26TH ANNUAL PIONEER DAYS

The 26th Annual Pioneer Days enjoyed beautiful weather this year. Among the many visitors and spectators our club also had the pleasure of welcoming special guests from Illinois Massac County High School's FFA chapter. The group was on hand to sell raffle tickets for their beautifully restored 1964 John Deere 4020 tractor which they displayed. The event also welcomed back pullers and exhibitors from the Tennessee area and beyond. The Eagleville JROTC was also on hand and did an excellent job presenting the colors before the kickoff of each day's events.

The Tennessee Valley Pioneer Power Association would like to thank the local community for its ongoing support. We would also like to thank the dedicated folks who load up their tractors and exhibits to come play in the dirt with us every year. We sincerely hope everyone will join us again for our events in 2014.

Little Stories About You & Me

By Nancy Allen

Mind Your Manners

What if we treated our dinner guest like we treat our children?

"No, I'm not pregnant. My, look, how the time flies! I think I'd better be getting home."

"Well, it's about time you arrived. Where have you been anyway? You are twenty minutes late. You are never on time for anything. Looks like you could be on time once in your life."

"That's a sham. You just don't want to spend time with me."

"We'll do something together next week."

"I'll believe that when it happens!"

The host goes to the closet and retrieves the guest's coat. "Why are you wearing this ratty looking coat? I know you've got better. It's dirty! Look at that spot! You're a sloppy dresser. You really should present yourself better."

"Goodnight, I'll call you tomorrow," said the guest.

"Watch your driving now! You don't want to have another wreck. You could get yourself killed on the way home. I don't know what I'd do if I didn't have you as a friend."

"See you," said the guest as she gets in her car.

The host yells out the door. It's getting dark. Don't forget to turn on your headlights! The guest drives away wondering if she knows how to do anything right. She didn't realize she had failed to turn on the car lights until she was out of the city where suddenly everything seemed terribly dark.

Sometimes we tear our children down without even realizing it. Try this experiment: Cut a paper doll from a sheet of paper and put it in your pocket. Every time you speak to your child in a negative fashion, tear a little off the paper doll. How long does it take to completely destroy the doll?

No doubt boundaries must be set and confrontation is often necessary, but positive reinforcement of the good in your child will create more good.

A friend who's daughter was in a terrible accident due to drinking and driving said, "don't just be awake when you teenager comes home at night, get up and kiss her goodnight. By being up to kiss her goodnight you show positive interest in her and she may really tell you about her day and if there is something wrong you may find that out, too. You could be surprised at how much better you will get to know your child."

"You and that phone are connected at the ear. You stay on the phone way too much. Have you got that phone on now? Turn that thing off while we're having dinner."

"But, I'm expecting an important call." "It can wait until after we eat. It's not good for your digestion to be doing other things while you're trying to eat. Hurry and sit down. The food is already cold. Don't take that chair. You never sit in that chair. Get in your place where you belong. You pass the food the other way! Why isn't your napkin in your lap where it belongs? No, no, that fork is for salad. Nobody eats their main meal with a salad fork. Sit up straight while you're eating and tell me about your day."

"Tammy and I just hung out and talked."

"Are you still running around with that Tammy person? I wish you could make a better friend. You have really lowered your standards to be friends with her."

The dinner guest continues eating in silence. "Well, you've clammed up. Are you mad? If you stick your lip out any further you may step on it. You don't have anything to be mad about. You've brought this on yourself."

The dinner guest stops eating.

"I went to a lot of trouble to prepare this food and you mean to tell me you're not going to eat any more!"

"Thank you, I've had plenty," said the guest.

"When I think about it, I guess it is a good thing you're cutting back. I've noticed you're getting fat. Exercise is what you need to help you get rid of that belly. It's beginning to look like you're pregnant. Oh, my gosh, you're not pregnant, are you?"

Opinion

As the previous owner of the Eagleville Times, I'm getting many complaints regarding the change in ownership, cost and the way the new paper is being displayed. I'm sorry that so many of you are having problems with the new way of the paper. But unless you've tried to keep a paper running in a small town, there's no way you can understand all the osticles. So many small towns have lost their hometown paper.

Cost of printing and mailing was the main reason I had to drop what I had hoped to be a lifelong retirement job for me. There was never an income that I was able to achieve for the paper but I so much loved seeing the enjoyment and receiving compliments from mainly the elderly citizen's that have been a part of this community and paper for the past 10 years.

I feel it's important to express this opinion. You may not like that it's only 4 actual pages of the Eagleville Times each week. But, because the Reader is an accomplished paper, they have the means of keeping something for us in the newsstands, not only once a month but every week. This is why I made the decision to offer the paper to them.

My hope...is that small town Eagleville can continue to keep a newspaper. If you don't like it, simply don't pick it up and buy it. No one is forcing you to accept it. As far as subscriptions go, those are only offered as a convenience for you. Cost of a subscription is $1.50 each issue. Postage and printing of one paper come to $1.43. It would really be easier for the owner to not provide this convenience.

I've loved serving a community the best I knew how for the past 10 years. Please help me by not complaining so much. Just don't buy the paper if you don't like it. If the majority of the community decides not to support the paper, I'm sure the new owner will stop publication.

Sincerely, Debbie Ryan

Experiencing God's Grace For Over 200 Years

A Message From Your Mayor Greetings Eagleville Residents

As we leave summer and enter into the fall we have so many blessings to be thankful for.

Local farmers have had a great growing season with an abundance of crops and hay.

Our state, county and Eagleville economy continues to grow in strength. Jobs, local sales tax collected has increased about 500%, which is unheard of.

The city sewer project is still full speed with all monies, permits, approvals in place. The USDA is reviewing EVERY document to assure the project has no flaws and nothing has been overlooked. As soon as the review is complete the city can put the project out to bid. The city has successfully completed everything required, we are waiting!

Please support our local businesses. Eagleville has one of the best schools in the entire state. Please support our leaders of the future in any way possible.

If I can be assistance feel free to call my cell number 849-6509.

Thank you, Sam Tune. Eagleville, Mayor

NEWS FROM MS. HILL'S 3rd GRADE

It is already shaping up to be another great school year! Everyone enjoyed our open house in early August. New and old friends were excited to see each other and begin a new adventure at Eagleville School. Logan Fowler joined our classroom and instantly became a true little eagle. We welcome him and his family to our community.

All are working hard and enjoying learning new third grade skills such as multiplication, division, and new adventures in reading. We are making plans for our first book reports Sept. 19 as well as looking forward to Reading in the Schools on Sept. 16.

We have many students participating in Jr. Pro football and cheerleading this fall. As you can see we are a very busy bunch of boys and girls.

Everyone is hoping we meet our goal of the Eagle Run One N Done fund raiser. We loved seeing Mr. Tollett perched high atop the new gym for one whole night.

We hope to see everyone on Sept. 27 at the homecoming parade and football game. GO EAGLES!!

Always Thinking of You

Jesse C. Tate 1933-2010

I remember the day I met you,
And the day God made you mine,
I remember the day God took you,
And will, till the end of time.

We made our vows together,
Until death do we part,
But the day God took you from me,
My Whole world fell apart.

Sometimes I think I'm dreaming,
I can't believe it's true,
That I can go on living,
When I no longer have you.

And the memories of the happy years,
When we were together,
The joys, the tears, the love, the fears,
Will stay with me forever,

And when I'm sad and lonely,
And everything goes wrong,
I seem to hear you whisper,
"Cheer up and carry on."

Each time I see your picture,
You seem to smile and say,
"Don't cry, I'm only sleeping,
We'll meet again someday."

Love, your wife Jean

At Friday's Eagleville vs Jo Byrns game, the school honored the first Eagleville Football team, managers, coaches, administrators, cheerleaders, chain gang, announcer.

A TEAM TO BE PROUD OF Last Friday night's lose to Jo Byrns was a heartbreaker. The entire team played hard, maybe not their best but for the most part the Eagles didn't give up. Chris Hale once again showed his running abilities from start to finish. Alex Ware at nose guard kept the opposition's running game in tact.

Luke Duross has a strong leg and accuracy and he easily added a field goal. Then in the 3rd quarter Chris Hale broke a 45 yard scant down to the 6 yard line and scored 6 more.

The Eagles are a good group of individuals with a lot of sportsmanship on the field and on the sidelines, Coach Carson and his staff deserve a pat on the back. There's nothing like small town football on Friday nights.
