Mosley Named Everyday Hero at the 2009 Ford Ironman Florida Event

BY MELISSA BUCHANAN

Former Eagleville resident Chaney Mosley was presented the Ford "Everyday Hero" Award on the eve of the 2009 Ford Ironman Florida Event, only hours before he would compete with more than 2,500 athletes from around the world as they swam 2.4 miles in the Gulf of Mexico, biked 112 miles along Back Beach and other Bay county roads, and ended with a 26.2 run in Panama City Beach.

A recent move from Temple, Georgia where Mosley taught agriculture at a local high school, took him to Virginia where he has been training hard while juggling the academic demands as he earns his PhD in agricultural education at Virginia Tech.

Leaving a community he had grown to love, tragedy struck much of Northwest Georgia in September of this year when devastating floods not only took lives, but also destroyed the homes belonging to the families of his former students.

While Mosley continued his rigorous training regime, (swimming 3-4 miles, biking 60-120 miles, and running between 40-50 miles per week), he decided to attach some meaning to his Ironman efforts by launching an online giving campaign. Calling his campaign the 140.6 Challenge, Mosley set a fundraising goal of $1,406.00, encouraging donations from friends and family across the United States.

Geared towards athletes who have contributed to their communities, a person, or charity in significant ways, Mosley was nominated for the Ford "Everyday Hero" Award by a former student whose grandparents' home was a total loss in the Georgia flooding and who would benefit from Mosley's fundraising efforts.

"The most surprising part of the Ironman, for me, was being named the Ford Everyday Hero," said Mosley, who, seated next to Ford cooperate representatives during the Ford Ironman Welcome Dinner, took home $1,000 to donate to a non-profit organization of his choice, a Ford prize pack, entry into any North America Sports Race in the next year, (including those already full to general entry), and ESPN exposure during the Ironman.

"A teacher like Chaney can make a life long difference to a student, for him to instill the values of community service and helping others in young people will serve them and those they in turn help for the rest of their lives," said North America Sports Media Coordinator Helen Manning in regard to the Ford "Everyday Hero" selection process.

Surprisingly, crossing the final timing mat at this year's Florida Ford Ironman and gaining bragging rights for life was not Mosley's hardest physical or mental challenge. "My hardest physical challenge to date was the Marine Corps Marathon because of the weather conditions and my training environment," said Mosley, who has participated in marathons, triathlons, 5 and 10ks across the United States. The hardest mental challenge, "convincing myself that I was capable of losing weight and keeping it off," said Mosley who once tipped the scales at 270 lbs.

This was not Mosley's first appearance at the Florida Ford Ironman, attending the event last November to support Sean Bond, a friend, cancer survivor, and triathlete who encouraged Mosley to enter his first triathlon.

"I was really inspired by his will power and determination. Watching him cross the finish line was exciting and the energy that surrounded the race was contagious," explained Mosley. "I signed up the next day! That was not my intention when I went down there."

Sean and wife Susan were among Mosley's supporters at this year's event, in addition to various family members on-hand to celebrate as he finished the race with a final time of 13:51:36, much better than the 15 hours he originally expected.

"I think that my time was better for a variety of reasons," explained Mosley, who contributed easier cycling and running in Florida due to the significantly higher elevation and thinner air in Virginia where he trained. Though the waves were a bit rough during the swim due to an approaching storm, overall, "the weather was near perfect for racing," said Mosley. "This was the first time that I have done a triathlon where it was not pouring down rain."

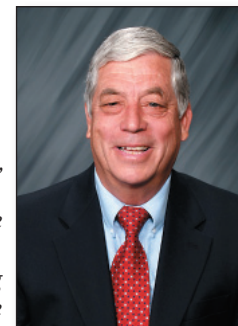

Many of our neighbors in Northwest Georgia that were affected by the September floods did not have flood insurance, since it was anything but typical for these areas to succumb to flooding. ## A Step Back in Time By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

The following was copied as written by Mr. Thomas Scott Williams in 1949. This writing has not been researched for accuracy.

History of the Eagleville Missionary Baptist Church, written by Thomas Scott Williams to be read May 29, 1949 in a fifth Sunday meeting held in our Eagleville Church that is entertaining all the Churches of Concord Association on this date. The dedicatory sermon to be preached by Brother A. D. Nichols, a former pastor, dedicating our new Sunday School building to the Glory of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

The records of this Church mention my close relatives frequently, therefore please be understanding. Matthew: 16th Chapter, 13th Verse through 18th Verse in part. "When Jesus came into the Coasts of Caesarea Philippi, He asked His disciples saying, Whom do men say that I, the Son of Man, am? And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the son of the living God. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou Simon Bar-Jona for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but My Father, which is in Heaven. And I say also unto thee, Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

It is obvious from the records of this Church that the Charter members founded the Eagleville Missionary Baptist Church according to the statement of Jesus Christ.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Joe Johnson, whose father was a former pastor, we are able to read you a copy, word for word, of the original deed that Brother John Scales made giving two acres of land upon which the first Church building was erected. John Scales was the great uncle of Mrs. Johnson. The deed reads as follows: "Know all persons by these present that I, John Scales, of the County of Williamson and State of Tennessee, for the love, esteem, and affection, I entertain for the spread and promulgation of the Gospel, I do hereby give transfer, convey, and deliver unto the deacons and members and their successors forever the Harpeth Separate or Free Will Baptist Church, a certain lot or parcel of land in the County and State aforesaid on Big Harpeth. Beginning at my Southeast corner of the tract of land I own near Thomas Jordon's and Noah Scales, running

The first minutes read as follows: "We the members which compose Harpeth Church being met according to appointment on Thursday the 7th day of November 1839, do now propose to be constituted a Gospel Church for which we call a presbytery to wit: John Rushing, James Keal and John Londrum wish a list of the members names who are candidates which expressed a desire to be constituted a Gospel Church upon the abstract principals adopted by the Elk River Association which is as follows". Then the articles of faith are written into the first minutes and adopted by the Charter Members. The original minute book is well preserved and the business transactions of the Church are written in ink, presumably the writers used a feather quill for a writing pen. The writing is beautiful, plain to read, and the work of artists.

In a Tennessee History published in 1886 appears the following. "The Missionary Baptist Church was organized one and one half miles north of Eagleville, November 7, 1839 by Rushing, James Keal and John Londrum. The first members were Thomas and Sophia Jordan, Elizabeth Williams, Josiah Johnson, Drury Bennett, William Cullon, Robert and Nancy Palmer, John and Rhoda Hazelwood. It was then called Harpeth Baptist Church but on removal to Eagleville in about 1866, it was called Eagleville Baptist Church.

In the minute book, dated 1842, it states the number of members is 48, and the expression is frequently recorded "met on Saturday before the third Lord's Day". The minutes of Saturday before the 3rd Lord's Day in April 1845 reads, "After Divine service, opened the doors for the reception of members when Sterling H. Edmonds joined by letter. It was also agreed that Brother Robert Pate be at liberty at any time with three or more members of this Church to receive members at or near his house to form an arms of this Church. It was also agreed by the Church that Brother Robert Pate be at liberty to speak in public by way of exhortation at any time when he may wish to do so". The minutes of Saturday before the 3rd Sabbath in July, 1847 read in part as follows: "On motion of Chesley Williams the following resolution was passed by a unanimous vote and ordered to be spread on the Church book in the following words. Resolved by the members of the Harpeth

Baptist Church that they will not make it a test of fellowship for any member to belong to any benevolent Society such as the Sons of Temperance, Odd Fellows or Masons." Chesley Williams on this date was elected Church Clerk and held this office until the seventies. 1845 the minutes read "The following members joined at the arm of our Church at R. Pates naming each one and also Polly Chrisman from Old Baptist, and Barbary a "servant". A number of Negro servants were members of our Church in our early history. They were received as members with their white owners and their names appear in our minute book as Ralph, servant of R. C. Scales, Etc. During these early years of our Church, the pastors were farmers or had other occupations and very small salaries were paid to them, sometimes the minutes show the yearly salary to be about sixty dollars.

In the year, 1851, the Church passed the following resolution "Resolved that the members of the Harpeth Church contribute their proportional part of the money to pay Brother Sims board while he is procuring his education at the Union University at Murfreesboro as a beneficiary."

Pastors who have served this Church: John Rushing was first pastor then, H. C. Ferguson, John Harris, C. C. Bolling, W. A. Whitsett, E. W. Hoile, J. J. Greer, W. N. Arnold, J. M. Phillips, J. K. Womack, A. J. Brandon, L. B. Jarmon, Dr. G. M. Savage, S. H. Price, J. S. Corpening, who married my sister, J. D. Smith, Berry McNatt, G. A. Ogle, W. C. McPherson, H. H. Burns, J. H. McCord, N. B. Williams, D. B. Vance, F. M.

Merse, A. W. Duncan, W. F. Jagers, S. P. Devault, A. I. Foster, C. Miles, L. T. Mays, and A. D. Nichols. Our present pastor is Brother M. L. Arbuckle.

The Minutes of Saturday before the 3rd Sabbath in July 1853 record these interesting facts: "The following proposition was submitted and unanimously passed. Whereas a proposition has been made to repair the Harpeth Church and to build thereon an additional story for an academy. Resolved therefore by the members of Harpeth Church that we grant to Chesley Williams Jordan, Noah Scales, Thomas Jordan, William Jordan, W. G. Osburn and other trustees the privilege and right to build a second story upon our Church and that we are for the Methodist and Presbyterians to have the use of our house for Divine service where it will not interfere with our Church meetings but not to raise a Church in our house. Passed by the Church and ordered to be entered in our Church book July 15, 1853. John Harris moderator, Chesley Williams clerk."

Church met on Friday 9th September, 1853 at which time the Duck River Association was held and continued until Saturday evening when it adjourned on Sabbath, the Church Communed with the visiting brethren and continued a protracted meeting until Thursday night during which time the Church was much revived sinners, convicted and mourners converted and six happily converted and made to rejoice in the jordon of their sins. Four additions to the Church and about $33.00 paid to Brother Miller for home missionary purposes". In 1855 Elder

Thomas Scott Williams

C. C. Bolling became pastor at a salary of one hundred dollars for twelve months.

Saturday before the 3rd Sabbath in April 1860, the Church met for the purpose of moving to the new house at Eagleville and that they adopt the same as their house of Worship. The presbytery also met consisting of E. W. Haile and James M. Pembleton and proceeded to the ordination of Brother J. J. Greer same have been attended to.

Part II will follow in December 1 Eagleville Times.

WOODROW LUTTRELL CELEBRATES 93rd BIRTHDAY

By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

On October 20th, Mr. Woodrow Luttrell of Nashville celebrated his 93rd birthday. Mr. Luttrell, who has many friends in the Eagleville, Rutherford County area, was honored on October 24th with a special birthday celebration.

Celebrating this very special occasion with Mr. Luttrell was his daughter, Patsy, who arrived from Wisconsin, his daughter-in-law, Wanda Webb, his daughter, Lisa Crow and husband, Gayle, along with Gayle's sister and brother-in-law, Darwin Sciba, of Spokane, Washington.

Although Mr. Luttrell's birthday occurred on October 20th, the special treat for his birthday took place on the 24th, starting with an early birthday dinner at Opry Mills. After dinner, they attended the Grand Ole Opry Show, which Mr. Luttrell considered very special. It brought back many memories for him.

In January 1942, Woodrow and his wife, Gladys, performed on the stage of the Grand Ole Opry with the first square dancers performing on the Opry. They were recruited by a friend, Fred W. Colby, for George D. Hay, who wanted to add square dancing to the show. Mr. Hay, known as the Solemn Ole Judge, is credited as the founder of WSM's Grand Ole Opry in 1925.

At times Mr. Luttrell was one of the "Callers" for the square dancers. Calls broadcast to the radio audience, instructing what maneuvers were to be performed by the other four couples. In those days, they did the Appalachian Running Style Square Dancing, not clogging. Five couples of dancers, in costumes of denims and long home hand-made gingham plaid dresses, performed there every other Saturday night until he joined the U. S. Air Force in July 1942. In 1974 while meeting with Mr. Hal Durham on work-related business, Mr. Durham, who was the Grand Ole Opry Manager at the time, presented Mr. Luttrell with an official certificate, indicating that he had performed on stage of the world famous, Grand Ole Opry.

During the planning of this special event, Mr. Luttrell's daughter, Lisa, provided the Opry ticket sellers, the information that the birthday party would be attending, honoring her father's 93rd birthday and also his Grand Ole Opry history. Mr. Luttrell said, "So, sure enough - as was done for others during the evening, the Emcee Announcer, introduced me and read about our related history. After the mention of my name and the 93rd birthday, there was a nice audience applause, then a more resounding applause when mention was made about Square Dancing on the Opry in January 1942. Thus, I was truly honored, on my 93rd Birthday, including a special dessert at the dinner on Saturday."

Mr. Luttrell was born in Corryton, Knox County, Tennessee. He graduated in 1934 from Gibbs High School and attended the University of Tennessee 1934-1938, receiving a B.S. Degree in Agriculture with a major in Dairy Manufacturing and a minor in Agronomy.

From June 1938 - 1942, he worked in Wayne and Perry Counties as a U.T. Extension Assistant County Agent, Soil Erosion Control; Giles County as a USDA Farm Security Agent and in Davidson County as a 4-H Club Agent, before joining the Air Force.

On November 27, 1941 he married Gladys Carlton at the home of Gladys' aunt Ola and Goffrey Marable in Murfreesboro, Tennessee and had three children; Lisa, Joe Carlton (deceased), and Patsy. His late wife, Gladys Carlton Luttrell was an Eagleville native, graduating from Eagleville High School in 1935, and was a star basketball player.

Mr. Luttrell's duties in the Air Force started as a Glider Pilot Flying Staff Sergeant on a strip of alfalfa in a farm field on the MTSU Campus, Murfreesboro. That program was discontinued, and he became a Weatherman at Bowman Field, Louisville, Kentucky. He then was shipped to Greenland, above the Arctic Circle for one year. In July 1945, transferring to beautiful Bermuda until discharged in January 1946.

Returning home in 1946 and until 1948, he was the U.T. Agriculture Extension 4-H Club Agent for Boys and later the County Agent for Rutherford County. He is well known and respected throughout the Middle Tennessee area for his impressive work through the years. Mr. Luttrell retired January 15, 1982, but remains very active, keeping in touch with his many friends.

Fun At FFA Alumni Trivia Night

What is the flavor of the Frankenberry cereal? What was the name of the man that married Pocahontas? What country started the tradition of the Christmas tree? Does this sound like trivia to you? Well for over 300 people at the Eagleville School gym Saturday night November 7th these questions and 97 other questions were vital to winning the FFA Sixth Annual Trivia Night competition.

The 52 teams of 6 players each, FFA members and alumni members, school faculty and staff, and spectators brought the crowd to well over 300. The trivia night was once again successful and fun for all. A pork tenderloin dinner was served and featured donated homemade desserts. The door prizes between each of the 10 rounds kept the excitement going as the judges scored each teams answer sheet. A silent auction was held starting with round one and ending with round 8. The categories this year were cereal, military T.V. shows, holidays, sports, agriculture, around the world, American history, 1920's, animals, and music, kept each team busy scrambling for answers to 10 questions. Some of the questions were fairly easy while many required team members to search their knowledge for the correct answer.

The winning team for the 2009 FFA Trivia Night consisted of Ronnie Brown, Brenda Brown, Robert Brown, Christy Brown, Jay Brown, and Jimmy Ogilvie. Each team member won a trio gift pack box of fruit, a peppered turkey breast, a poinsettia from the FFA greenhouse, and free entry to next year's trivia game.

All proceeds from the night benefit the students who participate in various activities and competitions, which are part of the FFA. Summer camp, team and individual competitions, and state convention give students opportunities for growth and learning important leadership skills. The Eagleville FFA students and FFA alumni appreciate all the help of their volunteers and all those who supported the Trivia Night.

The seventh annual FFA Trivia Night will be held on Saturday, November 6th 2010. For more information about forming a team or donating an item contact Mrs. Ann Haley or Mr. Scott Bolden.

Brought to you by The Eagleville Times

Please join us for the 6th Annual Eagleville Christmas Parade of Homes on Sunday, December 13th, 2009 from 2-6 p.m.

All proceeds from this yearly event are donated to the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, a pediatric treatment facility that treats childhood cancer and catastrophic diseases. St. Jude is often a place where doctors send some of their sickest and toughest cases and where all patients are treated without regard to the family's ability to pay.

Tickets are only $8 in advance ($10 the day of the event) and are on sale now at Ralston's Antiques, Eagleville City Hall, and Eagleville Florist and Gifts. Grab a few friends and load up your car for this fun afternoon, as some of Eagleville's most unique homes throw open their doors for the holidays!

The Smith Residence

*588 College Grove Rd.
Eagleville, TN*

Walking into this home is like coming in from the beach, though this beautiful plantation-style home is situated on an old family farm smack dab in the middle of a soybean field. Bright, beachy colors can be found throughout, making it one of Eagleville's most unique homes. The wide, spacious, wraparound porch will be flanked with fresh magnolias, and accented with twinkling clear lights.

While whimsical Christmas décor can be found throughout the home, a nautical-themed Christmas tree will greet guests in the foyer, decked out in sand dollars and shells, while a giant starfish sits high atop the tree.

Backyard Museum of Charles Swann

*103 Sub Station Rd.
Unionville, TN*

Tucked away in this festively lit backyard, you will find a museum filled with restored antique gas pumps reflecting the homeowner's personal hobby and interests. A fully restored 1934 4-door Ford Sedan and 1927 Model T can also be found parked among this unique collection of antique gas pumps; which are beautifully lit up and brightly painted, bringing back memories of yesteryears.

Come check out the entire collection, which includes vintage memorabilia of all sorts—signs, oil rack displays, air meters, gas pump lenses, and restored Coke machines in working condition.

Residence of Wayne and Rhonda Tucker

*388 Swamp Road
Eagleville, TN*

This home is truly where Eagleville meets the North Pole! Elaborately decorated for the holidays both inside and out, there is a lot to see at this residence. Amongst Christmas trees of all sorts and themes, you will find fresh greenery of cedar, pine, hemlock, magnolia, and even grapevine throughout.

Only steps away from the back door, guests will find a festive red barn that is throwing its doors open for a season of entertaining family and friends. The barn is finished in rough oak and red cedar, setting the stage for a full-size sleigh that has been beautifully decorated for the holidays, and other nostalgic antiques the owner's have obtained locally, including the old RC Cola machine from the Rigsby Brother's Garage, and coal burning stove in the kitchen area that once belonged to the owner's great-great grandmother.

The Burns Residence

*2913 Little Rock Rd.
Eagleville, TN*

Reminiscent of an old, southern farmhouse that once stood on the property, the unique architecture and the owner's dedication to preserve some of the original structure, materials, and historical integrity make this home a must see.

In the Burns family for well over 100 years, the owners used the old stone, poplar, and logs from the original home, while the log cabin structure, estimated to be around 200 years old, now serves as the master bedroom. Decorated for the holidays in stunning simplicity, you don't want to miss the opportunity to see this beautiful home.

Residence of Tony and Janet Tucker

*736 Swamp Rd.
Eagleville, TN*

An array of Christmas trees can be found throughout this home, each with their own unique theme, and filled with ornaments the owners have collected over the years and in their travels. Each room of the home will feature its own unique Christmas tree, including a cow tree, which reflects the owners' dairy farm that surrounds the home, and even a Christmas tree filled with sentimental ornaments from the owners' children who are now grown.

A lighted Rudolph's Village can be found in the den, while the mantle above the fireplace features lighted Christmas garland, stockings for each family member, and a nativity collection.

Planning for Holiday Success

Seemingly, Halloween kicks off the beginning of a season filled with too much food, too much drink, too much spending, and too much of the “ideal holiday season” dancing in our heads. The holidays have become a blitz of overeating, socializing, shopping, and decorating—spinning many of us into a frenzy of uncontrolled spending, social commitments, and family obligations as we race to the finish line on New Year’s Day. Knowing the holidays are behind us, we express a sigh of relief; most of us feel drained as we anticipate the clean up and how to pay for it all.

A few days ago my brother and his wife came for an overnight visit, and I observed my cats Pyper and Jasper as they interacted with our guests. My cats had the right idea for socializing. When our company arrived, Pyper and Jasper greeted them with wide eyes and lots of curiosity about tote bags and suitcases, much in the same way that we anticipate Christmas gifts. My cats confiscated keys, earrings, and make-up brushes. Obviously, they were not impressed with money; instead they relished a good game of hide-and-seek or fetch with their new “treasures.” As their excitement wore off, the two felines settled into a more subdued mood—watching, listening, and then retreating to a vacant room for peace and quiet.

For most of us, the holiday season brings to mind images of friends and families enjoying conversation and cheer around an elaborately decorated dinner table overflowing with food and drinks. Advertisers embrace this season by presenting pictures of cars, diamonds, and other expensive gifts.

The reality of the holidays is usually different than those commercial images. Many of us struggle to meet the challenges of a season that should fill us with Joy, but instead can overwhelm us with unrealistic expectations. Here are a few ideas that you might find helpful in dealing with holiday stressors:

- Reality: If you have locked horns with someone over politics, employment, religion, or any topic of controversy, it’s unrealistic to think holiday cheer will bury a bone of contention. Be gentle, be honest, and steer clear of topics that historically have caused stress.
- Gifts: For years within my family, I have advocated an elimination of gift giving during the holidays. To me, time filled with good food, stimulating conversation, and laughter is far more important and rewarding. Trinkets, toys, and expensive gifts will soon be set aside, but memories of laughter and listening to one another will warm our hearts for years to come.
- Sleep: During the holidays many of us eat and drink too much while trying to make the most of every minute of our days by cleaning, decorating, shopping, and attending parties. All of these things increase the chaos of holiday stress. Take time to recharge your bodies and your mind; nothing does that better than a good night’s rest.

The holiday gifts I remember most are enjoying a slice of Aunt Vicky’s apple stack cake and heading out to a turkey shoot with my grandfather. We might be able to learn something from Pyper and Jasper—nothing will take the place of time spent playing fetch or a good game of hide-and-seek. Our pets accept us regardless of political affiliation, waist size, or the cost of a gift. To them, the greatest gift is our presence, affection, and time.

USDA REMINDS PRODUCERS OF UPCOMING LIVESTOCK DISASTER ASSISTANCE DEADLINES

Franklin, TN, Nov. 12, 2009
– Williamson County USDA

Farm Service Agency (FSA) Executive Director Betty Hampton, reminds eligible ranchers and livestock producers of the Dec. 10 deadline for applying for benefits under the provisions of the Livestock Forage Disaster Program (LFP) for losses incurred during calendar year 2008. For losses incurred during the 2009 calendar year, the deadline to apply for benefits is Jan. 30, 2010.

LFP provides payments to eligible livestock producers that have suffered livestock grazing losses due to qualifying drought or fire. Fire losses apply only to federally managed rangeland. Eligible livestock under LFP include beef cattle, alpacas, buffalo, beefalo, dairy cattle, deer, elk, emus, equine, goats, llamas, poultry, reindeer, sheep and swine. For losses due to drought, qualifying drought ratings are determined using the U.S. Drought Monitor located at <http://www.drought.unl.edu/dm/monitor.html>.

"It is imperative that livestock producers meet these deadlines for disaster assistance as there are no late file provisions for LFP," said Hampton. "To insure a smooth application process, producers should have all required supporting documentation with them at the time they visit our office to apply for benefits."

In order for an LFP applicant to qualify for program benefits, the applicant must have purchased insurance coverage through FSA's Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) or the Pasture, Rangeland and Forage Insurance (PRF) program offered through the Risk Management Agency (RMA).

Producers who meet the requirements of a socially disadvantaged, limited resource, or beginning farmers or ranchers, as defined in the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990, Section 2501 (e) (7 U.S.C. 2279(e)), do not have to meet this Risk Management Purchase Requirement (RMPR) and, therefore, are not required to have paid the buy-in fee.

LFP program applicants should note that in addition to risk management provisions, certain payment limitation and adjusted gross income eligibility requirements must be met in order to qualify for livestock disaster program benefits.

For more information or to apply for LFP and other USDA Farm Service Agency disaster assistance programs, please contact the Williamson County FSA office at 615-794-8488. Information can also be obtained on line at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>.

4th Grade Studies Revolutionary War

By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

Ennis Wallace Sharing Local Flat Creek History

The Revolutionary War was one topic of studies for the 4th grade class at Bethesda School in Williamson County during the month of October. To conclude their studies, the students, class teachers and a few parents enjoyed a well-planned field trip, held on October 28th, 29th and 30th. The large group of 136 students was divided into three groups, one group touring each day.

The very informative trip included, on site of the Laban Hartley Land Grant of 1200+ acres, the Thomas Gillespie Land Grant of 4,000 acres and the George McLane Land Grant of 1000 acres.

The grant of Laban Hartley, (1742-1843), who moved to Tennessee and settled in the Cross Keys area, reached from the top of Pull Tight Hill to the Cross Keys Baptist Church. One can look down through the valley on what was once Hartley land. Laban Hartley, known as the "Old Scotchman, was a Private in the Continental Army, receiving a land grant, surveyed in the late 1700s. While visiting the Scenic Over-Look on Pull Tight Hill, the group was addressed with a very knowledgeable speech by John Ross, past president of the Scottish Clan of Middle Tennessee. In full Scottish attire, he told of the Scot and Scot-Irish settlers of the area.

Thomas Gillespie, (1728-1796) furnished supplies during the Revolution and was considered a patriot. Thomas and his wife, Naomi, were early settlers of the Flat Creek area. Being a large landowner in North Carolina, he purchased the North Carolina Grant #80 of 4000 acres, July 10, 1788, "track of land laying in the Middle District, lying on the Flat Creek, the North Side of Duck River, joining Thomas Allison's line." This land is now encompassed in the counties of Marshall, Maury and Williamson.

The George McLane grant joined the Gillespie land, on the north east corner of the Ridge, running south 1 ½ miles to Flat Creek, east 1 ¼ miles, north 1 ½ miles then back to the beginning. The Gillespie and McLane grants were surveyed by Griffith Rutherford, for whom Rutherford County is named.

Another stop on the student's field trip was the first permanent home, south of the Continental Line. The house, still standing, is located at the intersection of Cross Keys Road and Pull Tight Hill. Leban Hartley Jr., who was born in Rowan County, North Carolina, moved to Tennessee a couple of years prior to his father and built this home of yellow sandstone slabs.

Continuing, the group traveled to the Moses Steele Cemetery. Believed to be buried there are; David Gillespie (1761-1835), Thomas Gillespie (1755-1830), Issac Gillespie (1750-1826), Bennett Hargrove (1764-1842), Laban Hartley (1742-1843), Sherwood Smith (1761-1851), Zachariah Smith (1757-1840) and Moses Steele (17__-1844).

A Historical Marker, with the above names, marks this location. In 1808 Moses Steele of Mecklenberg County, North Carolina bought 225 acres of the 4000-acre grant of Thomas Gillespie. Steele donated part of this land for the cemetery.

Leaving the cemetery, the last stop was the Flat Creek Community Center, where everyone enjoyed a sack lunch. Mrs. Ennis Wallace greeted and served apple cider to the group.

After lunch, Mr. Ennis Wallace, a noted historian of the area, gave a very informative talk on the history and early families of the area. Copies of land grants, historical documents and photographs were shared with the school group, who were very attentive to his speech and asked many questions.

Cruising On Fall Break

Butch and Sherry Cunningham, along with their children, Jamie & Bruce Lynch (Jeremiah & Jamillia) Jay & Tiffany Cunningham (Josh & Morgan) boarded the cruise ship, Glory, in Port Canaveral, FL cruising to Cozumel, Belize, Costa Maya and Nassau over fall break. Cozumel was exciting with Stingray encounters, snorkeling and shopping. Belize was a thriller for Sherry and Jeremiah as they went on a Zipline Canopy Tour and repelling adventure through the forest while others opted for tours and shopping. Costa Maya was fun packed with shopping, tours and swimming. While in Nassau, city tours, Atlantis, Paradise Island, Queen Anne's Staircase, Fincastle Fort and Pirate's Museum were on the agenda, along with time at the Straw Market. While on ship, Bruce and Jay won 1st place in men's double volleyball tournament. Jamie won 1st place in basketball shootout tournament. Tiffany and Sherry kept things going along with Jeremiah, Jamillia and Morgan taking classes for Michael Jackson's Thriller and The Cupid Shuffle. Josh and Butch were also seen dancing on deck to the band playing island music. Butch and the grandchildren kept the miniature golf course busy. Butch also assisted in a juggling act at the Amber Palace Showtime. Too much fun...too much to eat. Had to come home to rest and get a break.

Sidestep High-Calorie Holidays

For many of us, food is an important part of the holiday season. Family gatherings feature meals consisting of high-fat, high-calorie temptations that can sabotage even the most dedicated of otherwise healthy eaters. TOPS Club, Inc. (Take Off Pounds Sensibly), the nonprofit weight-loss support organization, recommends strategies that will allow you to navigate common food-centered traps while still enjoying festive celebrations without regret. Consider the following "smart swapping" tips to ensure that the turkey is the only one stuffed this season:

- Choose two slices of skinless turkey breast over a drumstick to save calories and reduce fat and cholesterol.
- Avoid using boxed stuffing mix and, instead, make your own with whole grain bread and turkey or chicken sausage. Increase the nutritional value by incorporating fruits, such as apples, pears, and cranberries, or almonds and walnuts.
- Canned cranberry sauce often contains excess amounts of high-fructose corn syrup. Make your own cranberry sauce by pureeing dried cranberries in orange juice and water, or substitute the sauce with fruit-flavored gelatin.
- Replace candied sweet potatoes with mashed or baked sweet potatoes. Replace heavy cream in the mashed potatoes with low-fat buttermilk and add a vegetable that can be easily mashed, such as turnips or green onion. Olive oil and dried or fresh herbs liven up roasted red potatoes with minimal calories.
- Commonly known as "cocktail franks" or "pigs in a blanket," bite-sized hot dogs are always a popular appetizer but laden with sodium and fat. Instead, snack on mini quiches for a tasty dose of protein that keeps you full.

- Steer clear of crab cakes, which are typically breaded and deep-fried. Enjoy pieces of steamed or boiled shrimp dipped in cocktail sauce for a calorie-light alternative.
- Swap potato chips and dip for the equally satisfying crunch of veggies. Dip into hummus or salsa for a low-calorie, flavorful topping.
- For a sweet snack, enjoy an apple baked with cinnamon and nutmeg instead of an overly-indulgent caramel apple.
- Pecan pie contains high amounts of sugar and fat – up to 800 calories per slice. Choose pumpkin pie for a rich, creamy dessert, and make it even healthier by using evaporated skim milk and egg substitute.
- Consisting of heavy cream, eggs, milk, and sugar, egg nog is a classic holiday beverage. But even without the addition of alcohol, this drink can still spell disaster for those who are watching their weight. Try homemade hot chocolate and leave off the whipped cream to partake sensibly.

With these simple tradeoffs and a bit of discipline, you will be able to celebrate the season without feeling deprived – but just as satisfied.

TOPS Club Inc. (Take Off Pounds Sensibly), the original, nonprofit weight-loss education and support organization, was established more than 61 years ago to champion weight-loss support and success. Founded and headquartered in Milwaukee, Wis., TOPS promotes successful weight management with a philosophy that combines healthy eating, regular exercise, wellness education, and support from others at weekly chapter meetings. TOPS has about 170,000 members in nearly 10,000 chapters throughout the United States and Canada, and several chapters in Europe.

Little Stories About You & Me

By Nancy Allen

Two Thanksgivings

How many thanksgivings do you celebrate? I sometimes like to think I celebrate thanksgiving every day. Although I usually eat too much, my regular meals pale in comparison to my traditional Thanksgiving meal. I am nevertheless thankful for the bounty of both.

Because the majority of our clan puts in an appearance at more than one place on Thanksgiving Day we have begun a new tradition. We now have Thanksgiving breakfast at our house. Later in the day, those who are left eat turkey sandwiches and chips while watching a ball game.

In the autumn of 1621, the Pilgrims were able to celebrate their first year in the New World. An Indian by the name of Squanto had taught the settlers how to grow pumpkins, squash, lima beans, peppers, sweet potatoes and Indian corn. He even showed them how to hunt wild turkeys. William Bradford, a famous Pilgrim leader wrote: "Squanto continued with the Pilgrims and was their interpreter, and was a special instrument sent of God for their good beyond their expectations. He directed them how to set their corn, where to take fish and to procure other commodities, and was also their pilot to brink them to unknown places for their profit, and never left them till he died." At the first celebration there were approximately 100 Indians and more than 30 settlers that came together for three days of feasting, recreation and thanksgiving.

In 1939 President Roosevelt changed Thanksgiving from the fourth Thursday to the third Thursday in order to lengthen the shopping time between Thanksgiving and Christmas. While this pleased the larger retailers, it caused smaller businesses to lose money. Calendar makers were worst hit. All of their calendars were out of date for the next two years. Rescheduling the holiday played havoc with the school system. Vacation times had been set and now football games were planned for the wrong day.

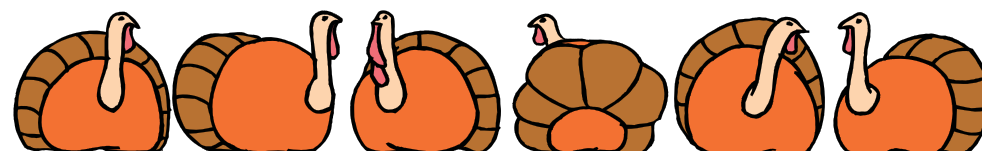

Opposition grew. Some governors refused to change the date while others complied making Thanksgiving in some states on the third Thursday and in other states on the fourth Thursday. Families living in different states were no longer able to get together for Thanksgiving.

Under fire, President Roosevelt kept Thanksgiving on the second to last Thursday for two more years, but finally public outrage caused congress to pass a law on December 26th 1941 declaring Thanksgiving to be officially on the fourth Thursday in November.

Thomas Hall was 21 years old and a student at Middle Tennessee State College in 1939. He remembers President Roosevelt changing the date for Thanksgiving, but it didn't have much impact on him. His family lived on a farm where they raised turkeys and vegetables and there was always plenty to eat. Thanksgiving was just like any other day to farmers. Chores were still done on holidays. He didn't go home for the holiday, but remembers being asked by his music teacher, Mr. Valdez, to be in the Thanksgiving Day Parade. One of the band members was sick and they needed a replacement. Mr. Hall said his trumpet playing wasn't very good, but there was so much noise it didn't seem to matter. It was snowing that day with three to four inches of snow on the ground. He remembers another Thanksgiving after he and his wife were married. They were traveling to Kansas and that year there was no Thanksgiving dinner. They couldn't find a single restaurant open. The highway department had just begun to build the interstate system and they had to take many detours.

Some people think the Indians set the date for Thanksgiving, but in fact Americans celebrated Thanksgiving at different times until 1863 when President Lincoln began the observance in November.

How and whenever you celebrate—count your blessing and have a Happy Thanksgiving!

Laura On Life

By Laura Snyder

Once Upon A Time

Once upon a time, there was a fairly average, run-of-the-mill maid named Laura. She grew up in a poor section of a city where she played on the sidewalk and wore hand-me-downs from friends that said "That looked better on me than it does on you."

One day, her family moved to the country where Laura was introduced to trees and grass. She became a tomboy because boys had so much more fun than girls. Laura climbed trees, rode mini-bikes and raced the boys in her bare feet. Blue jeans were her clothing of choice and everything she owned was made of denim, even her shoes, should she decide to wear them.

At some point, in middle school, Laura suddenly discovered boys... and chocolate. The boys, however, didn't know Laura existed, so chocolate became her best friend. The boys were still unconscious when she got to high school. Laura began to do things like brush her hair more than once a day. She started to wear shoes and let the boys win a race now and then. She still wore hand-me-downs but they were from people who didn't know her.

The boys remained comatose.

Laura thought, "What do I have to do?" She thought about hanging a neon sign around her neck that said: This is a Girl! How silly.

Then one day in 11th grade, while working at her first job, a boy – an actual boy – came to talk to her! She wasn't even wearing her neon sign! He put his arm around her and she felt safe and happy... like she didn't need chocolate that day. Amazingly, this boy, who was definitely not unconscious, came to talk to Laura every day. They shared their hopes, their dreams and their chocolate.

Laura was awed by this guy. He didn't seem to care what she wore or whether she went barefoot. He made it clear that he would love her whether she brushed her hair or shaved it all off. He was proud of the fact that she could win a race against him. He just wanted to be the guy she ran with. He told her that the guys at her school were blind and their tastes probably ran towards sheep rather than women. Laura loved him for that.

One year after graduation, Laura married her knight in shining armor. Over the years, she had many bad-hair days and he found out that she doesn't cook so well either, but he still loved her. His armor dimmed just a bit, but she loved him even more. She encouraged his dreams and he made them happen. She was finally able to buy her own clothes.

Babies and mortgages, job losses and setbacks, dirty diapers and mid-life crises, Laura and her man welcomed all of these challenges with the strength that comes from true love, new clothes, and chocolate.

Truly, they lived... happily ever after.

BENNETTS' 64th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

A very special wedding anniversary is approaching for Clyde and Susie Bennett, of Peytonsville. On November 29th, 1945, Clyde Bennett and Susie Florence Garner were married in Huntsville, Alabama. The Bennett's met as children, attending Peytonsville School. As young children, one Christmas, Susie drew Clyde's name for their class Christmas tree gift giving. She asked her Mother to please get him something special because his Mother had died and she felt sorry for him. Even though times were hard, her Mother, Mary, bought him a big shiny metal truck for his gift, for which he was very proud.

The close knit Bennett Family consists of five children, all whom graduated from Bethesda School; Brenda (King), William "Copper", Lula (Heithcock), Leola (Glenn), and Richard Clyde "Ricky". In addition to their children they also have fourteen grandchildren and twelve great- grandchildren, and they are very proud of each one.

Clyde and Susie, along with members of their family, are very active with the Peytonsville Fire Hall. They are always there, helping out with fund raising and other events. They also attend College Grove Country-Blue Grass Music, which they helped in the organization, on every Friday night and are loyal supporters of the Eagleville Country Music and Dance, once a month.

Congratulations, Clyde and Susie, hope you'll celebrate many more.

By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

Daniel Rothwell, Eagleville's favorite Ole Tyme Banjo Picker, along with his parents, Danny and Deana Rothwell recently traveled to Virginia where Danny underwent a surgical procedure to release the tightening of the tendons in his legs. Recuperating with both legs in casts, at the home of his grandparents, Thomas and Beulah Maupin, Daniel would enjoy receiving cards, notes or letters. His address: Daniel Rothwell, 1123 Mooreland Lane, Murfreesboro, Tennessee 37128. Please let Daniel hear from you.

Happy Thanksgiving

Why Do We Celebrate on Thanksgiving Day?

Thanksgiving Day is a holiday in the United States commemorating the Pilgrims' celebration of the harvest reaped by the Plymouth Colony in 1621. It had been a terrible winter with starvation. The celebration was probably held in October. Also joining the feast or celebration was the Wampanoag (Indians) who were their neighbors and they brought food to the three-day celebration.

Macy's Day Parade Trivia

It has always been a tradition in our family to watch the Macy's Day parade on Thanksgiving morning. The fire is roaring and great smells are permeating from the kitchen. Here's are some facts about that popular parade we all know and love.

- The very first Macy's Day Parade was held in 1924
- The first parade didn't have balloons but borrowed animals from the zoo
- Felix the Cat was the very first balloon to be used in 1927
- The parade used to be called the Macy's Day Christmas Parade
- Employees from Macy's were mostly immigrants and they wanted to celebrate their Thanksgiving holiday like most Europeans did, with a parade.

Thanksgiving Placemats

Children are so proud to have their artwork displayed. Why not let them create placemats for your holiday table. The placemat can be taken home as a memorable party favor.

Materials Needed:

- |   |                     |
|---|---------------------|
| Construction Paper 12 X 9               | Glue or Glue Stick  |
| Coordinating Colored Construction Paper | Markers             |
| Scissors                                | Clear Contact Paper |

1. Trace or draw leaf shapes onto paper. Cut out the shapes. For younger children you may want to do this ahead of time.
2. Have the children think of things they are thankful for. If they are old enough to write, but still need help, write the items on the board and let them copy them onto the leaf shapes.
3. Glue pieces down to the construction paper.
4. Cut the clear contact paper 1/2" larger than the black placemat. Put the clear contact paper on both sides of the place mat.
5. Smooth out the air bubbles.
6. Trim the edges to 1/4" on each side and you are done
7. You may want to write the child's name and year on the back.
