Eagleville Marching Band Performs in Walt Disney World Magic Kingdom Parade

 By Courtney Simon

The Eagleville High School Marching Band and additional 7th and 8th grade band members had the experience of a lifetime this past month. These band members who commit time, energy and effort to making music and marching "marched" Walt Disney's Magic Kingdom's Magic Music Days Parade.

Students, faculty and chaperones left on a Gray Line bus on Wednesday night and arrived at Disney's Animal Kingdom on Thursday morning. As always, kids will enjoy an amusement park. During their time at the park they enjoyed the Kilimanjaro Safari ride and the chance to see exotic animals, up close and personal. Epcot Center was the next area of amusement. Trip members toured 11 countries in World Showcase and the light show Illuminations, held them spell bound. Thursday ended to early and Friday began early as the band members readied for their performance. They left the hotel that morning at 7:00 in order to garner some practice time in a nearby parking lot. During the day, band members enjoyed a day at Disney's Magic Kingdom. Students enjoyed thrill rides such as Space Mountain, Big Thunder Mountain Railroad, and Splash Mountain. Following a day of thrills the band members gathered backstage to sneak a peek at the production Disney Magic.

The band was considered honorary cast members in the production. After playing and marching with the other band

The band was given this banner from the staff at Walt Disney to keep in the band in preparation, they were ready for the big show. Their performance in Disney Magic included "Sweet Home Alabama", "Stars and Stripes", and "Rocky Top". The show was a success and each band member enjoyed the opportunity to play in such a venue.

The next day was their last day and the band made the most of it. They went to Blizzard Beach water park. They spent

The band enjoyed lunch in Epcot's World Showcase. the day, cooling off and enjoying Florida fun by riding the Summit Plummet, Teamboat Springs, Slush Gusher, and Toboggan Racers. Following their time at the water park, the group was transported to MGM Studios. All out favorites were The Hollywood Tower of Terror and Rock n' Roller Coaster starring Aerosmith. Their day ended as they gathered at the amphitheater to watch Fantasmic, MGM's fireworks and laser light show.

Sunday morning was departure time. The return trip was uneventful until the just after lunch. The group stopped to refuel on Big Macs at MacDonalds. During a refueling of the bus, the driver discovered transmission problems. It was over 4 hours later that Spotlight Tours replaced their bus and they were able to head for home. It was a weary group that pulled in the school parking lot that Sunday evening. After some sleep they would be able to remember and retell all the adventures and fun they had in FLA.

Members of the Rockvale Chorus participated in a weekend festival in Nashville called "America Sings!" The festival is headed up by founder and President, John Jacobson, a well-known writer, arranger, and choreographer, and takes place in three major cities each year. We were privileged to have a location as close as Nashville this year. The group, under the direction of Brenda WilAt the festival, singers join thousands of other young performers as they attend rehearsals, give individual concerts, and attend workshops. In addition, they get hands-on experience helping to complete community service projects. As the festival draws to a close, the choirs join voices for an inspiring, spectacular Concert Finale.

The motto of "America Sings!" is "To kids who feel they have no hope, from kids with hope to share." This expresses Jacobson's deepest desire to get these kids to understand that there are magnificent needs outside of their group, but that every single person can make a difference. "We keep our events non-competitive, so we can help channel all that youthful energy into helping others, not into worries about winning or losing."

Students from 11 states, including Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, West Virginia, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Tennessee comprised the 2200 students at the festival this weekend. Over 6 tons of canned Putting together goody bags for needy children food supplies were collected for the Salvation Army, along with thousands of "goody bags" put together by the students at the festival.

"It was an incredible experience," says director Brenda Williams, noting that this is the first time they have participated in such a large event that was all about others. Rockvale did not perform at the festival this year, but definitely plans to attend another America Sings! Festival, perhaps in Atlanta next year!

The granddaughters of the late Thomas & Melvina Claxton Russell of Unionville met for a luncheon at the Charleston On Main in Shelbyville on April 1. Our of twenty-five granddaughters, thirteen were present; one was unable to attend and eleven are deceased.
This was a fun time together as we all shared pictures, old and new, and caught up on everyone's family. Lorene Rigsby received the honor of being the oldest of those attending. No, she won't mind telling her age, seventy-five, with the rest not far behind. Plans are being made to have another reunion next year with the idea of maybe inviting the grandsons. Out of eighteen grandsons, seven are deceased.
Mr. & Mrs. Russell had a total of forty-three grandchildren. The first was born in 1914 and the last, in 1946.

Congratulations Katie

What is next for this EHS senior? This May, Katie Shapcott will be ending 12 years at Eagleville High School. What could this young lady have in store for herself after high school?
Katie began playing basketball in the 2nd grade. She started playing Jr. Pro and finished up all four years in high school. She attended the State her freshman year after playing four years with volleyball, three years playing softball and three years in Field & Track. Attending the State in Field & Track as one of the first to ever represent her school at the state level in shot put. President of the student council and vicepresident of her local FFA chapter. She will be getting her state degree in FFA in May at the State Convention. So what is next for her or one may think what sport will she be playing at the College level. Well many people may not know, but she will not be playing any sports at the College level. She will be attending Bethel College in McKenzie Tennessee and has received a scholarship to sing with the Renaissance musical group. Also at Bethel she has received the Dean's Honor Scholarship and the Cumberland Presbyterian Grant which is awarded to students who are members of a Cumberland Presbyterian Church. While attending Bethel she will be working on her Bachelor of Science Degree where she hopes of becoming a K-8 teacher. So, CONGRATULATIONS Katie Shapcott.

At the City Council meeting on Tuesday, April 26, 2005, Chief Walls and the Rockvale Fire Department presented Janice Marshall and the Eagleville Fire Department with plaques honoring Captain Ralph Marshall.

My First Easter in Heaven

(In Memory of "Snoo反um")
I see the countless Easter parades around the world below,
With tiny lights, like $\mathcal{H}$ feaven's stars reflecting on the snow.
The sight is so spectacular, please wipe away that tear, For I am spending Easter with Jesus Christ this year.
 I hear the many Easter songs that people hold so dear, The sounds of music can't compare with the Easter choir up here. I have no words to tell you, the joy their voices bring, For it is beyond description to hear the angels sing. I know how much you miss me, I see the pain inside your heart. But I am not far away,
We really aren't apart.
So be happy for me dear ones,
You know I hold you close.
Be glad I am spending Easter with Jesus Christ this year. I send you each a special gift from my Heavenly Home above. I saved you each a memory of my undying love. After all love is a gift more precious than gold. It was most important in the stories that Jesus told. Please Love and keep each other as my Father said to do, For I can't count the 6lessings or love that He has for each of you. So have a happy Easter and wipe away that tear. Remember, I'm spending Easter with Jesus Christ this year.

Citizen of the Month

Herbert Crick was born on February 12, 1929. He was the fifth child (of seven) born to Horace Maynard and Lillie Frances Davis Crick. The Crick family lived on Baptist Church Road in the city of Rover, Tennessee, and the county of Bedford.

By the time Herbert was five years old he was chopping and picking cotton. He remembers well when Russell Puckett would fly over the cotton field in a 2 -wing airplane, dipping the plane low to scare them. Herbert and his brothers and sisters would pull cotton bells off and throw them toward Russell's plane. Russell would tell Herbert's dad that he would go broke if they kept doing that (which invoked a good spanking for him and his siblings).

Herbert attended Rover School, a two room building, for eight years. He went to Eagleville School for three years, and then transferred to Unionville School for his senior year. While attending Eagleville School, Herbert was on the baseball and basketball teams. Some of his teammates were Hershel Jackson, Milton Simpson, James Blanton, Billy Gene Crick, Pollard Crick, Billy Bennett, Ralph Jones, Bill Hall, Edward Manier, Buddy and Spot Lowe, Jerry Wilson, Kenneth Morgan, and Billy Elmore. Billy Gene Crick and Hershel Jackson dared Herbert to try and get a date with a pretty young girl named Mary Evelyn Allen. He was so bashful that he could not get the courage up to ask her out, so Billy Gene did the asking for him......and she said "Yes". That first date has turned into 57 years of marriage so far.

After Herbert graduated from high school, he left home with less than ten dollars in his pocket. He went to find a job in Nashville, Tennessee. He began work at Harley-Holt Furniture Company as a truck driver. While working there, Herbert learned to restore and refinish new and antique furniture. After four years, Herbert left to take a job with Swiss Farm Dairies as a salesman.

Herbert and Evelyn married on July 1, 1948. Their first child, Susan, was born October 10, 1952. They purchased their first new home the same year in Nashville, Tennessee across from the country music singer, Marty Robbins, and his family. Herbert's military service began with an enlistment in the U.S. Army Reserve. He was assigned to the $951^{\text {st }}$ Engineer Aviation Group. He took advanced basic training at Fort Benning, Georgia and Fort Rucker, Alabama. Herbert was moved into active duty January 13, 1953. He was transferred to Fort Jackson, South Carolina, where he became a Supply Sergeant for a training company. He moved his wife and daughter there for a year, and then he was sent overseas to Korea. Evelyn and Susan moved back to Eagleville, Tennessee to live with Roy and Ruth Allen.

Herbert served as a Supply and Headquarters Platoon Sergeant which involved the managing of supplies for an engineer battalion that built roads and schools. He achieved the rank of Sergeant First Class and received two letters of commendation for his service.
Herbert was separated from active duty December 29, 1954, returning to his former civilian employment.

In March 1955, Herbert was appointed Rural Mail Carrier at Eagleville after the death of H.K. Stephenson. The rural route was 55 miles long, servicing 278 mail boxes.

He used a total of 15 vehicles delivering the mail during his $331 / 2$ years of service. Herbert received a "Million Mile Safe Driving Award" from the National Safety Council, and a "Driver of the Year" from the United States Post Office. There were times when he remembers delivering more baby chicks than letters!

In 1960, Herbert organized the Rutherford County Rural Letter Carriers Association with the assistance of James Skinner and Mrs. Roxie Jenkins of Murfreesboro. He was the first president of this organization and continued in this role for several years. He went on to organize the $4^{\text {th }}$ Congressional District Rural Letter Carriers Association, which included twenty-four counties in eastern Middle Tennessee. He was also appointed president of this organization. Herbert was elected an officer of the Tennessee Rural Letter Carriers Association and was awarded "The Tennessee Rural Carrier of the Year" for his dedication to his patrons and service to his craft.

Herbert and Evelyn built their present home in 1957. In that same year, their second child, Lori, was born.

Herbert was a member of the Lion's Club for 24 years, serving as president, when natural gas and city water came to Eagleville. He served on a multicounty committee for the natural gas project and a Lion's Club committee that convinced the city to install a public water system.

Herbert and Evelyn are members of the Eagleville United Methodist Church. Herbert has served in some capacity on most committees within the church during his membership. He has spent a large part of his efforts on building new structures or remodeling for the church.

Herbert has several hobbies. I would have to say that the game of golf is at the top of his list....and....he is really good at it! He also has a woodworking shop that he enjoys spending time in when he cannot get outside. He has done woodworking for several churches in Eagleville and the surrounding area and has refinished and/or built furniture for friends and family. He also has been a volunteer Marshall for Henry Horton Golf Course, in Marshall County, for several years.

By: Daughter, Lori Crick Curlee

Herbert and his family traveled across the US and Canada during the summer months with a "pop-up" style camper when the children were young. Two of his brothers and their families had campers also and they accompanied them each year. The travel was not only a good educational experience for the family, but it was fun too! There were instances, though, when the weather was somewhat uncooperative. The families experienced encounters with high winds and hail storms on occasion, and this was a little scary when you are in a "pop-up" camper.

Herbert and Evelyn's two daughters (Susan (Crick) Rucinski and Lori (Crick) Curlee) are both married. They graduated from Eagleville School, and completed their college educations at Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro, TN. They are residents of Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Susan is employed with the City of Murfreesboro Water and Sewer Department. Lori is employed with Bridgestone Americas Holding, LLC in Nashville, TN. Lori and her husband are building a new home on Cheatham Springs Road in Eagleville and anticipate a moving date sometime in May.

Herbert has always believed in a progressive community and has tried to assist in creating this environment. He says that a community that stands still will have to struggle to keep its identity. His employment, church affiliations, and hobbies have allowed him to make many friends, and he values his church and community as an

- Be not afraid of growing slowly; be afraid only of standing still
- It is better to try and fail than not to try at all
- What life does to us in the long run, depends on what life finds in us
As Herbert's daughter, and author of this mini biography, I would like to say that I am very proud of my father and mother. Along with their loving guidance, and the guidance of the Eagleville community during my childhood, I can say that the groundwork laid before me was a large part of my "core value" development, success and happiness that I have been graced with over the course of my life. Thanks Dad and Mom! We love you!

Missy and Fuzzy  By: Cathy Redmond

Missy and Fuzzy have been together since they have been two months old. Miss's owner is Mike, Patty, Nicole, and Brittany Rigsby, Fuzzy's owner is Cathy and Lyndsay Redmond. They have become the best of friends throughout the years. Missy is a black lab and Fuzzy is white/part lab and part whatever. Both have the same personality, friendly wants continuous love. All of the children (now adults) on the hill have grown up with these two. Also, the neighbors take care of these two dogs, they are loved by all. They will be companions for life, (like husband & wife) love and devotion is shown everyday, with both dogs. Whenever Fuzzy is eating his supper, if Missy is around, he will step back and wait on her to eat some of his food. That's what I call sharing. I am sure the co-op has seen Missy visiting them throughout the years, of course now, she has a hard time getting around. Missy and Fuzzy are hard of hearing now, cannot see very well, but their tails keep on wagging each time you give them a treat and/or feed them. We have many wonderful memories of Missy and Fuzzy, for instance, every time it snows, Missy comes over, lays her black body down in the snow then Fuzzy comes over to sit beside her (wonderful picture) which I have many. It is a wonderful site to look out my back window and see Missy and Fuzzy looking out over the top of my hill, keeping a vigilance. When and if the time ever comes for God to take them, it will be a sad day on King Drive, many tears will be shed for their loss, but God gave us these two wonderful dogs that are loved and cherished on a daily basis.

 Remembering Him. . . A Celebration of $\mathcal{H}$ is Life!Joanne Shelton \& Ralph at Crosslin's Supply Co.

Ralph: Meaning: Helper...
For many people that was what Ralph was. He helped each of us at some point in time. Whether you were family, a friend, a customer or even a stranger, Ralph tried his best to help with whatever you needed. Perhaps it was a light bulb that needed changing or a leaky faucet that needed fixing; you may have needed that special tool or some paint mixed. If you had a fire to put out... Ralph was there... he was there for every one of us. If he failed for any reason, there was a good reason.

Ralph never asked for much of any thing from anybody. He just gave... He was very content with a simple life and enjoyed the basics: food in the belly (bread, beans, taters and let's not forget that ketchup and hot sauce), a roof over his head, a place to rest his weary bones. Complaining and whining just wasn't his style. He believed in doing what had to be done. It didn't matter if he felt bad or that no one else wanted to do whatever it was that needed doing. He just did it the best he could. Ralph believed in hard work and enjoyed the satisfaction of a job well done.
Working hard has its just rewards. Vacation and time off were spent enjoying the simple pleasures of life: listening to the birds sing and watching them fly; listening to the frogs croaking in the fields and the ponds; feeling the wind and the sun upon his face and in his hair; water running in the streams; walking on the beach to see what had washed up; standing on the edge of the Grand Canyon; climbing the mountain trails to feel closer to God. There is something about being up high and looking down upon this earth that affects us all. We understand that there is something greater than us.
Hobbies, we all have hobbies. Ralph enjoyed watching TV. He could watch a movie over and over and over, enjoying it every time. "Top Gun" and "Dirty Dancing" were a couple of his very favorite movies. The Discovery Channel kept him fascinated for many hours.
 Ralph was always hungry for more knowledge. Four wheeling, whether in the big trucks, jeeps or the 4wheelers excited him because of the thrill, adventure and the challenge they gave him.
Ralph, like all of us, had his needs but he usually put them on hold if anyone called and needed him. Quiet, not much to say, he smiled and laughed a lot and preferred to listen. Said he could learn more by listening than talking. He was not a selfish person. He gave until he had nothing else to give. Ralph was a human and had his faults and his crosses to bear like all of us do. Hard lessons learned and disappointments are a part of living and he had his share. But he also had many rewards in life and may he also have them now.

So much I want to say...

Death is not something we can easily discuss because we are afraid of what comes next. We live with denial. Death will not come for those I love or me - but it comes like a thief and takes us all one by one. It leaves us feeling selfish and missing those that had to go. Saddened by our loss, grieving for ourselves and angry because we have been left behind to deal with what fate has left us and in general, just feeling sorry for ourselves.
Take time to think what if...it was your last day together...your last kiss, your last "I love you", your last "good-bye" and you didn't know it until it was too late? Are your affairs in order? Where would you find yourself? Happy with your life or with many regrets, feeling lost and confused or overwhelmed by the love and support of family, friends, community and people you don't even know! I find myself feeling all of this and more.
Perhaps you took the time to come visit with me to pay respects to Ralph and celebrate our 15 -year anniversary and his life at the memorial service. Perhaps you sent food, flowers or plants; sent a card and wrote me a little note, enclosed gifts to help me along the way; simply gave me a hug, a phone call or a look full of sympathy from across the room... Words of thanks will never express the gratitude and appreciation that I feel. Some day hopefully, I can repay my debt to all of you or you will be rewarded in others ways for the care and compassion you have given to me.

Our second graders have been very busy! We've studied hard for Terra Nova, walked through Eagleville taking a community tour, had ice cream at Eagle's Nest Dairy Bar, and are anxiously awaiting the Eagle Strut and Field Day, along with other end of the year activities. The following students had perfect attendance for the 5th six weeks: Matt, Campbell, Jessica, Cassidy, and Peyton. These students made the honor roll: Emily, Cassidy, Courtney L., Jessica, AIlison, Logan R., Courtney M., Matt, Campbell, Brandon, and Skyler. Congratulations to all!

News from Theresa Hill's Third Grade

The third graders have worked really hard this year. But, we have also had lots of fun. We performed several musical numbers in the April P.T.O. meeting. All students who had a $75 \%$ or better average on four multiplication test enjoyed ice cream sundaes. We are looking forward to the annual Eagle Strut, Field Day, and our field trip to the Cannon County Arts Center. We all had a terrific learning experience when we visited Mr. John Edward and Mrs. Judy Turners' historical museum. Not only were all the displays interesting, but Mr. Turner's stories were a treat. This is always a long awaited trip for the third graders. Thanks Mr. and Mrs. Turner.
The following students received special recognition for the fifth six weeks. Honor Roll: Anna Harrell, Logan Parker, Josh Vasquez, Brooklyn Snell, Brandon Armstrong, Elizabeth Wilson, Amber Underwood, Hannah Wilson, Alania Jack

That's right. If you visit the library at Community Elementary School, you can find a good book and jump in the bath tub, relax, and go anywhere with your imagination.

First grader, Blake Newsom (pictured at left) likes to read in the tub. It's full of comfy pillows and is just right for stretching out, reclining back and settling in with a good book. Books can take you anywhere around the world. Cheaper than an airline ticket and you don't have to go through customs to get there. The only luggage you need is an imagination.
While in the library this week, you could also purchase a book from the book fair. Several students from Mrs. Christie Collier's fourth grade came to the sale. Even those who normally do not like to read, were interested in numerous selections available to purchase. Mrs. Jennifer Bennett said that the book sales this time were real good and that a lot of good books were already gone. The book fair was for the K-6 age group. A lot of parents came to check out books as well and all had a good time in the library. It was a trip well worth it.
And speaking of traveling, the 4th grade got to meet Kevin Skarupa, the weather man from News Channel 2. He demonstrated how the weather team predicted tornadoes and how cirrus clouds effect us. He tells how the morning news starts at 4:30 a.m. He tells them how they get the map on the TV. and how he points to it without missing it. The classes had the opportunity to ask several questions when he was finished and with a sigh had to return back to class.
Another way the students are learning about places around the world besides books from the library, is from a project called Flat Stanley. A lot of other schools have done similar projects as well. The project actually comes from a book about a little boy who gets flat. (you will have to go to your library to find out more). The kindergarten students in Mrs. Murphree's class had great success with their Flat person. Each student decorated a cardboard cutout of a person to look like themselves. They then mailed themselves to friends or relatives living in another state. They asked for the person receiving them to take pictures of the flat person where they live and to send maps or information about the

according to the Tennessee Department of Education, the Federal No Child Left Behind Act of 2001, requires that the state departments of education evaluate schools performances on the state test. This past school year, the district as a whole did not meet those marks. HOWEVER......... Community Elementary was one school that did do well and passed. If you are interested in more information on this subject, on the webgo to www.tennessee.gov/education.

Ladies - The Eagleville Daytime Red Hat Society is in full swing. On April 15, we donned our red hats and purple attire for breakfast and a shopping spree in the "Boro".

The gracious hostess at Shoney's seated us at a lovely table in the sunroom and our server was especially nice. We recruited a customer to get the event on film. He and his wife were not reluctant to wait patiently for one of our ladies to retrieve her camera form her car to record the momentous occasion.

At Rose's smiling faces greeted us with friendly waves and hellos. We found bargains at the Salvation Army Thrift Store. None of left empty handed. We chatted with customers about the Society; putting emphasis on the purpose of the Red Hatters is to have fun.
Some of our group decided to grocery shop, while others went on to Peebles. We found a large selection of red hats at Peebles. We laughed a lot while trying on hat before deciding on just the right one. Luckily, the hats were on sale at bargain prices.
By the time we got to Phase II, we were tired but did manage to look at almost everything in the store.

If you would like to join the Eagleville Daytime Red Hat Society, MEMBERSHIP IS OPEN AND IT IS FREE!!!!!! For more information contact our "Queen", Nina Merritt at 274-6556 or her loyal subject, Joy True 274-3069. We will be meeting at the Eagleville Community Center on Wednesday, May 4 at 8:30 AM for an outing at the Nashville Zoo. On the way, we'll stop for breakfast. Put on your red had and purple outfit and join us for a day of fun.

Eagleville Football...

 The tradition continues...

Eagleville Football was established in 2002 with a varsity squad and middie school team. The original high school team played a split J.V. and varsity schedule. The program has now had two seasons of TSSAA play at Talon Field. Although the official season does not begin until August, preparation is a year around endeavor. Players and coaching staff work hard and spring practice is the opportunity for them to gauge what they have accomplished and what areas of work lay ahead.

Eagleville spring practice is scheduled for May 16 through May 27. The traditonal Maroon and White game, an inner -squad contest is May 27 at 6:00. Come on out to Talon Field and cheer for your favorite Eagle.

Margaret's Helpful Hints

To soften up a hard (almost unbreakable) clump of brown sugar, heat for 20 seconds in the microwave.

> Don't cry when chopping onions...Put your cutting board on top of one of the burners of a GAS cook top. Turn the burner that is next to it, on a low flame. This small flame absorbs the vapors that emanate from the onion. You can chop for days, and no tears!
> Fat can be removed from hot soup by floating a large lettuce leaf on the surface. Remove and add more leaves if necessary.

Faworite Recipe

EASY CHEESY BRUNCH BAKE

1 medium onion, chopped
2 medium tomatoes, chopped (about 1 cup)
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese

Preheat oven to $400^{\circ} \mathrm{F}$. Beat eggs with sour cream with wire whisk until well blended. Pour into greased 13x9-inch baking dish. Bake 10 minutes or until egg mixture is softly set. ## A Story for Miss Audra

When I was six years old I didn't want to start school. But school started anyway.
When I got to first grade my teacher smiled at me but I just frowned.
In first grade I practiced writing all my letters. My teacher smiled at me, even when my letters fell off the lines. I just frowned.
In first grade I practiced counting with numbers all the way to 100. My teacher smiled at me, even when I forget number 15. I didn't smile back.
In first grade I learned to read words and books. My teacher smiled at me, even when I said the wrong word. And I smiled back.
Then one day I went to school and my teacher wasn't there. She was sick. She wasn't there to smile at me. I tried to smile.
My teacher was sick, she had cancer.
Whatever cancer is, it doesn'† make anyone smile.
All day at school I practiced my letters, I counted with numbers, I read a book. I thought of my teacher and I smiled.
That night, my mommy said we should pray for my teacher and ask God to make her better. I asked God to make her better and to make her smile.
The next day my teacher was back and I smiled at her. She smiled back.
And then one day my teacher wasn't there. She was sick again. I asked God to make her better. I asked God to make her smile.
One day my teacher never came back to school. My teacher had gone to heaven to be with Jesus.
I guess she's smiling all the time now.
