Sierra Rigsby Named 2012 TSCA State Champion

Congratulations to Sierra Rigsby, daughter of Steve and Cathy Rigsby of Eagleville, for winning the Tennessee State Championship in Western Pleasure 12 and under. Sierra and her pony, Tinkerbelle, competed in the TSCA State Horse Show in Lebanon on August 31st against other riders from across the state. In order to compete at the state show riders must belong to a Tennessee Saddle Club and compete throughout the summer. The top five point earners from each club qualify to compete at the state level. Sierra is a member of the Triune Riding Club and competes in western pleasure, halter, showmanship, and trail. TRC holds horse shows every Friday from May through August. She is also a member of the Williamson County 4-H Horse Program and competed at the 4-H county and regional levels earning high honors. Sierra shows Tinkerbelle at other local horse shows and recently won the Horsemanship Award at the Eagleville Country Horse Show this past August.

The 2011 show season was the first year Sierra competed at the state level. She and her pony, Taffy, took 2nd place honors in Western Pleasure 12 and under. Unfortunately, just a few weeks after the state show Taffy became seriously ill and passed away last October. This was a huge heartbreak to Sierra. The search began for another pony. A family friend, Laura Totty, found Tinkerbelle on the internet and soon she was on her way from Minnesota to Eagleville. Tinkerbelle arrived in mid November and their friendship began. Sierra and Tinkerbelle had their share of challenges this season, so much that they almost quit showing in June. But they continued working together and training hard to overcome the challenges and become state champions.

Sierra and Tinkerbelle train under the instruction of Aelin Johnson and John Herrington at Cedar Springs Farm in Rover. Aelin and John provide lessons and training in Western and English riding from beginners to competitive riders. Other services include correction of behavioral issues, rehabilitation of abused horses, and a full boarding facility. For more information check out www.aelinsequinettraining.webs.com.

A Message From Your Mayor Hello Eagleville!

As we enter fall another crop of seniors are preparing for there finial year at Eagleville School. Let's support them in any way we can.

May I say to the seniors , study , prepare for life and enjoy your journey .

I hope you have noticed there are more business's on Main Street today than in the past several years. Let's hope we can support them and keep our local economy growing in order to better serve our local citizens.

As our city continues to enhance the quality of life for all of us, we the city have made strides in pursuing a public sewer system. We do have our operating permit number. This is a first step in obtaining the permit and we should have the operations permit in the next few weeks. Also, we have completed the application and turned it in to USDA for a parcel grant. This process will take more time since this is our federal government, however, we will know some results in the near future.

November will very important to our city and nation. Locally, we will elect three new members to your city council. There are five qualified candidates running for the three offices. I encourage you to call and ask questions to all five of them to assure yourself that you are voting for the person who shares your same interest.

In our national election we will elect congressmen as well as the President of The United States for the next four years. This is the most important thing you can do as a citizen and for your country. PLEASE, GET OUT AND VOTE.

Please support you local business and always support our school in every way you can.

If I can be of assistance, feel free to call my personal cell number at 849-6509.

Sam Tune, Eagleville Mayor

Eagleville Celebrates School's New Middle School Wing

By James Evans, Rutherford County Schools

Parent Phoebe Smith's oldest child was forced to take two classes in a portable classroom during sixth and seventh grade, but that's no longer the case now that a new middle school wing has been completed at Eagleville School.

"They would have to come in to go to the restroom and that kind of thing, and so I think it's nice to be able to have all of that right here," Smith said.

Smith was one of approximately 300 Eagleville parents who toured the new wing after a PTO dinner and open house at the school this week. Parents were fed a barbecue dinner, given a short presentation and then walked the halls so their children could show them their classrooms.

"It's the community spirit. It's always been like this. I can't take credit for it," Principal Bill Tollett said about the high turnout for the event. "Traditionally we have a lot of people come out for open house. We try to have a very approachable attitude with teachers and the administration. It's our school — it's not my school or their school — it's everybody's school together. Of course, when you feed them barbecue that always helps too."

Rutherford County Schools spent approximately $2.9 million to construct the new addition. The 15,000 square-foot wing features nine new classrooms including a science lab, computer lab and teacher workroom area. The wing also includes a 14,000 square-foot basement, which is unfinished for now for future expansion. The district also constructed a new concession stand with men's and women's restrooms to replace the one that was demolished because of the new construction.

The new addition allowed for the school to get rid of four doublewide portables — which amounts to eight classrooms, Tollett said.

"They can't believe how nice it is — all the technology is state of the art," Tollett said. "The response from the parents has been very, very positive."

Smith agreed and said the students and teachers both appreciate having a nicer facility.

"I think it's wonderful and I think it's been a long time coming," Smith said. "I have two children, actually, a sixth-grader and an eighth-grader who are both in the middle school wing. They both started kindergarten here and so we've been here since the beginning. It's just amazing. I think for what it's done for the morale of the kids to make them feel like they've gotten something new."

"The teachers got to move in from the portables this year and I think that's been great for the morale of the teachers, as well. Overall, I can't say enough nice things about it."

The district also plans to complete a second phase addition that will include a new auditorium and rehearsal rooms for band and choir, but an exact timeline has not yet been established for that project.

Incorporation of the community of Eagleville was proposed as early as 1947, but did not develop to the point of enactment until two years later. A bill to incorporate the town of Eagleville was passed by the Lower House of the General Assembly, sponsored by District Representative Duncan Smith. State Senator Shelton Edwards agreed to sponsor the measure in the Upper House. The bill was signed by Governor Gordon Browning on February 25, 1949. It is reported that more than 90 percent of the people of Eagleville signed petitions asking for the incorporation. Main reason, reported, was for fire and police protection. There was some opposition from a small minority.

The incorporation act provided for a seven-man town commission. The commissioners would be elected each December, to serve during the following calendar year. The bill names seven men to serve as the first commissioners. The seven men were: Dr. E. L. Williams, Robert Lowe, Frank Crosslin, W. H. (Buck) Dyer, William McCord, Arch Bell and Russell Puckett. The Commissioners were not paid a salary. From this group of the first Eagleville Commissioners, Mr. W. H. (Buck) Dyer was elected the first Mayor of Eagleville.

In Memory of Clyde Bennett

By Bobbie Sue Shelton-Lonas

On September 7, 2012 Mr. William Clyde Bennett, of the Little Texas Community in Williamson County, passed away at the age of 86. He will be greatly missed by his family and friends, and especially by his many friends at the College Grove Bluegrass-Country Music and the Country Music and Dance at Eagleville. Clyde and his wife Susie have been very loyal supporters of both events. They were very involved in the organization of the College Grove event in 1994 and occupied their regular seats almost every Friday night. They've only missed a few times at the monthly dance in Eagleville, since it was organized, seven years ago.

In addition to being a farmer, Mr. Clyde retired from the State of Tennessee Highway Department after 19 years of service. He, his wife Susie, along with members of their family have been loyal supporters and very active with the Peytonsville Fire Hall.

The Truth About Islam

What do Muslims believe about God? What do they believe about Jesus Christ? What about salvation? Heaven and Hell? Marriage? The Qur'an? How do their beliefs compare with Biblical Christianity? With all that is going on in the world regarding followers of Islam, it is imperative to have a proper understanding of who Muslims are and what they truly believe.

The ministry of Dr. Raouf Ghattas is one that helps to shed light on these subjects and many more. Born in Cairo, Egypt, to an Evangelical Presbyterian family, he received his B.S. from Cairo University and immigrated to the United States in 1976. He worked for 12 years as a nuclear engineer. God called him to pastor the Arabic Mission of University Baptist Church, in Fort Worth, Texas, where he served from 1985-1990. While pastoring, he earned both his M.Div. and D.Min. from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, completing his doctorate in Muslim Evangelism. Today, he seeks to equip Believers of the Christian faith with the necessary tools for sharing the Gospel of Jesus Christ with Muslims in the Middle Tennessee area.

Please come and learn more about the truth of Islam.

PASTOR'S PONDERINGS

This is the month when children and young people will be spending time thinking of how to dress, how to put on a costume and make up to disguise themselves and become other people, creatures and things to try and trick others while they go door to door to receive candy and goodies. But as we observe this time of year when we try to disguise ourselves at parties, school and throughout our neighborhoods, may we also remember that there are times when we also are misunderstood, times when people do not really see us for who we are, or what we try to be. At times when we are misunderstood, we can be glad of the truth found in 1 Samuel 16:7, which says "The Lord does not see as man sees; for man looks on the outward appearance, but the Lord looks on the heart."

This truth is a real comfort for the children of God. How often the world misunderstands our motives, our intentions. Yes, and how often even our fellow Christians misunderstand and misrepresent us. But God knows! He sees beneath the surface. He knows the very intent of our hearts. And because He knows, He understands, even when others do not. It makes it easier to bear the reproach and misunderstandings of men when we are sure that our Lord knows all. As a familiar hymn puts it, "Jesus knows our every weakness."

Have a good October, and be assured: God knows, and understands.

Thank You Brother Jobe & Gloria Jobe

October is a celebration of our Preacher, Pastor Tommy Jobe of Rocky Glade Cumberland Presbyterian Church. We give thanks to the Lord for sending this wonderful person to our church, sharing his love and time for his flock, as Jesus did. We cannot give him enough praise for the work he has done throughout his time with us. A preacher's work is never complete, they continue even when there are not enough hours in the day. We are blessed with his word each Sunday as he shakes everyone's hand within the church, he also touches us with his soul as he ministers to our hearts. His wife, Gloria, is always by his side with every event that is going on within our church, she even endures our campouts each year, that is a true dutiful wife. With Gloria giving of her time, teaching Sunday School, cooking, ladies prayer connection and always asking, "What can I do to help?", she is always there with a helping hand. Thank you God for our "Brother Tommy Jobe".

NEWS FROM MS. HILL'S CLASS

We're back! August 8th brought 20 eager boys and girls through our door to begin another great school year at Eagleville School. However, we are very sad to say good-bye to Oakley Hinds who moved to another school a few weeks ago. We will miss him greatly.

August and September have been extremely busy months. We enjoyed sharing our room with parents and visitors at open house and built a jungle float on which we showed our "wild side" in the Eagleville homecoming parade. We also enjoyed Mr. Johnson's visit bringing free dictionaries from the Murfreesboro Rotary Club as well as many interesting guests who read their favorite books to our class on Sept. 24. The Eagleville Fire Department taught us fire safety tips. We cheered on our volleyball team during the in school game, and began working toward meeting our yearly A.R. goals for the Sounds Baseball Game. Everyone did a fantastic job on their first book report! Many students from our class are participating in baseball, football, cheerleading, and will be participating in basketball in a few weeks. We also raised $451 for our annual Eagle Strut school fund raiser! As you can see we have been pretty busy!

All are looking forward to Fall Break so we can kick back and relax just a bit before we put it in high gear when we return.

So long for now. Enjoy the lovely autumn weather.

A Bit Of Exercise Each Day Will Keep Cancer Away

When it comes to cancer prevention, even a little physical activity goes a long way, a just-released study suggests.

Research published in the medical journal The Lancet indicates that as little as 15 minutes of exercise a day reduces our risk of cancer - the second leading cause of death in the US - by 14 percent and adds about three years to our lives.

These findings come on the heels of another new study conducted at the Harvard School of Public Health, showing that small amounts of physical activity performed on regular basis can lower our risk of heart disease.

"We've been aware for a long time of beneficial effects exercise has on our health, but this new body of evidence re-confirms it," says Holly Drayton, Director of Operations at Fitness Together Nashville. "That should encourage all the inactive people to get off the couch and start moving."

While 15 minutes of physical fitness a day is beneficial - and certainly better than no exercise at all - Drayton says increasing it to 30 minutes or more will be even more effective.

Exercise can help lower the risk of various types of cancers by improving our heart and lung capacity, energy levels, and antioxidant defense, Drayton points out.

"Just as importantly, exercise leads to better weight control, which is absolutely essential not just in preventing cancer, but also other illnesses such as heart disease and diabetes," she says.

Drayton points to statistics from National Cancer Institute, which demonstrate that obesity may account for 25 to 30 percent of several types of cancers, as well 14 percent of cancer-related deaths in men and 20 percent of deaths in women.

"According to the American Institute for Cancer Research, more than 100,000 cases of cancer each year are caused by excess body fat," she says. "That's certainly a compelling reason to start a fat-burning, weight-reducing exercise program as soon as possible."

Any regular moderate to high-intensity exercise routine that will keep you moving and burning calories will be beneficial in preventing obesity-related cancers, Drayton says, especially in combination with a healthy diet rich in whole grains, fruits, vegetables, low-fat dairy, and lean protein.

To maximize weight and fat loss, Drayton recommends the following two workouts that are currently very popular:

Interval Training: Alternates high intensity exercises with low-intensity activity or rest, will result in weight loss and body fat reduction (and provides a terrific workout for your heart as well)

Strength Workout: Will increase your metabolism and burn calories. "The muscles that burn the most calories are located in the abdomen, arms, chest, and thighs, so work these muscle groups regularly and you're golden!"

Laura On Life

By Laura Snyder

Mom For President

Someone once said that it would be a great day when education had all the funding it needed and the Air Force had to hold a bake sale to buy a new bomber.

The safety and security of our country is incredibly important, but taking the education of our nation to a higher level would perhaps produce soldiers and pilots that could win a war without that extra bomber.

Ideally, both education and our military should have the lion's share of our tax dollars. Instead, nearly half of our tax dollars go to propping up individuals and families who are not able to support themselves. Perhaps if all Americans had a better education, we would be in a better position to vie for jobs that would support ourselves or have the tools to create our own businesses.

Simple economics shows, of course, that presently, there is a lack of jobs at which people could work. Again if more of our tax dollars were used for education, there would surely be more jobs for teachers and anyone skilled in any industry that produces educational material: textbooks, software, school supplies, desks, whiteboards and the construction of new classrooms and schools. The more jobs that open up, the less money would be needed to prop up those without an adequate means of support.

Now, I am not a mathematician or a politician. I don't even watch the news very often. But just a quick tally of the number of people in the nation multiplied by the amount of tax dollars I pay, is enough to convince me that there is a severe money leak somewhere in the government coffers.

If the powers that be really want to find the money for something as important as education or security, they must simply put a woman who has lived through the 50's and 60's in charge of the budget. She was raised by survivors of the Great Depression. Typically, her husband would give her a stipend of $30 each week that was supposed to feed 4 children, put braces on their teeth, feed a dog her husband insisted on, and buy clothes for all of them... except the dog. Even taking into account the inflation since then, that was an amazing feat.

My mother did that. For many years. She was a model of self-sufficiency and self-discipline at that time in our lives. I honestly don't know how she did it.

Mom grew her own vegetables rather than importing them from other countries... er, farmers. She cut every unnecessary expense like designer sneakers and "bridges to nowhere." She never used credit, because if she couldn't pay for it today, she knew she couldn't pay for it tomorrow. (Do you know that the US has steadily carried more debt every year of its existence except for 1834-1836, when Andrew Jackson was president? We had zero debt then.)

Mom put what little money she had where it would do the most good: Raising her country... er, family... into healthy, intelligent, self-supporting Americans.

Much of the waste in this country can be attributed to the "pork" that goes into every bill that is finally passed. Many Senators won't vote for a bill unless he or she gets some pet project paid for on the same bill. The writer of the bill will make that deal with the devil because he or she knows that the bill will not pass without those votes. That's called pork... and blackmail. It should be illegal.

Can you imagine if my mother was given that $30 from my father with the understanding that she would buy a pork roast for his mistress first? I can assure you that didn't happen. Not in my family and not in any other family. Otherwise the men wouldn't have lived long enough to reproduce. The money was for food, clothing and braces only - no pork. She made sure of it.

Now that I think of it - Move over Obama and Romney... Mom for President!

Little Stories About You & Me

By Nancy Allen

Shorty

Anthony James Tidwell had been known as 'Shorty' ever since he could remember. Although he hated his nickname he thought why shouldn't everyone call me 'shorty,' "I'm short-waisted short-armed, and short-legged. My shortcomings are sometimes more than I can bear."

Shorty had tried all his life to fit-in. Once he tried to play basketball with the guys, but one of the giant players scooped him up, ran down the court with him and dunked him right into the basket. If it hadn't been for his fat little bottom he would have scored two points for the opposing team. There he was stuck in the net. They had to get a ladder to bring him down. Then there was the time when the baseball team was short-handed and they laughed as they put him in the position of shortstop. That too proved to be shortsighted and was no place for Shorty.

As Shorty pondered his life he took a short hike to an escalated place where he put his face in his hands for a long, long while. There was no short answer to his problem, but when he came to an end to his thinking, he packed his bags and took the shortcut to Pigmyville where shortia bloom and shorthorn cattle graze on the lush green hills.

As he walked along he saw in the distance the most beautiful of all creatures. There she was, three-foot-two, Annie Mae Good, sitting in her swing dressed in her short-shorts and halter. In short order, Shorty expressed his love for her in his most alliterative shorthand: I ♥ U. Annie Mae responded in kind and soon they were married, celebrating with shortcake and Champaign. Shorty's anxiety over being short was short lived and soon Anthony James Tidwell didn't feel so short anymore.

The term Pygmy is used for any group whose adult males grow to be less than 4 feet 11 inches in height. People who are slightly taller are called Pigmoid. The best known Pygmies are the Aka, Efe and Mbuli of Central Africa; but they are also in Australia, Thailand, Malaysia, Indonesia, the Philippines, Papua New Guinea and Brazil. There are also more than 2 million people in the United States who have the condition known as Dwarfism. These people are born into families who have no history of dwarfism.

In some parts of the world pygmies may have developed because they live or have lived in tropical forest and had iodine-deficient diets. The exact cause of Dwarfism is still a mystery, however it is generally accepted that their small body size is a result of genetic adaptation.

Little People of America, a support system for people of short stature, was started by Billy Barty in 1957 and is limited to people 4 feet 10 inches and under. During their 2009 National Conference they put out a public statement regarding the use of the word 'midget,' which they consider to be offensive. Most people of small stature prefer to be called a 'little person.' Today there are approximately 651,000 members.

Electronic Recycling Program

Great news! Starting August 1, 2012, The City of Eagleville will begin a new service for its residents. Employees of the Eagleville Police and Fire Departments will pick up old/broken televisions and computer equipment to transport to a recycling center in Murfreesboro. There will be no cost to City of Eagleville residents for this service.

Mayor Tune and the City Council recognized the need for this type of assistance, especially for senior citizens; as disposing of heavy televisions, computers and electronic equipment is not allowed at the local Rutherford County trash collection site in Eagleville.

Citizens can call Eagleville City Hall at 615-274-2922 to schedule a pickup.

Monday - Thursday: 8:00 am - 5:00 pm
Friday: 8:00 am - noon.
