Voted Best Decorated for the Holidays—Eagleville Florist & Gifts

Eagleville Florist has been supplying Eagleville and the surrounding communities with arrangements to adorn our churches, plants and memorials to honor and mourn our lost loved ones and birthday and valentine bouquets to surprise family and friends for close to 30 years. Now owned and operated by Phil Williams, Eagleville Florist is one of the successful businesses located on Main Street. In addition to being a full florist, the retail store also showcases a variety of fine gifts including vases, crystal pieces, and figurines.

Eagleville Florist is a strong member of the Eagleville Business Community, supporting local and school activities through advertisement and the donation of arrangements to area churches.

The shop and surrounding area benefited from an expanded parking area recently added and everyone has enjoyed the beautiful decorations on the exterior of the building and the delightful window displays. In early autumn, the beginning of school was the theme complete with school desks and supplies. Fall showcased beautifully rich colors, pumpkins and gourds. The Christmas decorations including lights, stockings, and symbols of the season set the standard for other main street businesses and homes.

We appreciate the positive impact this business has on the community of Eagleville and the enjoyment we experience as we admire the decorations and enjoy the flowers and gifts.

Musical Program at Eagleville School

December 16, 2003 Eagleville School officially started the Christmas Season. At 5:00 p.m. the outdoor Christmas Tree, decorated by the Class of 2004 sparkled in front of the school. The Marching Band played familiar tunes to those who had gathered despite the inclement weather. Indoors, the crowd filled the cafeteria enjoying a Chili Supper sponsored by the PTO to purchase a new sound system. The Middle School Band provided entertaining music throughout the meal.

Excitement and competition ran high in the Elementary School hallway as the bidding on the silent auction items climbed. Items in the auction included sports items, clothing, jewelry, music memorabilia and CD's, and other items to tempt everyone. Santa even managed to make an appearance delighting the children with a candy treat.

Promptly at 7:00, the new gym began to fill as parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, siblings and friends gathered to watch and enjoy the elementary Christmas Program. To the delight of all the Kindergarten students, and students from 1st and 3rd grades sang and told the story of the Littlest Reindeer. Through the songs, Elves, Reindeer, Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus showed all of us that no matter how small the person and no matter how "small" the job, we are all important. The children performed beautifully and demonstrated how much they enjoy the music program at the School.

Following this program, the Middle School and High School bands provided music during intermission, allowing for a set change. The second program featured the 2nd and 4th grade students who presented their own version of "A Night Before Christmas". The program also featured the schools own Mr. Haley as the great detective who helped to identify the real Mr. Santa Claus. A mouse, the narrator and other characters delighted and entertained the audience with songs and script.

A big thank you goes to the students, their teachers, and especially the Music Teachers Ms. Williams and Ms. Medford for all their hard work, creativity, and dedication. The entire evening was fun, entertaining, and a great way to observe the Holiday Season.

What have I gotten myself into? I probably only say that about four times a week. Never in a million years would I have ever thought that this would happen. I have a full-time job, which I really enjoy, and it should be enough for anyone. But, one evening at work while talking with a co-worker, we began discussing making calendars for Christmas gifts. My friend Angie says, “why don't you start a newspaper in your town?” She started giving me ideas and then other co-workers began bringing in small town papers to get me motivated. Well, before you know it, I go into work and show them what I'd come up with. Within a month, I had printed my first newspaper and there it was, out in the stores for everyone to see. I felt as if I had just walked outside in my birthday suit.

As it turns out, I've discovered that I have a new hobby. Yes, the newspaper is a lot of work but I'm actually enjoying the experience. I really only figured it would last for a couple of months but as the subscriptions continue to grow and I keep hearing, “what day will the paper be out”, I now realize, there's no turning back.

I really want to thank everyone whose shown so much interest and continues to support me. It makes the experience a pleasure and hopefully, it can continue for a long while.

So now let's get down to the “Help” portion of this story. I'm making lots of great friends that have helped me in so many ways. But I do need to keep interesting stories coming in so that I can bring them to you. So, I'm asking that all of the schools in each community that the paper covers, please mail or e-mail photos, news and topics of interest. I do know these communities are wanting to read about you. Also, wanting to share events such as weddings, engagements, parties, get-togethers and vacations. Take pictures and send them to me with a story.

With the participation of the citizens of the communities, the newspaper will have continued success.

Thank you, Debbie

Observance of
Martin Luther King, Jr. Day

Martin Luther King Jr. Day, the 3rd Monday in January, was first declared a public holiday in the United States by President Reagan in 1983. Born on January 15th, 1929, Martin Luther King became a Baptist minister and doctor of theology. He traveled extensively throughout the United States, preaching and working for Afro-American civil rights and was assassinated in Memphis Tennessee on 4th April, 1968.

The following is part of his famous speech "I have a dream":

So even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream. I have a dream, that one day this nation will rise up, live out the true meaning of its creed. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal. I have a dream, that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners, will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood - I have a dream.

CITIZENS OF THE MONTH

Harrison & Bessie Lea Mosley

By Judy Mosley Frost

In preparing for my parent's 60th wedding anniversary, it was an opportunity to reflect on many memories of the wonderful parents that they are as well as the wonderful people they are.

They have meant so much to me and my daughter, Andrea and have been a source of strength and love to both of us. As I stood back and observed the people who took time to come by and congratulate them on December 20th, I realized just how much they have also meant to many others. I saw people hug them and congratulate them and even share memories they had of my parents and what they meant to their lives. They have certainly touched many lives during their 60 years of marriage.

It all began December 24th, 1943. They were married after dating "three or more years". They were married quietly in Murfreesboro, went to the basketball game at College Grove and then to my daddy's parents. It was just that simple and their lives have remained fairly uncomplicated from that day on. This is not to say that there have not been any ups and downs and that everything has always gone perfect for them, but I can truly say that I have never seen anything that caused the stability and strength of their love and commitment to ever be shaken.

"We raised a tobacco crop. After we sold our tobacco we had $300.00. We bought a bedroom suit, kitchen table and chairs, cabinet and a wood burning stove. We moved to Murfreesboro on Maney Avenue. Harrison went to work driving a truck for Ragland Potter and I went to work at the Sunshine Hosiery Mill. We lived there for a while then we moved on West Main Street. It was a 3-room apartment just across the street from Ragland Potter. We cleaned it up, painted and papered. It was just what we needed. We paid $6 a month rent. I then went to work at Ragland Potter. I made $15 a week. I knew it was not how much you made but how you handled what you made. In a few years, we saved enough to buy 75 acres on Jackson Ridge Road. Then we saved enough to build a barn. Then we saved enough to build us a house. We didn't have water in the house. We had an outside toilet. I wallpapered it and padded the seat. Everyone got a laugh about my up town toilet." These are my mother's own words telling the history of their first years together.

This is typical for their entire marriage. They always saved until they could pay for whatever they needed. They have always been a team and have always worked together. They always compromised when they did not agree. I have never heard my parents have a misunderstanding and have certainly never heard them disrespect each other or raise their voices to each other. How fortunate I am to have lived with these two people. This is not to say that they always saw eye-to-eye on everything, but they always managed to compromise and come to an agreement without becoming angry or saying something that they would regret later.

They have also been a strong part of this community. Daddy has been a deacon in the Eagleville Baptist Church, was a member of the Lion's Club, helped in the Eagleville horse show, sold brooms for the Lion's Club to buy glasses for children. Mama has been room mother for my classes at school (she actually still carries the purse that Mrs. Elmore gave her for being room mother when I was in the first grade), she has made costumes for school programs, helped in school functions and always been willing to do whatever she could to help out. She also sang in the choir, helped in vacation Bible school and PTA. She has cooked and cleaned and helped take care of so many people when they were sick.

My parents have also cleaned Eagleville Baptist Church for more years than I can remember. I remember dusting when I was too small to do anything else. They always made sure that the church was warm enough in the winter and cool enough in the summer by getting up early and setting the thermostat. I remember many times, Daddy going to turn the heat up if the temperature was going to be low so the pipes would not freeze. They made sure there was water in the baptistery and that the temperature was right. They also made sure the water was drained and the baptistery cleaned out so things wouldn't be growing in the baptistery the next time someone was baptized. They have cleaned up from weddings, showers, receptions, family gatherings, revivals, VBS, and whatever they needed to do. I've seen Daddy climb ladders that scared me to death to change light bulbs in that very tall ceiling in the sanctuary. For a long time, they also cut the yard at church.

They have done things for people in the community that no one every knew about. Daddy has cut people's yards when they were sick and Mama has taken in meals for people in need. They have been there for their friends and family of the community during the happy times of weddings, births as well as the sad times of death. They have taken care of each other's parents to keep them out of the nursing homes as long as they could without jeopardizing their loved one's health. They have loved each other's families as they have their blood relatives.

They have opened their home to family and friends and family's friends each year at the annual country ham breakfast. Mama gets the wood cook stove going along with the help of her sisters and Daddy gets the tables and chair set up and makes sure there is music for everyone to enjoy.

If it sounds like I think I have the greatest parents in the world, well, I do! There is no doubt about it. They have been there for me through good times and bad times. They have been a source of strength for me and I always knew I could count on them. Daddy says now that he can't see as well as he would like or hear as well as he would like, but I am so fortunate to have parents that wake up every morning in their own home and without pain. They still take care of their house, yard and still have a garden. They still have energy to play with their great grandson. How blessed they are and how blessed we are to have them.

I wrote in their memory book for their anniversary...

"When I think of love...I think of my parents.
When I think of faith...I think of my parents.
When I think of strength...I think of my parents.
When I think of patience...I think of my parents."

What a blessing to have had these two wonderful people as my parents. They have stayed together, survived the depression, stood by each other's side, kept their vows and lived their vows, through the years. Not only am I blessed, so is my daughter, Andrea, my grandson, Gavin, my son-in-law, Kenny and I think I can speak of all my family aunts, uncles, cousins and everyone who they have touched during their 60 wonderful years together.

When Debbie asked me to do her a big favor and write something about my parents (even though it was the last minute), I jumped at the opportunity to do this. It is an honor to be able to write just a tiny bit of what these two people mean to me, our family and the community of Eagleville. I can truly say if they have touched your life over the years, in any way,...you are blessed.

The Savage School

George M. Savage was born February 5, 1849 in Rienzi, Mississippi and graduated from Union University at Murfreesboro in 1871. He married Fannie Williams, a daughter of Chesley Williams. He came to Eagleville in 1884 and opened the Salvage School. It was located where the Eagleville Baptist Church is now located. A new school building was built and ten small buildings were built for housing. The school offered classes from first grade through the fourth year of college. The 1888-89 school year college department consisted of five teachers. The college course of study included, Latin, Greek, French, German, Hebrew, calculus, chemistry physics, physiology, astronomy, geology, botany, philosophy, music and Bible. Also a department to teach military tactics. There were 178 pupils enrolled in college in 1887-88. In 1890 Dr Savage was elected president of the Southwestern Baptist University and resigned. His school was still operating in 1904. This was the time of the most prominence in Eagleville. There were boarding houses and hotels. Room and board was $10 per month

"Identity Theft Protection" Seminar

On January 21st, the College Grove Senior Enrichment Center is hosting a seminar on the FBI's fastest growing white-collar crime of Identity Theft. With the easy use of credit cards and shopping over the Internet, Dorothy Buck of Franklin's Pre-Paid Legal Services in association with Kroll Background, Inc. will show how almost everyone is at risk of falling victim to an identity thief.

The Center offers a potluck luncheon at 11:30 am preceding the noon program.

"This program should be of interest to anyone who has ever given a waiter their credit card or used a credit card to buy over the Internet," says Martha Wolfe, Center Director, "not just our Senior Citizens."

Buck of Pre-Paid Legal will show how easy it is to become a victim of Identity theft from pilfered credit card receipts to theft of your personal social security number. Also, the seminar will show how to use credit report monitoring to maintain financial security and to protect your trash from criminals on the lookout for pre-approved credit card applications.

If you would like more information about this or any other program at the Center, please call the Center at 615-368-7093. The center is open from 8 am until 3 pm Monday thru Friday.

The Second Saturday in November is just like any other day, except in Eagleville where the crowds begin to gather long before the door of the Community Center opens at 4:00 P.M. What is it you may ask? It is the semi-annual Chittlin Supper which raises money to support the Community Center building and Library. Long before the Big Day, preparations began with the purchase of the Chittlins, their cleaning which is a labor intensive process, and pre-cooking them. Some of the Chittlins are reserved for Boiled Chittlins and the rest are saved for frying.

The day of the dinner, volunteers assemble early at the Center to mix the slaw, cook the white soup beans, set up endless lines of tables and chairs, set out forks, spoons, napkins and hot sauce. As the afternoon progresses, the batter used to deep fry the Chittlins is mixed, the oil is heated, the tea is boiled and sweetened, and cornbread is mixed. Bar-B-Que is delivered piping hot and maintained in the ovens. As the crowd grows, stretching across the building onto the porch and into the parking lot, the cooking begins in earnest and it never slows. Some 1600 pounds of Chittlins are either battered and fried out back or served boiled to the growing crowd. Those who enjoy the spirit of the dinner more than the Chittlins opt for Bar-B-Que and all receive white soup beans, French fries, corn bread, slaw, and tea. Cub Scout Pack 123 sells pie for dessert to finish off the meal.

The noise of friendly conversation is only broken by requests for more “fried over here” or “need another bowl”. Volunteers cook, serve, clear tables and wash up at a feverish pace as the line continues to lengthen and both the community center parking lot and nearby United Methodist Church parking lots are full. Some patrons vanpool, coming from surrounding communities and Nashville. The reputation of the quality of the Chittlin Dinner is the best advertisement and by 6:00 p.m. only two hours after selling the first tickets and serving the first plates, the pans are empty and there are no Chittlins left. Volunteers continue to serve the remaining Bar-B-Que and side items while others clean up the dining area and kitchen/cooking area. After a long night of hard work, the volunteers hope for a hot meal—“wonder if Las Fiestas is still open?”

Thanks to all the volunteers who made the supper successful. The next Chittlin Supper is the 2nd Saturday in March. They begin serving at 4:00 p.m. We hope to see you there.

It's Another New Year

...but for what reason?

"Happy New Year!" That greeting will be said and heard for at least the first couple of weeks as a new year gets under way. But the day celebrated as New Year's Day in modern America was not always January 1.

ANCIENT NEW YEARS

The celebration of the new year is the oldest of all holidays. It was first observed in ancient Babylon about 4000 years ago. In the years around 2000 BC, the Babylonian New Year began with the first New Moon (actually the first visible crescent) after the Vernal Equinox (first day of spring).

The beginning of spring is a logical time to start a new year. After all, it is the season of rebirth, of planting new crops, and of blossoming. January 1, on the other hand, has no astronomical nor agricultural significance. It is purely arbitrary.

The Babylonian new year celebration lasted for eleven days. Each day had its own particular mode of celebration, but it is safe to say that modern New Year's Eve festivities pale in comparison.

The Romans continued to observe the new year in late March, but their calendar was continually tampered with by various emperors so that the calendar soon became out of synchronization with the sun.

In order to set the calendar right, the Roman senate, in 153 BC, declared January 1 to be the beginning of the new year. But tampering continued until Julius Caesar, in 46 BC, established what has come to be known as the Julian Calendar. It again established January 1 as the new year. But in order to synchronize the calendar with the sun, Caesar had to let the previous year drag on for 445 days.

FOODS EATEN—Traditional New Year foods are also thought to bring luck. Many cultures believe that anything in the shape of a ring is good luck, because it symbolizes "coming full circle," completing a year's cycle. For that reason, the Dutch believe that eating donuts on New Year's Day will bring good fortune.

Many parts of the U.S. celebrate the new year by consuming black-eyed peas. These legumes are typically accompanied by either hog jowls or ham. Black-eyed peas and other legumes have been considered good luck in many cultures. The hog, and thus its meat, is considered lucky because it symbolizes prosperity. Cabbage is another "good luck" vegetable that is consumed on New Year's Day by many. Cabbage leaves are also considered a sign of prosperity, being representative of paper currency. In some regions, rice is a lucky food that is eaten on New Year's Day.

AULD LANG SYNE

The song, "Auld Lang Syne," playing in the background, is sung at the stroke of midnight in almost every English-speaking country in the world to bring in the new year. At least partially written by Robert Burns in the 1700's, it was first published in 1796 after Burns' death. Early variations of the song were sung prior to 1700 and inspired Burns to produce the modern rendition. An old Scotch tune, "Auld Lang Syne" literally means "old long ago," or simply, "the good old days."

Before you head out to all of those New Year Eve parties please remember not to drink and drive. Designate a driver before you leave the house if your outing involves drinking. Encourage your friends to always do the same. Friends never allow friends to drink and drive. Understand that your ability to think clearly and react appropriately can be impaired by alcohol and other drugs long before you become visibly intoxicated.

Who - N - Where

By Jane Perrell Shelton

Jo Ann Shelton spent a week in Florida with her grandchildren, Grant, Mia and Juliet Shelton.

A group loaded up their camping gear and traveled "Destination Gatlinburg" for a fun and relaxing week during the Thanksgiving holidays. The group included James & Yvonne Lowe, James & Hazel Rigsby, Mike & Patty Rigsby, and Buddy & Belinda Woodson Nicole & Brittney daughters of Mike & Patty came by to visit as did, Rusty & Karen Rigsby with their son Russell.

Sandy, Vicky and Mark Shelton, Ross Scott and Jimmy Gilmore spent several days in Las Vegas.

Tabitha and Tim Persch from Larkspur Colorado recently visited Tabitha's parents William and Bithie Sue King.

Mrs. Maye Taylor was honored on her 92nd birthday Sunday, December 14 with family at a pitch in dinner at the home of William and Bithie Sue King.

The Perrell family enjoyed Christmas lunch on the 14th at the home of Jane Shelton. In attendance were Bessie Lee and Harrison Mosley, Margaret and Debbie Ryan, John and Thalia Perrell, Geraldine Cunningham and friend William, Becky Cunningham, Cortney Vaughn, Brian, Angela, Tyler and Wyatt Haley, Anita Hargrove, Sandy, Kathy and Janet Shelton, Polly and Joe Riggan, Lea Ann, Mark, Kyle and Kaelea Sexton, Paula, Randall, Alex, Megan and Brett Hutto, Shirley and Jr. Crick, Betty, Brent, Lane and Sara Beth Stacy.

Peggy Taylor has been busy with grandchildren since her retirement from teaching school. She and Johnny are enjoying occasional baby setting. Tara has a little girl and Kim has twins, a boy and a girl. Johnny said his hardest part is dealing with car seats, especially two and sometimes three at a time.

Thalia Perrell of Triune surprised her husband John with a getaway to the Sumner's View Bed & Breakfast for his 70th birthday.

Hints to Help Keep Your Resolutions

If you are the type who makes, but never keeps, New Year's resolutions, have a look at these tips to help you set practical -and attainable - goals this year.

- 1. Don't abandon the idea of setting resolutions because you have broken them in the past. You may need to simply readjust the type and number of goals you're setting for yourself.
- 2. Do be realistic. A resolution to run a marathon by year's end is likely unrealistic for an inexperienced exerciser. Likewise, resolving to stop all your unhealthy habits at once is likely to fail. Pick a safe, attainable goal with a realistic time frame.
- 3. Don't make too many resolutions. There's no rule that you have to cover all areas you'd like to change in your resolutions. Pick one or two themes - such as anger management, stress control, healthy eating, smoking cessation, fitness improvement, career advancement - that are most important to you, and set reachable goals within these areas.
- 4. Don't set resolutions whose success is based upon factors beyond your control. Saying "I resolve to have a new job by summer" depends not only upon your own initiative, but also upon external factors (the economy, the job market in your field) over which you have no control. Instead tell yourself "I resolve to have updated my resume and sent it out to X companies by summer." That way, the success of your resolution is entirely within your control.
- 5. Do set resolutions based upon your own wishes, desires, goals, and dreams, and not those of society or those persons close to you. While this seems obvious, many people waste time trying to meet society's - or another person's - expectations. A resolution is bound to fail if it isn't from your heart.
- 6. Do plan intermediate goals if it helps you maintain control. Decide where you'd like to be in three or six months, and check yourself then. Achieving these smaller goals also gives you a sense of accomplishment and motivation for the bigger projects.
- 7. Do use the buddy system. Rely on your friends to support you in your resolutions, and do the same for your friends. Social support can be a great strengthener of motivation.
- 6. Do plan a reward for yourself when the resolutions - or intermediate goals - are met.

Margaret's Helpful Hints

- Enhance your New Year's party with clocks all set to ring at midnight.
- TO CLEAN COFFEE MAKERS-Drop an EFFERDENT denture cleaning tablet in a 10 cup coffee maker and add hot water instead of cold. Brew as usual then rinse
- PREVENTING RASH FROM WRIST WATCH-Brush back of watch with clear nail polish. When it wears off repeat.
- APPLESAUCE AS SUBSTITUTE FOR OIL-You may substitute up to 50% applesauce or fruit puree in place of oil when you bake to reduce fat content, i.e.: 1 c. oil called for in recipe, use 1/2 c. applesauce.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE

- 2 15 oz. cans tomato sauce
- 2 15 oz. cans tomato puree
- 2 lbs. ground beef
- 2 tablespoons salt
- 2 tablespoons black pepper
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire Sauce
- 1 cup onion, chopped
- 1 cup green bell pepper, chopped
- 1 cup celery, chopped
- Pinch garlic

Pour tomato sauce and tomato puree into crock-pot on low heat. Add salt, black pepper, sugar and Worcestershire Sauce. Brown ground beef in skillet. Drain beef and add to crock-pot. Chop onion, bell pepper and celery. Brown in meat grease and add to crock-pot. Cook for 1 to 2 hours on low heat.

CLAUDIA TRANTHAM

GUMBO BURGERS

- 1 lb. Ground beef, browned and drained
- 1 can Campbells Chicken Gumbo Soup
- 4 teas. Tomato catsup
- 4 teas. Mustard
- 1½ onion, chopped
- Pinch of salt

Mix ingredients and pour over cooked meat. Simmer just until it cooks down to desired consistency. Serve with hamburger buns.

CITY HALL

What a wonderful December this has been in Eagleville. The Christmas Parade was exciting and enjoyable. Special thanks go to the City Council, Eagleville Fire and Police Departments, and to the Beautification Committee for the planning and success of this First Christmas Parade.

The Community Tree Lighting ceremony at Eagleville School and sponsored by the P.T.O. was indeed special. Like the parade, this is a terrific occasion for Eagleville and was attended by many, many people.

Those of you in the community who have decorated your homes and lawns are to be commended. Your efforts have brought so much pleasure to us. It seems that there are more decorations this year than ever.

The churches in our community have provided special music and drama programs which remind us of the true meaning of Christmas. Thank you for helping us keep the proper balance of Christmas in our lives.

Again, to all of you involved in the activities mentioned above, you are appreciated for your efforts.

The Eagleville residents have been mailed a card regarding the new Ordinances. You are urged to participate in this important aspect of our government.

The Eagleville City Election will be held Tuesday, April 20, 2004. There are three (3) Council seats open for election. These are currently held by Vice-Mayor Ronnie Hill, Councilman Bobby Turner, and Councilman Terry Zumbro. Individuals seeking election to these seats need to pick up the necessary papers at the Election Commission on the Southside of Murfreesboro Square. The deadline for anyone wishing to qualify for City Council is noon on January 15, 2004.

May each of you have a wonderful New Year! It is an honor to be your Mayor.

The 2nd and 3rd grades traveled around the world to study different Christmas customs. With their passports in their hand, they learned how children from other countries celebrate the Christmas season by switching classes. They made gingerbread houses from Germany, lit menorahs and played with dreidels from Israel, sampled food from Italy, and studied about piñatas from Mexico. The children also researched other countries and their Christmas traditions.

Mrs. Pam Vaughn's second grade and Mr. Jarboe's second grade collected items for the veterans and presented these items to the Harper's Veteran's Home on Thursday, December 18. They also visited Santa at the Co-op.

School Resource Officer Greg King and Mrs. Andrea Kelly hosted a dance after a December home basketball game for the students. All of the proceeds went to buy Christmas gifts for the Angel Tree.
