in sewing, canning and cooking, FCE clubs are providing opportunities for individuals, families and communities to join them in making a difference in the homes, communities and even the world.

There are twelve FCE Clubs in Rutherford County with approximately 170 members. The clubs work jointly with the University of Tennessee Agricultural Extension Service to accomplish its goals. Some of the goals accomplished by the Rockvale FCE club are listed below:

- Nutrition Day – Each year in February we participated in this event held at the Rutherford County Agriculture Center to emphasize health and nutrition. We arrange to have a qualified speaker such as a registered dietitian along with nutritious foods to sample. This is always well attended by all the clubs in the county.
- Inner City Easter Egg Hunt – An inner city school is selected and children are bussed to the Agriculture Center grounds for the Easter Egg Hunt. Each club provides a certain number of eggs. Club members hide eggs and prizes are given.
- Domestic Violence Program – In November 2003, all clubs gave items for the brand new Domestic Violence Center. Items ranged from a vacuum cleaner, small kitchen appliances to cleaning supplies. The Rockvale FCE Club gave the center a microwave oven, presented by Jane Jackson, Club President (photo enclosed).
- 4-H Clubs of Rutherford County
- Our club gives a donation each year to the 4-H clubs. For the last two years we have helped financially to send 3-4 members to camp in Columbia.
- We sew wheel chair bags for local nursing homes. This year we delivered the bags to Community Care of Rutherford County.
- We also sew and stuff small animals for the children who receive inoculations at the County Health Department. These stuffed toys helps to soothe a frightened child.
- Donate to the Rockvale Fire Department each year.

- Thanksgiving Baskets for Shut-Ins – Each November we bake cookies, bake brownies and add fresh fruits and candies to fill our baskets. We deliver these to the elderly and shut-ins. (Photo enclosed)

- We adopt a Senior citizen – Each year we adopt a senior citizen, remembering him/her on birthdays, Christmas and other special events. Included is a photo of our adopted senior for 2003. Miss Vera Covington, formerly of the Rockvale community. She is shown receiving one of our Thanksgiving baskets.

Adopted Senior Citizen for 2003, Miss Vera Covington, receives a Thanksgiving basket from Rockvale FCE Club. Miss Vera lived and taught school at Rockvale Craft workshop with Eagleville and Rockvale FCE Clubs.

- Most of our money comes from bake sales and doing concessions at local auctions. This year we grilled a lot of hamburgers and hotdogs for two auctions. We also make a lot of pies.

These are just a few of the things we do; the list goes on and on. We are a busy club but we still find time for fun at Camp in Columbia where we do all kinds of crafts and attend educational sessions. Then, the State Convention is held at a different location each year. Here you meet FCE members from all over the state.

If you would like to join FCE club, call the Rutherford County Agriculture Extension Office at 615-898-7710 for more information about a club nearest you. It's very satisfying to know you've helped make someone's life a little more enjoyable. YOU'LL BE GLAD YOU JOINED FCE!!!

Celebrated Their
50th Wedding Anniversary*

There was an intimate luncheon in their honor on the eleventh of January at “Through the Grape Vine” located in Murfreesboro. In attendance were their children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and their extended families. It was an enjoyable day filled with good food, the love of family, and a walk down memory lane. Congrats John and Judy... here’s to the next 50.

Clare Noel Bowman

Keith and Jo Beth Bowman of Christiana announce the birth of a daughter, Clare Noel at 10:36 am, December 18. Born at Middle Tennessee Medical Center. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 14 ounces. Her grandparents are Edwin and Pat Nance and Rickey and Deborah Bowman all of Rockvale. Clare has one big sister Macey Jo, age 5.

If you would like to announce, at no cost, your wedding, engagement, new birth, anniversary, birthday, memorial or any important date that you would like to share with the community, mail to Eagleville Times, P.O. Box 72, Eagleville, TN 37060 or e-mail to times@eaglevilletn.com. If you have questions or comments, feel free to call (615) 274-6313. We would like to continue to receive military photographs throughout the year for anyone that didn’t get the pictures in on time for this past Veteran’s Day feature. When sending these photographs, be sure to include the full name, branch of service, rank, date served and war served, if any.

James Samuel Read, age 86, of Unionville, Tenn., died Sunday, Jan. 18, 2004, in Franklin. Elder Read was a native of Rutherford County and the son of the late Basil Dewitt and Fannie Ruth Heath Read. He was retired from the State of Tennessee Department of Transportation and a retired Primitive Baptist Minister. Elder Read was preceded in death by his first wife, Mrs. May Read, who died in 1989. Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Josephine Gatlin Read, Unionville, Tenn.; daughters, Laura Ruth Smith, of Unionville, Tenn., and Sandra R. Gillespie, of Memphis, Tenn.; son, James (Dee) Read, of Cortlanda, Ill.; brother, Harold Wayne Read, of Montgomery, Ala.; nine grandchildren; 12 great grandchildren.

Lorene Puckett Brown, 83, of Rockvale died Friday, Jan. 16, 2004, at Middle Tennessee Medical Center. A native and lifelong resident of Rutherford County, Mrs. Brown was the daughter of the late Willie and Maggie Holden Puckett. She attended Middle Tennessee State University and retired from Palmer Produce as a bookkeeper. She was a member of First Baptist Church. She was preceded in death by her brothers, E. J. Puckett and Herman Puckett. Mrs. Brown is survived by her husband, James A. Brown of Rockvale.

Thelma Sims Comer, 92, of Murfreesboro died Thursday, Jan. 15, 2004, at MTMC. A native of Christiana, Mrs. Comer was the daughter of the late Jordan D. and Pauline Powell Sims. She was a retired teacher with the Rutherford County School System and also worked in special education in Davidson County. She was a member of the First Baptist Church. She was married to the late Robert Reed Comer and also was preceded in death by daughter Caroline Comer Wells and sister Janice Jennings. Survivors include daughter and son-in-law Polly Comer and James Seth Tidwell of Rockvale; grandchildren, Connie Gladden, Jimmy Tidwell, James and Amy Wells, Jamie and Phillip Robertson and Donna and Joe Morris; great-grandchildren Connor and Caroline Gladden, Molly and Emily Wells, McKenzie and Katie Robertson and Zachary and Leslie Morris; brother-in-law Paul S. Jennings of Christiana; nephew Paul E. and his wife Suzanne Jennings of Christiana.

Harry M. Patillo, 85, of Eagleville, died Tuesday Jan. 13, 2004, at Northcrest Medical Center in Springfield. A native of Murfreesboro, he was the son of the late Thomas and Dora Dill Patillo. He is survived by daughter Charlotte (Jim) Gray, of Springfield; and son John Patillo, of Eagleville; and grandchildren Deborah Gray, Michael (Rachel) Gray and Johnathan Gray. Mr. Patillo was preceded in death by his wife, Lilliam Webb Paillo, who died in 1994. He was a member of the Eagleville Church of Christ. Mr. Patillo began first grade at MTSU, then called the Normal School, moved to Central High School, then called the Training School, and then on to Smyrna High, where he graduated in 1934. After serving in the Air Force in World War II in the chemical warfare division between 1942 and 1946, he was discharged, having attained the rank of sergeant. He was postmaster of the Eagleville post office for 35 years. Mr. Patillo said the biggest changes in the postal system were the zip codes. During the last 10 years before his retirement, he became a training officer and was sent all over Tennessee, giving instructions to new postmasters in the area. After retirement, Mr. Patillo spent many hours working on his farm and raising black angus cattle. He was an active member of the Eagleville Lions Club and he was the only active charter member.

Hailey Rain Faircloth-Shutes, infant, died Tuesday, Jan. 13, 2004. She was the daughter of James Richard Shutes and Ashley Noel Faircloth, both of Smyrna. In addition to her parents, she is survived by grandparents Dorris and Phylis Faircloth, both of Murfreesboro, Michael “Bo” and Regina Jacobs, both of Unionville, and Richard M. Shutes, of Texas; great-grandparents Florence Strickland Hammock, of Smyrna, Ga., and Wilfred J. LaFrance, of Unionville; numerous aunts, uncles and cousins.

Mildred Yvonne Gordon, 55, of Woodbury died Friday, Jan. 9, 2004, after an extended illness. A native of Shelbyville, Mrs. Gordon was the daughter of Ruby and Herlie Gilbert Parsons of Unionville. She was a homemaker and a devoted mother. She was preceded in death by her son, Clinton Graham Gordon. Survivors include her parents; her husband, Charles Gordon Jr.; daughter Robin Yvette Baker of Unionville; brother Derrel (Brenda) Parsons of Shelbyville; and numerous nieces and nephews.

William Roy Trail, 58, of Allen Avenue in Murfreesboro, died Tuesday, Jan. 6, 2004, at Vanderbilt University Medical Center. A native of Coffee County, he was the son of the late Earl Dayton and Audie Mae Brown Trail. He is survived by wife Maggie King Trail; son Garry Whitley, of Murfreesboro; daughters Tammy Adams, of Auburntown, and Rita Ladd, of Rockvale; brother Billy Trail, of Murfreesboro; sisters Earlene Bush, of Murfreesboro, and Flora Mae Messick, of Shelbyville; grandchildren Danah Whitley, Ashley and Daniel Ladd, B.J. and Brianna Adams. Mr. Trail attended Woodbury Road Baptist Church and was founder and owner of R & M Surplus Sales.

Billy Lehn Tipton, 59, met his Lord Sunday Jan. 4 after a long history of complications with juvenile diabetes. He was the son of late Joe Max and Addie Deakle Tipton of Mobile, Ala. He is survived by his wife Paula, of Murfreesboro; three daughters: Cassie, of Little Rock, Ark., Jennifer (Steve) Tittel, of Misawa, Japan, and Mary, of Murfreesboro; son Paul of Ann Arbor, Mich.; and grandson John Samuel Tittel. He is also survived by two sisters, Pamela Moak, of Alabama, and Angela (Rick) Jeffers, of Georgia; and brother, James O. Tipton, of Connecticut, and nieces and nephews. He had been employed by the Murfreesboro Police Department for the past six years.

Robert Corey Ford, 22, died Saturday, Jan. 3, 2003, in Hickman County. Mr. Ford was born in Williamson County and made his home in Hickman County, where he was a self-employed carpenter. Survivors include his father, Ronnie Ford of Delton, Mich.; his mother, Phyllis White Ford of Lyles; a daughter, Angelique Corner of Grand Rapids, Mich.; three brothers, Jarett Ford and Michael Ford, both of Delton, and Jessie Ford of Rapid City, S.D.; a sister, Stephanie Ford of Rapid City; his maternal grandparents, Sarah and Gilbert Newell of College Grove and John and Betty White of Franklin; and his paternal grandparents, Gilbert and Dorothy Ford of Brentwood.

Catrina S. Davis, 25, died Jan. 2 and was a resident of Nashville. She is survived by her son Chandler Tashawn Davis; mother Mary D. Davis, of Rockvale; father Harry (LeVette) Ransom, of Eagleville; sisters Kimberly Ranson and Katria Howes, both of Murfreesboro; brothers Kevin Davis, of Rockvale, Michael Davis, of Nashville, and Jimmy Ransom, of Murfreesboro; grandmother Mary B. Davis, of Murfreesboro, and other relatives and friends.

Dorothy Gryner, 73, of Murfreesboro, died Thursday, Jan. 1, 2004. A native of Wynnburg, Tenn., Mrs. Gryner was a member of the Church of Christ and a devoted wife, mother and grandmother. She was the daughter of the late James Alton and Lola Mae Burress Dyer. She also was preceded in death by brothers Cecil, William and Walter Lawrence Dyer and a sister, Eula May Dyer. College Grove Senior Center Offers Classes for the Artists Within

College Grove Senior Enrichment Center offers a variety of on-going art classes from a continuing series in Watercolors and Oil Painting to new classes in Rubber Stamping, Wood Carving, Stained Glass and Photo 101 beginning in January and February. "The center has an ongoing commitment to offering arts and crafts instruction," said Cherry Ralston, Center Program Director. "Our arts room is well set up with kilns for ceramics, several pieces of equipment for woodworking from lathes to band saws to a variety of materials for other class offerings from drawing to quilting."

Photo 101, a new class for all interested in photography, will begin at the Center on February 9th from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. The two-hour class will be taught by John Hampton of J. Hampton Photography in Arrington, TN and last for six-weeks. Students will need to bring their own cameras and film to class.

"Hampton will be accessing the student's needs from learning how to use their particular camera or how to take a better picture to even including aspects of digital cameras and using computers to improve your photos," said Cherry Ralston, Center Program Director. "I understand he wants to take one hour for class discussion and instruction and then have the final hour spent setting up and taking pictures."

These classes are available for both members and non-members and the interested public is invited. A class fee will be charged with additional costs for film and processing. If seeking more information about this or any other program at the Center, please call the Center at 615-368-7093. The center is open from 8 am-3 pm Monday thru Friday.

By Jane Perrell Shelton

- Jane Jackson graciously entertained friends for a luncheon on New Years Eve Day. Afterward they enjoyed playing Rook for a couple of hours. Present were Frances McDonald, Alberta Hedge, Juanita Carlton and Frances Edwards. Everyone had a wonderful visit in Jane's lovely home.
- A New Years Eve party was hosted by Jimmy and Jean Lamb and held at the Eagleville Community Center. There were seventy plus in attendance.
There were lots of card games, food and a good time enjoyed by all, until after the stroke of midnight.
- Congratulations to Char & Tara Taylor Cochran on the birth of a little girl Sara McKenzie Cochran. She was born January 5. She is welcomed by big sister Taylor and grandparents Johnny & Peggy Taylor.

- Congratulations to Jennifer Lamb, Beth Holt and Brandon Elmore for making the Dean's list at MTSU for the fall semester.
- Michael McClaran was named teacher of the year for Eagleville High School. Congratulations Michael!
- Get well wishes go out to Richard Anderson, a 1956 graduate of Eagleville High School. Richard recently suffered a stroke. He is doing better now.
- Welcome Virginia Turner back to Eagleville. She has built a new home in the Eagle Crest Division and moved back here from Nashville.
- John Perrell and Jane Shelton recently visited with their brother Whack Perrell in Unionville.

Legend of St. Valentine

Every February 14th, candy, flowers, and gifts are exchanged between loved ones, all in the name of St. Valentine. But who is this mysterious Saint and why do we celebrate this holiday?

Following is 2 different legends that I've found... Enjoy!

—The first legend, and perhaps the best known, began in Rome, when the Emperor, Claudius II, was involved in many bloody and unpopular campaigns. “Claudius the Cruel” as he was called, was having a difficult time getting soldiers to join his military leagues. He believed that the reason was that Roman men did not want to leave their loves or families. So, he cancelled all marriages and engagements in Rome!

The good Saint Valentine, who was a priest in Rome, in the year 269 A.D., together with his friend Saint Marius, defied Claudius and continued to perform marriages for young lovers in secret.

When Valentine's actions were discovered, he was sentenced to be beaten to death with clubs and to have his head cut off.

But while in prison, it is believed that Valentine fell in love with a young girl, who may have been his jailor's daughter, who visited him during his confinement. Before his death on the 14th day of February, it is alleged that he wrote her a letter, which he signed: " From your Valentine"

In 496 A.D., Pope Gelasius set aside February 14 to honor St. Valentine.

—Another legend says that Valentine's Day started in ancient Rome, on February 14th, a holiday to honor Juno. Juno was the Queen of the Roman Gods and Goddesses. The Romans also knew her as the Goddess of women and marriage. Then, the following day, February 15th, began the Feast of Lupercalia.

In those days, the lives of young boys and girls were strictly separate. However, on the eve of the festival of Lupercalia, the names of Roman girls were written on slips of paper and placed into jars. Each young man would draw a girl's name from the jar and would then be partners for the duration of the festival with the girl whom he chose. Sometimes the pairing of the children lasted an entire year, and often, they would fall in love and would later marry.

In the United States, Miss Esther Howland is given credit for sending the first valentine cards. Commercial valentines were introduced in the 1800's and now ... well .. you know the rest....

Margaret's Helpful Hints

- For hands covered with grease or paint, sawdust can work magic. While your hands are still wet, rub them with sawdust and watch them come clean before your eyes.
- Test the power of baking powder by putting a small amount in some hot water. If it bubbles, it's fresh.
- Keep bathroom drawers neat by putting plastic silverware trays in them. Their great for holding lots of small things.
- When you break a light bulb in its socket, it can be very difficult to unscrew it for replacement. Try jamming a bar of soap, a large cork or a piece of raw potato in to the base of the bulb and then twisting it. The broken bulb should come out with no problem.

SUGAR COOKIES

- 2 cups brown sugar
- 3 1/2 cups flour, sifted
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/2 cup butter
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 tablespoon baking soda

Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Add cream of tartar and baking soda. Work in the flour. Form dough into rolls and wrap in waxed paper. Refrigerate in a coved pan up to 2 weeks. Slice and bake on cookie sheet at 350 for 7 to 10 minutes.

JACKIE HANKE

POTATO SOUP

- 3 medium red potatoes, cubed
- 2 cups water
- 1 small onion
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 3 tablespoons flour, all-purpose
- 3 cups milk
- 1 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1 cup cheddar cheese, shredded
- 1 cup ham, cooked & cubed
- Black pepper

Boil potatoes until tender. Drain but keep the liquid. Melt butter in a saucepan over medium heat. Stir in chopped onion until tender. Add flour and pepper to saucepan.. Cook for 3 to 4 minutes. Gradually add potatoes and 1 cup of liquid from drained potatoes, milk and sugar. Stir in cheese and ham and cook over low heat for 30 minutes, stirring frequently.

CITY HALL

For one year The City of Eagleville has been fortunate to work with City Planning, Tennessee Economic Development. Our City Planner, Bryan Collins, has been counseling and teaching the Eagleville Planning Commission. For the first time in the City's history, these members have achieved the State certificate in Educational Planning for the year 2004.

Among the many areas of study, current concentration revolves around reviewing sub-division regulations and zoning. This month begins the first installment about zoning and its importance to our community.

"Our communities are what we make them." This was the opening sentence and theme of President John F. Kennedy's message to Congress on March 9, 1961. The President continued, "we as a Nation have before us the opportunity and responsibility to remold our cities, to improve our patterns of community development, and to provide for the housing needs of all segments of our population. Meeting these goals will contribute to the Nation's economic recovery and its long-term economic growth."

President Kennedy's message came at a time when communities throughout the country were experiencing massive changes from a rural to urban type environments. It was noted, though, that communities were struggling with blight and decay, and Congress was exploring ways to grant federal monies through urban renewal programs to revitalize these blighted areas.

President Kennedy called for "establishment of an effective and comprehensive planning process by embracing all major activities, both public and private, which shape the community. Such a process must be democratic – for only when the citizens of a community have participated in selecting the goals which will shape their environment can they be expected to support the actions necessary to accomplish these goals."

President Kennedy in 1961 recognized that in order to accomplish these goals, the community must participate in selecting goals and then taking actions necessary to accomplish these goals. As a result, hundreds of thousands of communities throughout the nation were able to successfully revitalize much-needed areas and encourage economic growth and community pride.

Today, Eagleville city leaders are looking for ways to encourage economic growth and improve the general quality of life in Eagleville through revitalization and land use planning, while preserving the natural resources and charm of the community. City leaders have been reviewing and discussing ways that they can approach their goals. City leaders have immediately identified that in order to achieve any goal, they must have the positive support of the main element that makes the community a community: the people.

Next month: more about the components of a Zoning Ordinance.

Important dates for City Council election:

- March 19th – Last day to register to vote in the Eagleville City Election/
- March 31st through April 15th – Early voting at the Election Commission, Public Square, Murfreesboro, Monday through Friday, noon to 7 p.m.; Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.
- April 13th – The last day for receiving a request for an absentee ballot.
- April 20th – Election Day, Eagleville Community Center, 7 a.m. To 7 p.m.

Hopefully, each of you will be exercising your right to vote. You are a wonderful people.

Hawaii - Land of Paradise

By Joy True

Don had wanted to go the Hawaii for a long time. As for me, I was willing to wait for a bridge to be built. As fate would have it, he booked a tour while I was shopping in a craft store beside the "AAA." He picked Christmas as the time to go. Packing shorts, sleeveless tops and swimsuits in December was weird, even for us.

The plane ride was not as tiring as I thought it would be. When we arrived, we stayed so busy, we didn't have time to think about getting tired.

The highlight of our trip was taking a helicopter ride over Kilauea, an active volcano on the island of Hawaii. Our pilot was a retired military helicopter instructor from Alabama who still had his Southern accent. Don, being an Alabama and Bear Bryant fan paid off. We got an extended ride and the pilot got as close to the volcano as was safe. Seeing the hot lava shoot up out of the mountain and watching it move slowly down the slopes was breathtaking. Going down inside a volcano that, over the years, had changed into a rain forest was also exciting.

There were forty-one persons on our tour. We made friends with a couple from New York. Even though they were Jewish, they had no problem with our praying at mealtime.

On Maui, we took another helicopter ride. Our pilot was from Portugal and not very talkative. Needless to say, I fell asleep and missed most of the scenery.

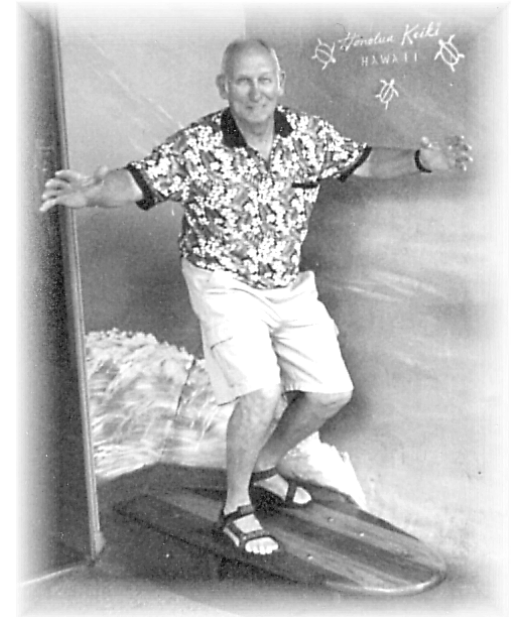

Seeing chickens, hogs, donkeys and house cats roaming wild was unbelievable. Birds were everywhere. They would try to eat right off your plate if you were seated in an open restaurant.

It was a short fun-filled twelve days that we will always remember.

Don & Joy True with E.L. & Hy Brot of White Plains, NY while touring in Lahaina, Maui.

Molly Burrows - Selected for the “People To People Student Ambassador’s Program”

My name is Molly Burrows. I am currently in the tenth grade and attend Eagleville High School. I was recently nominated to join the People To People Student Ambassador’s Program. After the interview process, I was selected and invited to join them on this summers program. This June, along with other students chosen from middle Tennessee I will embark on a twenty-two day trip to New Zealand and Australia.

During this trip I will be introduced to their government officials, as well as hear how their government runs and interacts with the people. While I am there I will also get to go to tribal communities and meet the people in them while I learn about their cultures and beliefs. Along with the government and tribal histories I will personally get to learn and see how these different cultures live today while going to their schools, and staying with a family for a portion of the trip. Aside from the education and knowledge I will gain, I will be given the chance to take in the continents beautiful scenery. I will participate in many activities that will build my confidence, help me meet others, and take part in leadership and following roles. This may well be the life experience that alters my path.

People to People Ambassadors are carefully interviewed and evaluated before their acceptance into the program. We are excited to share our experiences with schools and civic clubs when we return. May colleges and High Schools offer credits for Student Ambassadors because of the remarkable education and experiences they receive.

Because of my plans to pursue a law degree, I feel the experiences I receive as a Student ambassador will help enrich my knowledge and understanding of the world around me. As a person of this generation, I am the future of this great country and feel this experience will make me a better person and in turn - a better citizen.

The program tuition is $5,300, which includes transportation, meals, accommodations and educational activities. I am sending out these letters asking for sponsorship donations from family, friends, Civic Organizations and local businesses. I have also applied for one of the few People to People grants that are awarded each year, but that is not a certainty. Is it possible for you to assist me by making a contribution? I would be happy to give a speech and share my journal, photographs and experiences with my contributors upon my return, if requested.

Checks my be made payable to the People to People Program in care of Molly Burrows. Your generous contribution will enable me to share in this wonderful opportunity.

Thank you in advance for you gracious consideration and support.

*Sincerely,
Molly Burrows, Student Ambassador*

Eagleville High School Homecoming

January 23, 2004 the Homecoming games, dance, and crowning of the king and queen ended a week long, spirit filled competition among the high school classes at Eagleville School. Dress up days included Pajama Day, Disney Character Day, and school colors day. A pep rally on Friday featured games and competitions, and the hallways at the school showcased the efforts of students to decorate according to the theme, Hollywood. At 5:00 p.m. the Homecoming Court, teachers, parents, students and family members gathered at the gym to watch the crowning of the king and queen. Freshman escort was Chad Greene and freshman attendant was Kari Null. The sophomore escort was Ricky Brooksher and the attendant was Ashley Bolden. The junior escort was William Vanortwick and the attendant was Jamie Smith. Senior escorts were Lliam McFarlane, Josh Bolden, and Nathan Robinson. Senior attendants were Emily Porter, Amber Duncan, and Canetha Thompson. Kindergarten student Miller Armstrong carried the king's scepter and Anna Hayes, also a kindergarten student carried the queen's crown. The emcee was Bruce Haley and the director was Amanda Vaupel. Mayor Barham led the crowd in singing the Alma Mater. After the court was introduced, the winner of the weeklong competition was announced and the sophomore class won. The Queen and King were then announced and crowned by last year's king, Brandon Emamalie and last years queen, Megan Alcorn. Congratulations to King Nathan Robinson and Queen Amber Duncan.

Following the court, the Jr. ROTC presented the colors and basketball player Jamie Smith sang the National Anthem. The Lady Eagles took the court and won a decisive victory over Culleoka. The Varsity Eagles played a competitive game but were unable to outscore Culleoka. They lost by 5 points. The cheerleading squad performed at half time of the boy's game and did a great job. The middle school and high school band under the direction of Kelly Medford played throughout the game. A dance for students and alumni followed the games and students and chaperones alike enjoyed the music and fun.

Thank you to Ms. Caukin and the student council for all their work on the homecoming events and the homecoming court. We appreciate all the efforts of the Student Council throughout the school year.

Color Guard presenting the colors before the game were Robert Maxwell, Raymond Kilfoyle, Kevin Sifers, and Robby

SCHOLASTIC BOOK FAIR AT EAGLEVILLE SCHOOL MARCH 1 – 5

My kindergarten daughter came home the other day from school, more excited than after a party, field trip or craft day. She carefully opened her book bag and brought out The Quiet Cricket proudly saying, "my library book". She opened the pages carefully and solemnly told me not to tear them or leave the book where the cat might chew it. She pointed out when it was due back at school. This was her first library book from school.

Eagleville School is proud to have two library facilities in the school complex. The elementary library serves the pre-kindergarten through 5th grades. The high school library serves the middle and high school areas. In addition to having books, periodicals, and newspapers, the rooms are inviting places to spend time for students and faculty alike. The accelerated reader program benefits from the library facilities available at the school and from the support of the librarian Patti Smotherman and library aid, Ms. Collins.

As with any program, there is always room for one more book, or ten more books. To support the library and reading, the library sponsors two book fairs each school year. The next book fair is scheduled for March 1st through the 5th.

The Scholastic Book Fair will offer the most popular books and educational products for all ages, including the newest titles, award-winners, classics, and interactive products from more than 150 publishers. Parents, children, teachers and the entire community are invited to the Book Fair Treasure Hunt, the theme of the Fair.

The Scholastic Book Fair will be open each day from 7:30 to 3:00. On Tuesday, March 2, from 3:00 to 6:00, the Book Fair will feature a special Family Event with Guest Readers, Games, Prizes, and other fun! One of the Book Fair's primary goals is to help teachers build classroom libraries. Visitors to the Fair can check each teacher's Classroom Wish List, then purchase and donate a requested book, helping teachers develop a rich array of learning resources for community children. In addition, Eagleville School will use funds raised at the Book Fair to purchase essential library resources and books. To volunteer at the book fair or for more information please contact the school at 274-6336.

Eagleville PTO NEWS

By Dawne Davis, President

Eagleville families raised over $2000 for the Kids on Stage program at the 4th annual Chili supper and Silent Auction. Many, many thanks to everyone who donated items and purchased some great things! Special thanks to all the volunteers who helped pick up, set up and staff the silent auction - Debbie Emamalie, Janice Shanks, Tammy Burton, Vicki Jernigan and Angel Parker, along with the many teachers and PTO officers who worked hard to pull together our most well attended holiday supper/show yet.

We are especially grateful to the Volunteer Fire Dept. for providing a "ride" for Santa Claus that evening. The Eagleville Jr. and Sr. High bands performed outstandingly and the Elementary Holiday performances were heartwarming! A special thanks to Santa Claus for his visit and posing for pictures!

Finally, Congratulations to the Sr. Class and Mr. Bruce Haley for actually raising what is sure to be the largest Sr. Class tree in Eagleville School History! The Seniors did their best to decorate and light this monster tree which was beautiful and could probably be seen all the way from College Grove. Next year, we'll put a bucket truck on our Christmas list!

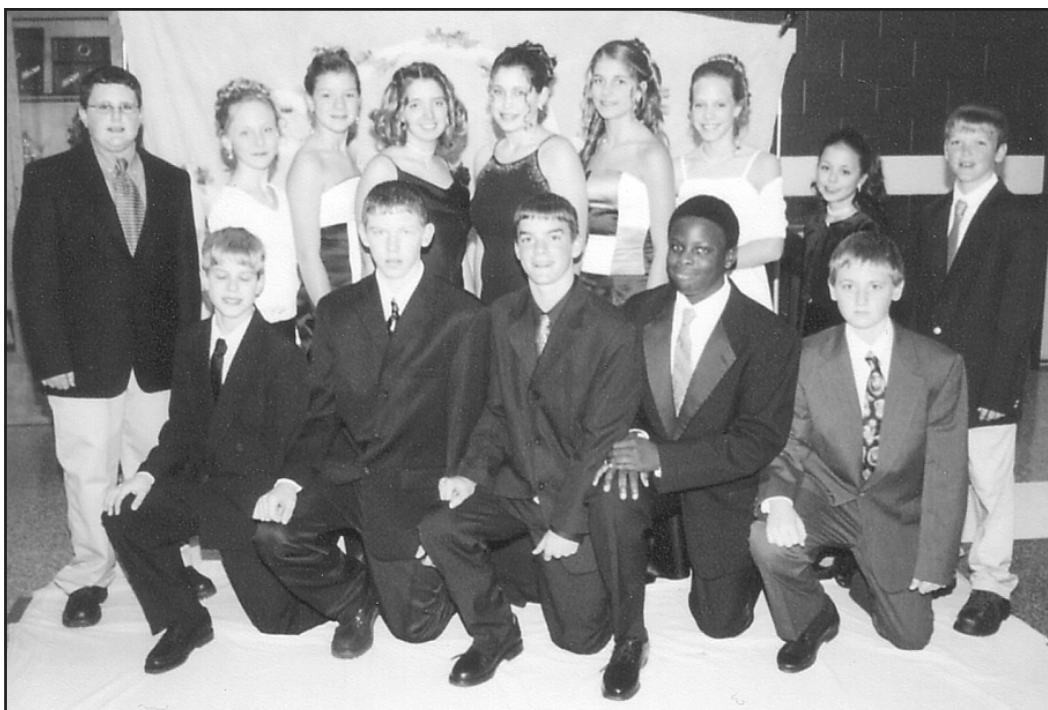

Next meeting of the PTO will be Monday, February 9th at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. We will discuss organizing a spring yard sale and hope anyone wishing to volunteer will plan to attend! All parents, grandparents and friends of Eagleville School are welcome to attend!

Eagleville Middle School Homecoming

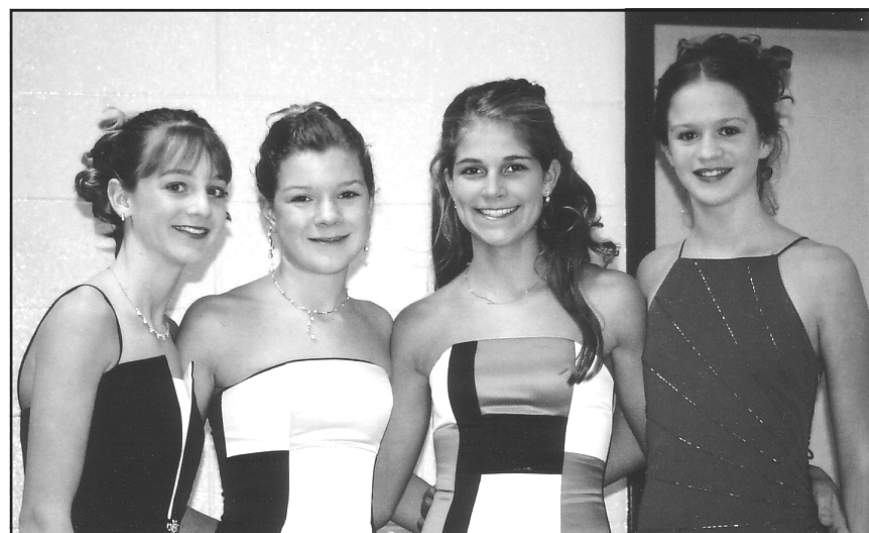

Eagleville Middle School celebrated its basketball homecoming the week of January 5-9. On Thursday, January 8, the EMS Homecoming Court was recognized. Sixth grade attendants were Brittany Burton, escorted by Jonathan Porter; and Shelbi Sweeney, escorted by Jacob Eidson. Seventh grade attendants were Rachel Hedgepath, escorted by Jared Wilson; and Brittany Greene, escorted by Tony Adams. Representing the eighth grade were Autumn Duncan, escorted by James Blackwell; and Chelsea Lamb, escorted by Khameron Lillard. Holly Poteete was named EMS Homecoming Queen and Jimbo Porter was named EMS King. The 2002-2003 EMS Home Queen Annie Pace and King John David Proctor had the honors of crowning the new queen and king. The Eagleville teams went on to defeat the Buchanan Hornets to clinch a homecoming victory. Students participated in dress-up days throughout the week and wrapped the week up with "A Winter Wonderland" dance. The fun-filled week was a great way to start off the 2004 year.

Trees Awarded For Eagleville City Park Through Hospice Urban Development Grant

A sign was recently placed at the future Eagleville City Park acknowledging the first 55 of approximately 175 trees that will eventually be in place for our new Park. The weather has slowed any prominent progress on the park but with upcoming spring, plans are be going into effect to make this a successful venture that is sure to benefit the entire community.

Pet of the Month

Furball Raye

Rebecca Blackwell, Owner
College Grove, Tennessee

Furball Raye was given to me by Deborah Lamb at a baseball game the Summer of 1999. He was just a small kitten when he became a special part of our family. Now he is beautiful as ever and gets many kisses from me everyday!
